BUT THE SHOUTING.

TAFT FAR IN LEAD.

He Wins Practically All Contests.

National Committee Gives Him Hundred Seventeen Additional Votes.

Secretary's Total Is Now Estimated at Five Hundred and Four.

Only Ninety-four Votes Are Involved in the Remaining Contests.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, June 10.—The Republican National Committee by its work today decided contests in two States at large and fourteen districts, the net result being that thirty-three full and two one-half votes were added to the number already possessed by William H. Taft, and two one-half votes were given to Senator J. B. Foraker.

The committee has yet to consider contests at large in four States and a total of thirty-eight district contests, and two from the Territories, involving a total of ninety-four votes.

Previous to the meeting of the committee the number of Taft instructed delegates was 387. The work of the committee, as far as it has progressed, has given him 117 additional votes, or a total of 504 on the temporary roll call.

The chief interest of the day centered in the Ohio contests of which there were four in the Third, Sixth, Tenth and Fourteenth districts. Taft was given the delegates in the Third, Tenth and Thirteenth districts, and in the Sixth both delegations were seated with half a vote each.

The Foraker men made a strong fight in this district, because it was the old home of the Senator, and they were anxious to secure its vote for him. The Foraker delegates are Mark Shoup of Xenia and R. L. Gilchrist of Lebanon, while the Taft men are L. H. Brown of Hillsboro and Charles E. Hildebrand of Wilmington. The latter faction has been recognized for the last four years as regular.

The motion to divide the delegation between Taft and Foraker came from Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, and was carried without strenuous opposition.

The contests in the Third and Tenth districts were based upon factional rights, both sides to the dispute being instructed for Taft.

In the Thirteenth the action of the Taft delegates in holding a convention of their own was sustained, and they were seated on the temporary roll call.

The day's proceedings opened with the hearing of the contests from the Eleventh and Twelfth Missouri districts, after these coming the North Carolina contests, which were over the delegates-at-large and seven districts. These were not complicated and were heard separately. Ohio followed North Carolina and then came South Carolina, where only one contest over the at large delegation was heard. This went to Taft by default, and the hearing of the cases from the First and Fifth South Carolina districts was passed until tomorrow.

EXPEDITION.

It is the hope of the National Committee that it will be able to finish its work by Friday night. To this end the members are making every possible effort to induce the warring factions to consent to the consolidation of their cases. Much important work is slated for the committee on Saturday and Monday, and it is earnestly desired that the hearings may be over in ample time to allow sufficient attention to be paid to these matters.

With the end of the labor of the National Committee in fairly good shape, discussion turned today to the make-up of the Credentials Committee of the convention, to which many of the contests will probably be appealed. The talk centered largely around Henry M. Daugherty of Columbus, O., who arrived in the city today. Mr. Daugherty is slated for the Credentials Committee from his State, and it was general gossip today that he may be chosen chairman of the committee when it is made up next Tuesday.

Mr. Daugherty did not deny that such a sequence of events was possible and freely discussed the probable work of the committee.

"I don't believe the Credentials Committee will be ready to report to the convention before Thursday, June 18," said Mr. Daugherty. "If I am chosen as a member of the body, I shall oppose any proposition for an all-night session of the committee on Tuesday, as, from present indications, it would be impossible to dispose of all the cases that will be brought before the committee even if this expedient were to be adopted. I cannot see how the committee will be able to prepare its report for presentation to the Wednesday session of the convention and it probably will have to work all of that day and part of that night in order to be ready for Thursday.

"It is quite certain that the report will be handed to the convention Thursday morning. In that case the delegates will be able to proceed with the nominations, and should be able to complete the work before adjournment on that day, thus carrying out the original programme for the convention."

The Ohio delegation, it was stated, will reach the city on Sunday and will be called into caucus Monday

NATIONAL BULWARK.

BIG FIGHT IN SIGHT ON ANTI-INJUNCTION PLAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The big fight in the Republican National Convention next week, it was admitted by leaders of all factions today, is to center around the anti-injunction plank which the administration forces intend to nail into the platform.

Although the seriousness of the situation has been kept under cover by the leaders, it became known today that the conferences held by Senator Hopkins, who is to be chairman of the Resolutions Committee, with prominent party men within the past ten days have had more or less bearing on the threatened clash. Meanwhile, all factions, it is said on good authority, have agreed to support the general platform outline and particularly the administration plank on the tariff revision, but there is known to be brewing a big fight on the injunction proposition.

Almost the solid business interests of the country, it is now learned, have united in a movement to have the convention reaffirm confidence in the Federal judiciary, and many of these interests, which have recently been swung into line for Secretary Taft, may bolt the Republican ticket if a plank is inserted in the platform reflecting on the integrity of the courts.

The administration forces are said to be lined up almost solidly for the plank desired by the prominent labor leaders of the country, which is copied after the anti-injunction plank in the Democratic platform of 1896. The movement, which was started in New York recently, to block any attempt to change the present court practice with respect to injunction proceedings in labor cases, is said to have extended over the entire country.

The plank which the business interests will ask to have substituted for the Roosevelt idea is as follows:

"We affirm our confidence in the integrity and justice of the courts, State and national, and we insist that the preservation of their independence and full constitutional prerogatives is essential to the maintenance of the American system of government."

SECOND TRIAL.

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK AGAIN ACQUITTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The jury in the case of Raymond Hitchcock, the actor, charged with having attempted to attack Helen Von Hagen, 14 years old, in a house in West Forty-first street, in December, 1906, at 1:10 o'clock this morning returned a verdict of not guilty.

While the jury was out, Hitchcock was kept in the office of the deputy sheriff, adjoining the prison pen. The actor appeared rather cheerful. His wife, Flora Zabelle, the actress, with a party of friends, was with him. They had supper in the Sheriff's room, and the actor said he felt certain of an acquittal.

It was 7:30 p.m. when the jurors retired to consider their verdict. Justice Goff had just concluded his charge, which lasted more than an hour. Soon after entering the jury room the jurors took a recess for dinner and at 9:20 p.m., returned to the criminal courthouse and were locked up to decide whether Hitchcock is guilty or innocent.

Max Steuer, senior counsel for Hitchcock, had addressed the jury for an hour. He analyzed the testimony and insisted that the prosecution had entirely failed to make out a case and that there could be but one verdict, and that of acquittal.

Then followed Asst. Dist.-Atty. Garvan, who went over the entire case from the prosecution's point of view. He declared Hitchcock had been proved guilty beyond the possibility of a reasonable doubt, and that a verdict of guilty was the only one possible. He said Hitchcock had practically confessed his guilt when he came to the office of the District Attorney and was questioned by Mr. Garvan in the presence of a stenographer.

Flora Zabelle, the actor's wife, broke down and wept when she heard Garvan plead with the jury for a verdict of guilty. Hitchcock became alarmed and, while he was unable to leave his seat inside of the railing, he asked one of his friends to go and console the weeping wife.

Mr. Garvan sprung a surprise upon the defense when in rebuttal he put a little girl on the witness stand. She was Caroline Madelaine Tegetmayer, and did not appear to be more than 13 years old. She is now confined in an institution in Mamaroneck. She said she had been taken by Hitchcock to the West Forty-first street house in November, 1906.

Hitchcock went on the stand and testified that he had never seen the girl.

After Mrs. Margaret von Hagen Fowle, a sister of Helen von Hagen, had given her testimony, both sides rested and the summing up was commenced.

MAIL BAG MISSING.

Los Angeles Banks Heavy Losers?

Fifty Thousand Dollars May Be Loss in Theft at Kansas City.

Postal Officials Stirred by Strange Disappearance of Sack.

Packages Registered Here on Friday Supposed to Be Booty.

PRIVATE and press dispatches from Kansas City last evening told of a robbery of the mails there in which a registered pouch from Los Angeles, containing a large amount of money, was the booty. The pouch left Los Angeles on a Santa Fé train last Thursday morning. It is estimated that at least $50,000 in currency was sent by local bankers in the same mail in which went forward the sack that was stolen. Unless the thief can be located and the property recovered, the loss will fall on the Los Angeles consignors. There is a possibility, however, that the missing sack contained only a small amount and that the more valuable packages got through to their destination in safety. Several Los Angeles bankers will be on the anxious seat until they hear from their eastern connections.

The Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Los Angeles had a heavy shipment of currency in the pouch.

Cashier Charles Seyler said yesterday afternoon that the haul made by the thieves is probably $50,000.

The pouch was made up here on June 3, and was forwarded the next day. The package containing the currency and various other valuable parcels was placed in the leather bag in the presence of witnesses at the Los Angeles postoffice, and the rotary lock was fastened. It was then placed with other mail and started for New York.

The postal regulations require that such packages be watched carefully at all transfer points and delivered from one responsible guardian to the other.

The pouch has been traced to Kansas City. There the postoffice is occupying temporary quarters, and much of the mail is exposed. It is thought the theft occurred during the rush of handling the transcontinental mails.

The robbery was discovered a short time later, and the inspectors were put to work. In Kansas City Inspector W. J. Vickery is conducting a rigid investigation, while Postmaster M. H. Flint is handling the case in Los Angeles.

The heaviest individual loss will fall upon the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Los Angeles. The sack in which the bank representatives placed a shipment of $50,000 is supposed to be the one stolen.

MUCH WEALTH IN POUCH

Cashier Seyler made the following statement:

"According to our information, a mail pouch, made up here, on June 3, has disappeared. Placing a conservative estimate on the valuation of the currency contents, I should say that $50,000 might cover it. That would take in the various packages made up by this and other banks of Los Angeles. There were between thirty and fifty packages, but I cannot state the exact number.

"The packages were taken to the postoffice on the evening of June 3. They were to be shipped to New York, our parcels to be delivered to our correspondent, the Chemical National Bank. They were placed in the mail pouch said to be missing and sent away."

The representatives of the Postoffice Department have little to say about the robbery. A report from Washington, however, confirms the statement of the loss of the valuable sack.

The pouch in question, according to the Los Angeles authorities, left here by the Santa Fé on the morning of June 4.

CONFUSION AT STATION.

A recent fire in the Union Depot at Kansas City destroyed a portion of the postal station there, and a temporary one was put into service. Some confusion in handling the mails at that point has resulted and it is supposed the thieves took advantage of that slight confusion to secure the pouch and make away with it.

The authorities refuse to give any details of the robbery. The pouch could not be opened without mutilation because of the rotary lock with which it was fastened, and the thieves took both pouch and contents.

The investigation will be continued

PITTSBURGH GIRLS MODEST.

Will not Wear Tights nor Directoire Gowns at Charity Entertainment.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] PITTSBURGH (Pa.) June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Pittsburgh society girls who compose the half billion dollar chorus that will sing "The Pirates of Penzance," for charity here Saturday night, have put down their foot or rather feet. They are willing to do most anything for charity, but they just won't wear tights.

When this ultimatum was given to Frank D. Nelson, the professional coach who has charge of the production he came forward with the suggestion, "Why not wear sheath gowns?"

The girls finally decided that they would be just the thing. Unfortunately they hadn't been reading much about the directoire gown, and didn't know there were slits up the side of the skirts, through which can be seen glimpses of pretty ankles.

Nelson had several sample dresses sent from New York. They arrived yesterday and last night were handed out for inspection. When the girls discovered the slits in the sides of the skirts and the dainty satin trouserettes that accompany the suits, they came right out and declared that they would not wear the horrid things.

Nelson is in despair and telegraphed to New York for long skirts and the half-billion-dollar chorus will sport about in them.

DIPLOMACY.

GERMANY ON ANXIOUS SEAT.

EAGERLY WATCHING EDWARD'S VISIT TO RUSSIA.

Suspicion Is Growing That Great Britain Is on the Point of Scoring Another Diplomatic Victory by Adding Last Link to Chain of Anti-German Entente.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Every incident of King Edward's meeting with the Czar of Russia at Reval is closely followed by the German public.

The newspapers publish circumstantial reports which neglect no detail, no matter how trifling. These, with the columns of comment translated from the English and French papers, afford an abundance of evidence of the interest with which King Edward's latest adventure in diplomacy is being watched.

The official world, as usual in such instances, is silent, and much of the public comment is reserved and noncommital in tone. While the idea that the meeting foreshadows anything like an actual alliance between England and Russia is generally received with skepticism, there is a growing belief that Britain may be on the point of scoring another diplomatic victory by adding the last important link to the chain of anti-German ententes. This belief finds utterance in frequent expressions of dissatisfaction and distrust and of fresh criticism of Germany's foreign policy, which is characterized as inadequate.

The unfriendly tone lately adopted by the Russian press has done much to heighten this uneasiness, which is leading some of the more influential organs to exhort the government to increased vigilance in protecting the fatherland's interests, reminding it that "Germany has two frontiers to defend."

ROYAL TOASTS PUBLISHED.

BUT THEY ARE REVISED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

REVAL, June 10.—The text of the toasts exchanged last evening between King Edward and Emperor Nicholas has just been published after careful revision. The two sovereigns expressed the wish that the meeting would have the happy result of drawing the two countries closer together and promoting the maintenance of the general peace of the world.

King Edward intimated that his meeting in Russia would be followed shortly by a visit of the Russian Emperor and Empress to England.

Among other courtesies King Edward made Emperor Nicholas an admiral of the British fleet.

At the special behest of King Edward the serenade of last night is to be repeated tonight before his yacht. Emperor Nicholas today sent ashore 3000 boxes of candy and a large number of photographs of himself for the school children who welcomed him upon his arrival here. He also sent handsome presents to the leaders of the chorus that sang last night.

CLOG DANCING NEWEST FAD.

CHICAGO, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Clog dancing is to be the fad of society during next winter's social season, according to the dancing masters of the country.

The delegates to the national convention of terpischoreun artists admitted this fact today.

"I have several classes in clog dancing," volunteered Prof. Roderick Grant of New York, who is in charge of the dances given at the St. Regis Hotel. "They are all society people who propose introducing the clog dance in the ballroom next fall."

James L. Bott of Cincinnati said that Cincinnati society had also been taking clog lessons from him. The clog society intends to foster will be a modified form of the vaudeville theater clog.

DROWNS IN STREET.

Flood Fools Expert Weather Men.

Waters of Kaw Recede, but the Missouri Is Now on Rampage.

Heavy Rains in Dakotas and Nebraska Are Felt at Kansas City.

Reaches Highest Mark Since Great Disaster Five Years Ago.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) June 10.—All calculations of the Weather Bureau and river experts as to the duration and extent of the flood at the junction of the Kaw and Missouri rivers were upset today by the continued rise of the Missouri River, due to heavy rains in the Dakotas and Nebraska.

At 5 o'clock p.m. the Missouri River was 27.2 feet above low water, a rise of .2 feet since noon. The Kaw has overflowed most of the railroad yards, the stock yards and the residence and manufacturing district in Armourdale. Ten feet of water is running through Kansas avenue, the main street of Armourdale.

The flood is the highest since that of 1903. But the water is more than seven feet lower than in that year.

Five railroad lines out of Kansas City are now tied up, and three others will be out of service before midnight. The lines tied up are the Union Pacific, Santa Fé and Rock Island west, and the Burlington and Missouri Pacific north.

Convention Hall was opened today to shelter refugees. At least 15,000 persons have been driven from their homes. Dominico Trokatos, a Greek packing-house employé, was drowned in Third street, Kansas City, Kan., tonight by falling from a raft.

NEAR UNION STATION.

The flood reaches within one block of the Union Railway Station, covers one-quarter of the lower part of the stock yards, renders useless some of the railway tracks coming in from the West, and is creeping into the basements in the big wholesale houses in the west bottom.

The flood stage of 1904 was passed last night. There is no possibility, however, of the great flood stage of 1903, when millions of dollars' damage was done.

The overflow is bound to cause trouble east of here as far as St. Louis, it is predicted, as it reaches into the Mississippi, and north along the banks of the Missouri as far as Omaha.

To the west at Lawrence and Topeka, the Kaw is falling rapidly and from now on, conditions in this part of the flood district, it is believed, will gradually be bettered. While the Kaw has caused much damage to the low part of Kansas City, Kan., and has flooded the streets of Armourdale, it has not molested the west bottoms on the Missouri side nor touched Argentine, Kan., joining the railroad yards on the south.

Shortly before midnight, there were two breaks in the Kaw dykes erected in Armourdale, one at the Twelfth-street bridge, which crosses from Armourdale to Argentine, and another near the Schwarschild and Sulzberger packing-house. No great damage was possible at those points, however, for the packing-house employés had been busily engaged for hours previous removing everything portable to places of safety, and the residents of Argentine, most of them, had already moved out.

HURRIED MOVING.

A little later came the first break in the wholesale district, where are situated dozens of implement, grocery and general warehouses, when water began to come in near the Union Pacific bridge. Residents in the west bottoms, mostly occupying huts, had until that time believed themselves secure. Gangs of men were gathered and soon an army of workers was making hurried attempts to get the belongings out of danger's way.

In the wholesale district additional guards worked hard all night carrying goods to upper stories or carting them away from the district.

Daylight found hundreds still at work with the water rising slowly and making further inroads eastward toward the Union Railway Station, into which run twenty different railroads. At 9 o'clock this morning the water had reached to within half a block of the station.

The Missouri-Pacific, whose low bridge across the Kaw had caused the water in that stream to back up and spread out into the bottoms, had abandoned the bridge and began sending out its trains from the Kansas side, while the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul used its outlying station uptown at Twenty-second street and Grand avenue, not attempting to reach the Union station.

The Great Western Railway, whose tracks skirt the Missouri River just to the north of the station, also experienced trouble, and the prospects were that it would have to abandon its bridge during the day. Its tracks

AERIAL.

NOVELTY AIRSHIP.

Simon Lake Is the Inventor.

Submarine Boat Man Thinks He Has Solved Aerial Navigation.

Combination of Aeroplane, Dirigible Balloon and Helioceptre.

Machine so Constructed That It Will Float If It Falls Into Sea.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Plans of the new style airship invented by Simon Lake, the submarine boat builder, were made public this afternoon, together with the information that preparations for the building of the ship were already actively under way. The airship is to be constructed by one of the best-known students of aerial navigation in this country, on the lines suggested by Mr. Lake.

The new ship is to be a combination of aeroplane, dirigible balloon and helioceptre. The designs have been shown to several of the most skilled aeronautic engineers in this country, who have declared they are practical, and have predicted that the ship will fulfill every claim made by the inventor.

In his application for patents, Mr. Lake says that the objects of his invention are to provide an airship of great stability which will permit of safe and easy descents in case of failure on its propelling or steering mechanism, with which ascents may be made from an inclosure or restricted area and which is also well adapted to combat the influence of the winds or air currents when suddenly brought in contact therewith in rising above the wind barriers.

NEW DEVICES.

The invention, he says, will provide a cushioning and weight-measuring device, adapted for the combined purpose of relieving the ship of sudden jars or shocks should it come violently into contact with the earth when making a landing.

It will serve as an indicator by which the operators are enabled to ascertain and regulate the proper launching condition, and will adjust itself to face the wind when on the ground in making a landing, or when navigating in the air, unless the propulsive power is of sufficient strength to navigate against the wind or with the wind at a greater velocity than the speed of the airship, so that when making a landing the ship will retain its position. This last, Mr. Lake says, is a condition not commonly attainable with ordinary balloons or dirigible airships possessing sufficient buoyancy to lift the entire structure.

The invention comprises an upper buoyant section and a lower section carried by the buoyant section, the buoyant section comprising a float or floats carrying one or more aeroplanes of sufficiently large area to sustain the weight of the lower section when the upper section is inclined from a horizontal position and propelled at a sufficient velocity to cause the passing currents of air to impinge against the aeroplanes and keep the entire structure afloat, thereby permitting of navigation while in the air and preventing a too-rapid descent should the propelling mechanism or steering devices get out of order.

THEORY OF CONSTRUCTION.

It is not intended that the upper section will be of sufficient capacity to float the entire structure, but only to sustain itself and to float above the lower section, the elevation of which is caused by a propeller or fan operated by a motor carried by the lower section and which, when set in motion, will enable the entire structure to rise and be capable of navigation through the air.

The lower section will also carry the crew and the necessary mechanism for operating the rudders to direct the ship in its course. This section will be constructed in the shape of a boat which will float upon the surface of the water, thereby providing safety for the crew should the propelling mechanism get out of order and the ship be carried by the wind out of its course and descend upon a body of water.

It is the intention of Mr. Lake to enter his new ship in the international airship race in 1909.

KNABENSHUE MAKES SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOLEDO (O.) June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A successful trial trip of more than twenty minutes' duration was made today by Roy Knabenshue, the Toledo aëronaut, in his passenger airship. Earl Hess accompanied Knabenshue on the trip, and the big craft was in perfect control of the aëronauts.

The ship sailed around the big aërodrome lot seven times at a height of from 200 to 500 feet, and landed as gracefully as a bird.

The trial trip was made for the purpose of testing a new set of aëroplanes which Knabenshue has installed on the rudder. The apparatus worked perfectly. The pitching and diving motion, usually so noticeable on an air craft, was entirely eliminated.

No Hope That Senator Gore Will Be Able to Distinguish One Object from Another.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Thomas C. Gore of Oklahoma was told by his physician today that if he had begun treatment for his eyes twenty years ago sight would have been restored.

As it is, there is no hope, except that it is believed he will acquire in one eye the ability to distinguish white from black and to distinguish light when flashed before his eyes, but will not be able to distinguish one object from another.

afternoon. At that time Mr. Daugherty will be proposed as a member of the Credentials Committee and it is also on the slate that Wade Ellis, Attorney-General of the State, will be named as a member of the Resolutions Committee.

It had been expected that Mr. Ellis would reach Chicago today, bringing with him a rough draft of the tentative platform. He left Washington last night, but stopped at Columbus, where, according to reports circulated here, he met Senator Hopkins of Illinois, who yesterday discussed the platform question with Speaker Cannon. It was said here today that Mr. Ellis and Senator Hopkins have been in communication regarding the platform for several days.

VICE-PRESIDENCY.

There was a sudden cessation of activity today regarding the Vice-Presidential situation. This was largely due to the announcement made by Frank H. Hitchcock that the Taft forces would not take part in any campaign for the second place on the ticket.

The leaders of the allies adopted the attitude that it had not been customary for the party to consider the Vice-Presidency until after the first place on the ticket had been filled, and that there was no present reason to depart from this precedent. What discussion was heard centered largely about Senator Dolliver of Iowa and Secretary Cortelyou. Lafayette Young, one of the delegates-at-large from Iowa, said today that the friends of Senator Dolliver in his own State were not anxious to see him leave the ranks of the Senators for the purpose of presiding over the Senate.

Friends of Gov. Guild seemed satisfied with the results of their work thus far, and no announcement was forthcoming from the headquarters established yesterday for John Hays Hammond.

An indefinite rumor, which could not be verified, but which was nonetheless persistent, prevailed today to the effect that Gov. Hughes would not permit his name to go before the convention. This rumor, coupled with an Associated Press dispatch from New York, in which Timothy L. Woodruff, chairman of the New York State Central Committee, expressed himself as believing that his State is entitled to the second place on the ticket if Gov. Hughes is not given first place, led to much discussion as to whether or not the Governor of New York could not be induced to accept the Vice-Presidential nomination.

The entire story, however, was indefinite, and could not be substantiated in any way.

PRESIDENT IS NOT FIGHTING CORTELYOU.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This is the White House statement regarding George B. Cortelyou and his Vice-Presidential boom:

"The President is not advocating the nomination of Secretary Cortelyou for Vice-President. On the other hand, he is not angry with Mr. Cortelyou because his friends are booming his candidacy, and no reprimand of Mr. Cortelyou is contemplated. The President is keeping his hands off the Vice-Presidential situation."

The President does not believe that the Secretary of the Treasury authorized the statement that the administration is backing him. Secretary Taft, who has publicly maintained a similar "hands-off" policy on second place, this morning asked the President if he had given any assurance to Cortelyou. He was told that Cortelyou had not asked for any.

Cortelyou's expressed position is that, as long as New York has a candidate for the Presidency, no Republican from that State can become an avowed candidate for the Vice-Presidency. However, he is in a receptive mood.

Mr. Taft and the President believe that if it becomes advisable to take a man from the East, Cortelyou at this time is the strongest man. Senator Borah said today that no one but Dolliver has a ghost of a chance provided Dolliver's affairs at home will permit of his accepting.

"It is going to be Dolliver," he said, "if not it will be Senator Piles of Washington."

GIRL TO APPEAL TO NATIONAL CONVENTION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When the Taft special leaves St. Louis Sunday night for Chicago, bearing the Missouri delegation to the Republican National Convention, it will carry as guest of honor, Miss Zoe Akins, daughter of National Committeeman Thomas J. Akins, who will appeal to delegates to incorporate in the Republican party platform a plank favoring the opening of land in the Philippines to the American negroes.

Miss Akins has written a personal letter to Secretary of War Taft explaining her plan and asking his support in getting the indorsement of the convention. On her arrival in Chicago, Monday, Miss Akins will communicate with Atty.-Gen. Wade Ellis, of Ohio, who has been active in drawing up the proposed national platform in an endeavor to win him over to her project.

Miss Akins is making the trip to Chicago without the consent of her father, who knows but little of her plans and who has been in Chicago the last week in the interest of the contested Taft delegates.

Miss Akins was graduated from Hosmer Hall five years ago at the age of 17. She is a student of sociology and politics, has written several dramas on sociological problems, and now hopes to bring the national political organization to her way of thinking on the negro question.

SAYS HUGHES IS NO BAR.

TALKS OF SECOND PLACE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—Timothy L. Woodruff, chairman of the State Republican Committee said today that in view of the certainty that Taft would be nominated for President at Chicago Gov. Hughes's candidacy ought not to be permitted to stand in the way of New York State getting the vice-Presidency.

If Gov. Hughes's friends, he said, should insist on the Governor's name going before the convention, there would be no objection if it was understood it would be merely a compliment vote and New York State waive notice of its rights to the second place by presenting the Governor's name.

MITCHELL HAS BEE.

Former President Miners' Union Has Ambition to Be Governor of Illinois.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John Mitchell's ambition to run for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Illinois has received official indorsement from officers of the American Federation of Labor, according to a dispatch received today from Washington.

Mr. Mitchell, who was formerly president of the United Mine Workers of America, has announced that he will say in Springfield next Monday whether he is willing to be a candidate. His Washington advisors believe his decision will be favorable.

The Illinois Federation of Labor is expected to at once start a boom for him which few Democrats believe can be headed off.

CRAWFORD GETS PLUM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SIOUX FALLS (S. D.) June 10.—Returns from Tuesday's primaries are still far from complete, but enough has been received to indicate that the insurgent Republicans, headed by Gov. Crawford, have defeated the stalwart faction, headed by Senator Kittredge.

It is likely full returns will show that the insurgents carried the State by not less than 3000 to 4000. That Gov. Crawford has been named to succeed Senator Kittredge appears certain.

Robert S. Vessey, insurgent candidate for Governor, in many precincts ran ahead of Gov. Crawford, as the senatorship overshadowed all other issues of the campaign, and no aggressive fight was made upon the candidate for Governor. That Governor Crawford and Mr. Vessey have pulled the remainder of the State ticket to victory with them is practically certain.

GARFIELD TO TOUR ISLANDS.

Steamer Chartered in Honolulu for Use of Secretary of Interior. Entertainments Planned.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HONOLULU, June 10.—Secretary of the Interior James A. Garfield, who is now en route to Honolulu, on the battleship Maine, flagship of the special service squadron, which is due to arrive here June 17, will be taken on a tour of the Hawaiian Islands on a steamer specially chartered for that purpose.

This will enable the Secretary of the Interior during his short stay to thoroughly acquaint himself with the land, labor, corporation and immigration questions, and problems affecting the islands.

The commercial bodies of Honolulu have planned a series of elaborate entertainments for Secretary Garfield while he is here. Much interest is manifested in his coming visit.

WHAT'S HER TROUBLE?

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although she says her husband has eight "affinities," who are known to her, and she believes he has at least a dozen more, Mrs. Leonora Harris still loves him. After filing a chronological chart with her suit for divorce today, which showed that her husband had been home but fifteen times between February 23 and May 31, she admitted that she bore no ill feeling against him. His habits about coming home were all that made her ask for a divorce, she says.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Langdon Smith died this morning at her home, No. 146 Midwood street, Flatbush, of poison. It is believed she committed suicide in her grief over the death of her husband, Langdon Smith, well known and brilliant newspaper writer who died on April 8.

Mrs. Smith was Miss Marie Antoinett Wright of Louisville. She was 32 years old and a woman of rare beauty. She was crazed by her bereavement and on April 25 was taken to the Kings County Hospital, suffering from poison. It was thought then that she had tried to end her life, but relatives denied it.

On May 7 she was arraigned in the Final Power on Vaccination.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Power was conferred yesterday on President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California, at a meeting of the Board of Regents, whereby if he should choose, he could order the vaccination, quarantine or removal of any student for the cause of health, and there will be no appeal. This extraordinary step was the result of representations to the board regarding the health of the university. The amendment recites the "president shall have direct authority" over affairs at the school. Last fall, during a smallpox scare, several students refused to submit to vaccination.

WORK ON LIABILITY LAW.

Department of Commerce and Labor Plans to Investigate Damage Claims.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 10.—By the terms of an act passed by Congress at its recent session making the government liable to certain classes of employés injured in the course of their employment, the Department of Commerce and Labor is formulating regulations under which the act will become effective August 1, 1908.

Investigations of accidents by which government employés have become incapacitated and for which claims for damages are filed with the Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor will be made by the Commissioner of Labor.

No appropriation is carried by the act for making these investigations, but Secretary Strauss and Dr. Charles P. Neill, Commissioner of Labor, believe an arrangement can be made by which the work may be done expeditiously and satisfactorily without adding greatly to the expense of the government.

It is likely that the Marine hospital service may be called on to supply the necessary medical and surgical counsel.

NEW IMPETUS.

SON UNVEILS MONUMENT.

Name of Mackay Honored at Nevada University.

School of Mines Building Is Also Presented.

Affecting Scene as Degrees Are Conferred.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

RENO (Nev.) June 10.—Under a radiant sun and skies of softest blue, the University of Nevada was given a new impetus today. In the presence of thousands from all parts of Nevada, and many distinguished visitors from other States the ceremonies of the week were brought to a close by the presentation of the building, School of Mines, as the Mackay memorial and the unveiling of the statue of John W. Mackay by his son, Clarence.

In the spacious gymnasium which was not large enough to accommodate the large crowd, the morning exercises began. On the stage were President Stubbs, of the university; Col. George Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Mackay, the members of the board of regents, Bishop Roberts and others.

After a few introductory remarks by Dr. Stubbs, Col. George Harvey was introduced and for more than an hour he held the closest attention of his audience. His address was eulogistic of Mr. Mackay, the elder, and full of advice for the coming generation.

After the address many $250 scholarship prizes were awarded and the degrees of doctor of laws were then conferred upon George Brinton McClellan, Harvey and others.

When Mrs. Mackay stepped forward to receive her degree, an affecting scene took place and many wept throughout the audience. As Mrs. Mackay walked from the stage wearing her new honor of master of arts, she kissed her husband softly and then sat down and wept silently. She and her husband were much affected by the expressions of appreciation by the university.

Following the ceremonies in the gymnasium a procession was formed which halted in front of the Mackay mining building. Here Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mackay, Dr. Stubbs, Sam Davis, Senator Newlands, Judge Norcross, Col. Harvey, Prof. George Young of the University of California, and others, took seats on the platform decorated with the national colors.

Mr. Mackay, in a few well chosen words, presented the statue of his father and then pulled the rope which fastened the giant American flag and the magnificent statue burst to view, and a cheer went up.

Gov. Dickerson paid a tribute to the sterling qualities of Mackay, followed by Senator Newlands in a short address. Sam P. Davis, of Carson, spoke in a reminiscent way.

After Mr. Davis's speech, Clarence Mackay then stepped forward and presented the building of mines to the university. This closed the ceremonies at the university.

BREWERS FOR TEMPERANCE.

Adopt Platform Pledging Co-operation in Fight.

Would Eliminate Objectionable Features.

Promise Support in Rational Investigation.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) June 10.—The promotion of temperance in the case of fermented beverages, the meaning of temperance being neither the abuse or disuse, is favored by the United States Brewers' Association in a lengthy set of principles which the association adopted at its closing session today.

They also favor the elimination of the objectionable feature of the retail liquor traffic and pledge their fullest cooperation toward their suppression. The brewers also declare that it is a mistake to believe that the commercial interests of the brewer stand back of the excessive multiplication of saloons or any of the unlawful or improper practices of the saloon-keepers.

Whenever a spirit of genuine inquiry and rational betterment shall take the place of heedless persecution, aiming not at improvement but at the extermination of their business, the brewers will welcome and will gladly refrain from participating in politics.

The platform continues in part:

"We believe that a temperate use of beer promotes health and happiness which are the underlying conditions of morality and social order, and in this belief we are supported by the vast preponderance of educated as well as popular opinion all over the world.

"Consistent with this belief we favor the passage and the enforcement of laws for the regulation of the drink traffic and for keeping such traffic free from unlawful and improper accessories and we earnestly desire such improvement in the drinking habits of the people as wisest for the advance of temperance, together with the spread of enlightenment as to the proper functions of drink, whereby the individual may be able to regulate his habits according to the requirements of wholesome living.

"The brewer is charged with being in politics and using political power to influence legislation, paralyzing executive action and protecting the disorderly saloon. Such statements are grossly exaggerated and highly colored. Rather it is true that the existence of disorderly saloons is in many cases the work of certain classes of politicians who keep them alive for their own purposes against the wishes of the brewers. With suitable laws properly enforced and backed by healthy public sentiment, such disorderly saloons could be exterminated and not only the community purified of such objectionable places, but the brewing trade freed of an incubus which it is now struggling to shake off."

The platform says if the brewers have been driven into politics it is due to the intemperate attacks upon them along political lines, and in closing it proceeds:

"We turn with confidence to the fair-minded American public and ask it, in view of many politics! instances of our sincerity given in the face of great difficulty, to consider the statements above made."

A letter from J. Topham Richardson of the English brewers was read in which he stated that many churchmen and other prominent people in England are opposed to the efforts to prohibit the liquor traffic.

CUPID'S TRIUMPH.

HEIRESS WEDS A POOR CLERK.

MARRIED AT MIDNIGHT OF DAY SHE RECEIVED FORTUNE.

Mary Montana Largey of Butte Says She Chose Raymond J. McDonald "Because I Love Him and Have Enough Money for Both"—Groom Quits $60 a Month Job.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BUTTE (Mont.) June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mary Montana Largey, 18 years old, youngest of the Largey minors, came into her fortune of $1,500,000 yesterday, and at midnight she was married to Raymond J. McDonald, a young clerk in a Broadway cab office, who had been working for $60 a month.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Lulu Largey Catron, who maintains a residence in New York, where she spends most of her time, approved the match.

Some friend asked the girl why she wanted to marry the poor cab clerk.

"Because I love him and have enough money for both,' she replied.

The couple left for San Francisco this morning and there will start on an automobile wedding trip to New York. Miss Largey's big touring car and driver having been shipped on ahead several weeks ago. From New York they will go to Europe.

It is announced that M. Sellers Largey, the male head of the family, president of the State Savings Bank and the angel of several up-to-date musical shows, will shortly be married to a former show girl, who has been a guest at the Largey home in Butte for several months.

Mrs. Largey, the mother, married some time ago a young man little older than her oldest son, Creighton Largey, who has just turned 21, and whose fortune placed the State bank on its feet again, is still single. He occupies a clerkship in his own bank.

SHAH BREAKS PROMISES.

Fails to Dismiss Reactionaries at Court and Parliament—Seeks Peaceful Solution of Difficulty.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TEHERAN, June 10.—Up to the present time the Shah of Persia has failed to carry out his promise to dismiss the reactionaries at court and the Parliament, departing from its policy of inactivity, is in frequent consultation in an effort to find the best means of reaching a peaceful adjustment of the difficulty.

Emir Djang, head of the reactionary party, who had sought the protection of the Russian Legation, has left the legation and resumed his functions at court. Teheran is perfectly quiet.

The International Mission Congress in Paris passed a vote yesterday in favor of a minimum wage to miners on the basis of collective contracts.

IMPORTANT QUESTIONS.

TAFT HIMSELF AUTHOR OF THE TARIFF PLANK.

BY RAYMOND.

CHICAGO, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is not generally known that Secretary Taft personally wrote the tariff plank of the Ohio Republican platform. It was written out in his own handwriting, and undoubtedly expresses his personal views on the tariff question, except that a paragraph or two at the end were eliminated when the final draft was submitted to the Ohio convention.

For this reason particular significance will be attached to this especial declaration on the tariff question. An attempt undoubtedly will be made by the Taft men to put through the Ohio plank, with probably one or two additions, making it stronger rather than weaker.

The text of this tariff declaration, as written by the prospective candidate himself, is as follows:

"A revision of the tariff by a special session of the next Congress, insuring the maintenance of the true principle of protection by imposing such customs duties as will equal the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, together with a reasonable profit, to the end that, without excessive duties, American manufacturers, farmers, producers and wage-earners may have adequate protection."

Around this particular plank the tariff fight in the coming convention, if there is a fight, will be waged. The Taft people, as is now generally understood, will surely control a majority of the Committee on Resolutions. They will have not less than thirty votes, and their strength may go far beyond that. They will stand out against any attempt to weaken the declaration for tariff revision or to insert into the plank anything which looks like a dodge or a subterfuge.

STRADDLE IN DISFAVOR.

For instance, the Taft forces will not look with favor upon an attempt to interject into the plank the straddling words "at least," so as to make it read that the duties to be imposed should "at least equal the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad," leaving the inference as the Republican platform adopted here in Chicago four years ago gave the impression that the party would be at liberty to put on any rate of duty, no matter how high, provided the minimum of the difference in cost of production at home and abroad were maintained.

As I have just said, the Taft forces will consent to additions intended to strengthen the original declaration. For instance, the platform to be brought here tomorrow by Wade Ellis probably will contain a declaration for the maximum and minimum system. This will be coupled with the pledge for tariff revision and the platforms will outline the belief of the party that a maximum and minimum tariff is the ideal and scientific system of reciprocity by means of which discrimination by any foreign nation can be instantly prevented through the threat of the imposition of our own high rate of duty.

"This maximum and minimum tariff is entirely acceptable to the "stand patters." It was declared for in the Illinois platform which was written by Representative Boutell and which was given the official "O. K." of Speaker Cannon and Chairman Payne of the Ways and Means Committee, before it was submitted to the convention. There is no fight on this section of the tariff plank and it may be considered as adopted.

FIRM PROTECTIONISTS.

The only struggle to be anticipated is over the wording of the Ohio plank. Some of the stand patters want to modify it so as to leave Congress entirely at liberty to fix rates beyond the difference in the cost of production, if it seems necessary to encourage some particular infant industry.

Secretary Taft is a protectionist from the ground up but he does not believe in the imposition of a single duty which would tend to create a monopoly, as in the case of the steel trust, or which would give a manufacturer anything more than a fair profit on his product, with high wages to American workingmen. The Secretary's close friends in the convention are well aware of his views and they will fight every attempt to interject a straddle into the tariff plank.

One of the things which is expected to develop a lively fight, possibly much more bitter than that over the tariff plank, will be in the proposed declaration of the intention of the Republican party to prevent the issuance of securities by interstate railroads except under Federal supervision. The tentative platform as now drafted does not attempt in any way to describe the exact means by which this result is to be achieved, but it does pledge the party to make an attempt to confer upon the Interstate Commerce Commission the right to supervise all future issues of securities, either stocks, bonds or certificates of indebtedness.

RAILROADS WILL FIGHT.

As a matter of course the railroads will fight this proposition from the outset. Good constitutional lawyers, like Senator Spooner, with whom I talked today, say that the United States has no more authority to limit the issue of stock by railroads than it has to interfere with the making of a note by any merchant. Senator Spooner asserts that the right of the Federal government to supervise interstate commerce begins and ends with the regulation of the actual transportation of goods over the public highways. It cannot, according to the view of the railroad people, interfere in any way with a corporation created by the State which the United States cannot create for itself and which, of course, it cannot put out of existence.

On the other hand followers of President Roosevelt insist that some such plank as this must be adopted. The theory of the administration on this subject is that it is not only the right, but the duty of the Federal government to protect the public against fraudulent stock issues by men who happen to be in control of an interstate railroad, and operate it, not for the benefit of the public, as was intended, but for their own private gain.

PHYSICAL VALUATION.

When the plan comes to be worked out it will probably be necessary to make a physical valuation of the railroads and to tabulate their earnings and expenses, so that the Interstate Commerce Commission would be in position to say whether any proposed issue of stock or bonds was justifiable or not.

This physical valuation will probably not be mentioned in the platform but it is considered merely the means to an end. The plank on this subject will only be a pledge on the part of the Republican party that it will do what it can to protect the public against fraudulent overcapitalization. It will be made entirely clear that this will not interfere in the slightest degree with any stock or bond now on the market, no matter how it may have been issued or whether it has any tangible value back of it or not.

The new policy looks to the future entirely. Those who are urging it believe it will be immensely popular and that the party will be able to go before the public with a definite railroad policy for the future which will be even more in the public interest than the actual regulation of rates.

It is only natural to expect that the railroad people will fight this attempted platform declaration by every means in their power. They hold fast to the constitutional position outlined by Senator Spooner and they insist that the regulation of issues of securities is a matter for the State alone, just as they also insisted that only the States can license a corporation to do anything at all.

NO GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.

There will be a great many delegates in the convention who wish to conciliate the railroad interests. The argument will be made against this proposed plank that the railroads have been harassed enough under the Roosevelt administration and that the Republicans should not take a single step further in the direction of what they fear may grow into government ownership of the whole system of interstate transportation.

Both President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft are firmly opposed to the whole scheme of government ownership. They expect to see a plank looking in that direction, at least, adopted by the Democratic convention at Denver. The President takes the ground, as he has done all along, that the whole theory of the regulation of rates and of the supervision of the railroads by the general government is for the express purpose of preventing government ownership. He and the Secretary of War are firmly of the belief that unless the railroads are properly supervised so that they shall be run as a legitimate business and not as mere avenues for stock jobbing operations, there will surely be a growth of sentiment for government ownership as the only way of protecting the public against the personal rapacity of unscrupulous railroad financiers.

It is with special reference to these two planks, the declaration for tariff revision at a special session and the pledge to supervise the issue of railroad securities, that the Taft people have been so busy in securing control as they now believe they have done, of the Committee on Resolutions.

FOR RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE.

The contests which have been settled by the National Committee this last week have been of much wider importance than the mere seating of the allied or Taft delegates. The nomination of the Secretary on the first ballot has been considered to be certain by his intimate friends for a long time. The seating of Taft delegates from the contested States will be found to mean before long the appointment of a reliable Taft man on the Committee on Resolutions in almost every case.

This is shown by the Louisiana result. The votes were split up between two delegations, but an agreement was reached that the joint delegation from that State would permit the Taft men to name the member of the Resolutions Committee, and this they have already done.

With this exception of the favorite son States and a majority of the New England commonwealths, the Taft men will have their own representative on the Resolutions Committee, in a great proportion of cases. They assert now that they have a majority of the committee beyond all contest, and they believe that when the preliminary roll is concluded they will have at least two-thirds of the committee.

It must be remembered that the Committee on Resolutions is appointed by the temporary organization of the convention. The Committee on Credentials may reverse some of the findings of the National Committee. It would be strange if it did not. The Credentials Committee, however, will not be completed until the Resolutions Committee has practically concluded its work.

Senator Hopkins of Illinois is for Cannon, and is loyal to the Illinois candidate. At the same time, he has always been in close touch with the White House, and has generally supported the President in all of his more important policies. If that were not so he would not be chairman of the committee, because that officer is elected by the committee itself, which will be in control of the Taft men. The administration has entire confidence in Senator Hopkins, however, and it has received every assurance that he will act with perfect fairness.

Miss Edna Goodrich, Announcing Forthcoming Marriage, Says She Will Quit the Stage.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Edna Goodrich, the actress, arrived today at the Auditorium Annex Hotel, coming from California with her mother.

She said she would be married to J. H. McMillan, a millionaire of Berkeley, Cal., some time next winter, and would give up the stage and live in California. She said she did not know where Nat C. Goodwin is, and added: "Furthermore, I don't care."

"Yes, I am going to be married to Mr. MacMillan some time this winter," she continued, as she filed a wire to the bridegroom-elect, announcing her safe arrival in Chicago. "I have been out there with him and my mother for several weeks, and we are now on our way to Europe, where I have business matters to straighten up. We stopped off here to get some little things we need, and will continue our journey Thursday, maybe."

TAFT AVOIDS COMBINATION.

Secretary's Manager Says no Favorite Is Being Played for Vice-Presidency.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, June 10.—Manager Frank H. Hitchcock of the Taft forces today made an important declaration in relation to the Vice-Presidential situation. Mr. Hitchcock said:

"On the question of the nomination of a Vice-President, Secretary Taft and his managers have made no combinations or deals, they will not hereafter make any combinations or deals, and will not push the candidacy of any particular man.

"We are simply working to secure the nomination of Secretary Taft on the first ballot and when we have accomplished that we will be highly satisfied. The question of the selection of a Vice-Presidential candidate is a question for the convention to decide and there is no thought of attempting to influence the selection.

"Secretary Taft has no intention of binding the delegates who cast their votes for him for President to vote for any particular person for Vice-President. The Taft people are not backing any candidate for Vice-President and they will not do so hereafter.

"If we succeed in nominating Secretary Taft, as I believe we will, that's all that can be expected in the way of nominations and we will not attempt to influence the vote for candidate for Vice-President."

DEATH CLAIMS O. H. P. BELMONT.

WIFE ALONE AT BEDSIDE OF THE FINANCIER AT END.

Fatal Illness of Ten Days Comes to Climax Unexpectedly and Other Members of Family Reach Room Too Late—Was Graduate of Annapolis and Congressman.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—Oliver H. P. Belmont, aged 50 years, died at his home in Hempstead, L. I., today, after a ten days' illness with appendicitis. His death had been anticipated for days, but in the end it came suddenly and so unexpectedly that with the exception of Mrs. Belmont, none of the members of the family had time to reach the sick room after the hurried summons was sent to them.

Ever since the condition of Mr. Belmont became critical, more than a week ago, Mrs. Belmont's children, William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and Harold Vanderbilt, and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., have been almost constantly within call of the sick room. Worn by the long vigil, they retired early this morning when there appeared to be no appreciable change in the sick man's condition, and were sleeping soundly when the summons came.

Mr. Belmont had passed a bad night, but toward morning appeared to be resting easily, when, soon after 6:30 o'clock, he was seized with terrible pain. Dr. Lanhart hurriedly called Mrs. Belmont, and she had just time to reach the room before her husband's death.

Mr. Belmont had not been actively engaged in business for some years. He had always been very popular among a wide circle of friends and held a prominent position in club and social life here and in London and Paris.

He was graduated from Annapolis Naval Academy in 1876; served out his two years cruise following graduation. In 1878 he resigned from the service to engage in business with his father and brothers.

He was a Democrat, and in 1900 was chosen as a delegate from New York to the Democratic National Convention. The same year he was elected to Congress from the Thirteenth New York District.

Mr. Belmont's first marriage was with Miss Sarah Swan Whitney, now Mrs. George Rives. His only child, Mrs. William Burden, died several months ago.

Mr. Belmont's second marriage was with Mrs. Alva E. Smith Vanderbilt, who, prior to her divorce, was the wife of W. K. Vanderbilt.

Mrs. Belmont's daughter, Consuelo, Duchess of Marlborough, was kept constantly advised of Mr. Belmont's condition.

The Belmont country place, Brookhalt Villa, near Hempstead, and in close proximity to the Meadowbrook Hunt Club's magnificent grounds, was noted for the hospitality of its host. Excavations had been begun several weeks ago by Mr. Belmont for a new town house of palatial design and proportions at Fifty-first street and Madison avenue. His villa at Newport, "Belle Court," is one of the show places of that exclusive watering place.

TEXAS WOMAN SAYS SHE'S BELMONT'S CHILD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GALVESTON (Tex.) June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Louise Whitney Belmont Clarke, claiming to be the only daughter of O. H. P. Belmont, the New York millionaire, who died this morning, by his first wife, Sarah Whiting, has been a resident of Galveston for several years.

This morning a reporter notified her of the death of Mr. Belmont, and she wept bitterly, and told her story.

She claims to have been placed in St. Mary's Convent on account of a love affair, although admitting that her stepmother, Alva Vanderbilt, did not like her. After two years in the convent she escaped, and at the age of 16 made her way to Chicago, and worked in a store. She visited Memphis and other cities, and thence to Baltimore, where she married Charles A. Hughes, a clerk. He died two years later.

She visited New York after an absence of three years, and, learning that her father had been trying to find her, left and went to Chicago. She married John T. Clarke, and a child was born to them, which was lost in the Galveston storm of September, 1900.

The young woman is cultured and refined, despite her hard life and many reverses. She says she is like her father, very strong headed, and she describes every member of the family and the home, and exhibits the family tree, showing the record of all the Belmont family.

SECRETARY STRAUSS APPOINTS NEILL AND SMITH.

Inquiry Will Include Receipts and Expenses of Companies, Wages, Condition of Employees, Hours of Labor and Operation of Business in United States Generally.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Under the provisions of a resolution adopted recently by the Senate, Secretary Strauss arranged for a thorough investigation of the operations of the telegraphs of the country. The inquiry will extend into the receipts and expenses of the companies, the wages they pay, the conditions of their employes, the hours of labor and other matters pertaining to the operation of the companies.

Secretary Strauss has placed the investigation in the hands of Charles P. Neill, Commissioner of Labor, and Herbert Knox Smith, Commissioner of Corporations. They will cooperate in the making of inquiry, Commissioner Neill looking after the labor end and Commissioner Smith conducting the investigation into the financial affairs of the companies. The report will be ready for submission to the Senate when it reconvenes next December.

Adjutant-General Calls Attention to Rapidly-Decreasing Roster of Confederate Survivors.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) June 10.—The second day's session of the eighteenth annual reunion of the Confederate Veterans began today. Five thousand veterans and visitors have arrived since Tuesday.

The floral parade this afternoon was the most gorgeous ever given in the city. A line of two to three miles of automobiles, carriages, carts and other vehicles gaily bedecked was in the pageant.

Maj.-Gen. William E. Mickle, adjutant general and chief of staff of the Confederates, in his report today, refers to the many veterans who have answered their last roll call and says:

"There can by no possibility be any recruits and in the near future there will not be a single camp in existence nor a single survivor of the Confederate armies. The old men are rapidly dying out or moving to other sections of the country, often where there are no Confederates, and the once prosperous camp dies because there are no members to keep it alive."

WILL WED IN ENGLAND.

Prince De Sagan and Miss. Gould Will not Risk Unpleasantness by French Ceremony.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, June 10.—In order to avoid the possibility of any unpleasant incident, it has been definitely decided that the wedding of Anna Gould and Prince Helie de Sagan will not take place in France.

Although the time and place of the ceremony are still rigidly guarded, it can be stated that the couple will be married before the end of this month and probably in England.

TO SEEK DIVORCE IN WEST.

Mrs. Frank Gould Notified by Brother-in-Law George That He Can Patch up no More Quarrels.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Unwilling to begin action against her husband in this State, Mrs. Frank Gould, according to friends, will establish a residence in a western State, to begin suit for divorce.

Mr. Gould is staying at the Hotel Plaza, while Mrs. Gould is at the Hotel St. Regis. George J. Gould had a telephone consultation with his sister-in-law, just before he sailed for Europe, and it is understood that he notified her that he could no longer undertake to patch up the quarrels between his brother and Mrs. Frank Gould.

Absolute divorce can be obtained in this State only by proof of infidelity. Some of the western States grant divorces on grounds that are much less serious, hence Mrs. Gould will go West and establish a residence.

RAILROADS MAKE SHIFT.

All Santa Fé, Union Pacific and Rock Island trains for the West were forced to use the tracks of the St. Louis & San Francisco, the only outlet. The other roads reach the station from the east either by trestle or the higher ground, and they were practically out of danger. To stop these the water must rise several feet and this appears unlikely. All train service, however, was demoralized and but few trains in any direction were running on time.

At the stock yards business was nearly at a standstill. One quarter of the pens on the Missouri side were under water that stood from one to six feet deep. This flooded district covered fifty acres of the 200 acres set aside for pens.

On the Kansas side a third of the quarantine division was under water. The Stock Exchange building also suffered much inconvenience, water seeping into the basement and forcing the railway stock agents to move their furniture to upper floors.

Eugene Rust, general manager of the stock yards company, insisted that they were continuing to do business and would be able to take care of the situation notwithstanding arrivals were light and the packing-houses were buying but little butcher stuff.

BRIDGES DAM WATER.

The principal trouble in the present flood has been laid at the door of the Missouri Pacific and Union Pacific whose bridges, spanning the Kaw, acted as dams, causing the water to spread over territory otherwise safe. The Missouri Pacific bridge caused much trouble in the previous floods, and the Union Pacific structure, which had been swept away in 1903, was replaced at the same height as before.

All of Harlem, which is a hamlet in the bottoms of the Missouri across from Kansas City, Mo., is from one to six feet under water. The last family was driven away from there this morning, and row boats were the only means of getting from place to place.

In Armourdale and Argentine, also, boats are being used freely.

None of the exciting scenes of the other local floods are apparent this time, for the reason that the people generally were prepared. Then, also, the current is not strong, and but little drift is brought from the west as on other occasions. There is no real distress, and indications are that by the last of this week even the lowest points will have been drained and the last of the refugees will have re-entered their homes.

The stage of the rivers at 7 o'clock this morning follows:

Missouri River, 27.7 feet, a rise of 2 feet 5 inches in the past twelve hours.

Kaw River, 27 feet, against 25.3 twelve hours ago.

RECEDING AT TOPEKA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) June 10.—The government weather gauge in the Kaw River at this point registered 25 feet today, a fall of two feet since the waters began to recede. This will take the water back from the North Topeka houses and streets into the regular channel by tonight. Citizens with mops and brooms are returning to their homes, and merchants to their stores, and almost normal business conditions will be resumed Thursday.

DAMAGE TO FARMS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LEAVENWORTH (Kan.) June 10.—The Missouri River here is rising rapidly today. Already it has spread over the bottoms, and in Platte county, across from Leavenworth, heavy damage has been done to farms. Much inconvenience was caused in Leavenworth today by the breaking of the leading gas main, as a result of the flood.

Nearly all residents in two-thirds of the city are without gas for lighting and cooking purposes. In the business district the newspapers experienced difficulty in operating their linotypes and other business suffered.

RAILROADS MAKE SHIFT.

All Santa Fé, Union Pacific and Rock Island trains for the West were forced to use the tracks of the St. Louis & San Francisco, the only outlet. The other roads reach the station from the east either by trestle or the higher ground, and they were practically out of danger. To stop these the water must rise several feet and this appears unlikely. All train service, however, was demoralized and but few trains in any direction were running on time.

At the stock yards business was nearly at a standstill. One quarter of the pens on the Missouri side were under water that stood from one to six feet deep. This flooded district covered fifty acres of the 200 acres set aside for pens.

After he had made a sweeping denial of the charges pending against him, the court decided to hear the rest of the proceedings in Camera. Numerous witnesses will be heard and the trial is expected to last four days.

NIGHT RIDERS SURPRISED.

PITCHED BATTLE WITH TROOPS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CINCINNATI, June 10.—A detachment of soldiers surprised a band of fifteen night riders who were in the act of destroying tobacco beds on the farm of Ephriam Martin, near Hiett early this morning.

A pitched battle ensued, the riders finally fleeing upon their horses. A survey of the field did not show any blood spots indicating any person was injured.

It is expected a number of arrests will be made as a result of evidence secured by the soldiers.

ARCHBISHOP ASSASSINATED.

MONK IS SEVERELY WOUNDED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TIFLIS, June 10.—Archbishop Nikan, formerly of Georgia, was assassinated by revolutionists this morning on the steps of the Synodical building.

A monk, who was in attendance upon the archbishop, was severely wounded.

The assassins emptied their revolvers into the body of the archbishop and escaped.

WOMAN AND GAMBLER DEAD.

HER DAUGHTER FINDS BODIES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SIOUX CITY (Iowa) June 10.—Returning to her home late last night, Miss Margaret Sargent was compelled to force an entrance to the house, and upon searching for a reason of the locking of the doors, discovered her mother dead on the floor, and beside her a man who turned out to be Joe Ford, a well-known gambler in the "open" days.

The man and woman both had bullet holes in their heads, and a revolver was in the man's hand. The man had left a note saying:

"I was drove to this. May God forgive me."

Jealousy is thought to have been the motive for the double crime.

LAND FRAUD CASE NEAR END.

ARGUMENT WILL BEGIN TODAY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Testimony in the Hyde-Benson-Dimond-Schneider land frauds trial was concluded today, and the closing steps in the trial are to begin tomorrow. The arguments on the case for the prosecution will be in order tomorrow. The case may go to the jury about the middle of next week.

The session of court today was devoted to the presentation of odds and ends of evidence.

WORTHLESS CHECK CHARGE.

After a chase of three blocks, a detective last night arrested Frank Alvarez, alias Lavigne, who is wanted on a charge of passing fictitious checks. Alvarez roomed for a time with Mrs. M. Moore of No. 420 North Hill street. He left without paying his bill and the woman threatened to make trouble for him. To avoid arrest, he gave her a worthless check, it is alleged.

WOMAN IN TOILS.

Charged with embezzlement, Mrs. J. R. Ellis of No. 1123 Central avenue, was arrested last night, on a complaint sworn to by R. Clifford, a furniture dealer of No. 1113 Central avenue. Mrs. Ellis is alleged to have bought a considerable amount of furniture from Clifford on the installment plan and to have sold it before she owned it.

CRIME BRIEFS.

Boy Wrecks Train to Get Coal.

ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) June 10.—Willis Barkest, aged 11 years, arrested last night, has confessed to the police that he turned the switch which wrecked a Burlington freight train. He said he wanted to get some coal, and planned the wreck in order to upset some of the cars so he could get the fuel easier. He is being held in the county home to await trial.

Steal Children and Silver.

HORNELL (N. Y.) June 10.—The home of Antonio Gemiarreto, a well-to-do Italian, was entered last night, and his two children, a boy aged 9 years and a baby girl of 16 months, together with $50 in cash, silverware, and other valuables, are missing. It is feared the children will be held for ransom. The Italian colony is excited.

POUCH GONE.

INSPECTORS TRACING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

KANSAS CITY, June 10.—A registered mail pouch en route from Los Angeles to New York is reported to have been stolen at Kansas City some time Saturday night, last.

While no definite statement can be secured from the local postal inspectors, it is admitted guardedly that a very valuable pouch is missing. From one quarter it is stated that the pouch contained several thousand dollars, another source placing it as high as $50,000. These statements are without verification, however, and local postal officials say that at this time any official information must come from the Postoffice Department at Washington.

W. J. Vickery, one of the postoffice inspectors, admitted to the Associated Press this afternoon that he is at work on the case, but he declined to give any details. He stated that while it was believed a pouch had disappeared while in this district, he could not make the positive statement as the pouch started from a point other than Kansas City and was destined beyond here, hence the details must come from another source.

All through mail here is transferred at the Union Depot substation in Kansas City. Several months ago fire practically destroyed the substation and since that time it has been done in temporary quarters. It is said the system of caring for the mail has been rather lax. This has been attributed as a possible reason for the disappearance of the pouch in question.

REPORT IN WASHINGTON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The Postoffice Department was advised today that a registered mail pouch, which was in transit from Los Angeles to New York, is missing. The postoffice inspectors are investigating the disappearance.

The registered mail pouch from Los Angeles was delivered from an incoming Rock Island train to the transfer station at the Union Station, Kansas City, but there is no receipt to show that it was forwarded from here.

By Sunday morning it was known that it was not going forward, for the authorities at Washington telegraphed W. J. Vickery, inspector in charge here, of the circumstances. No trace of the pouch has been found by Mr. Vickery.

Ten men are employed in the transfer station. The facilities for handling the mail have been inadequate since the fire that partially destroyed the railroad station some months ago, and it is not possible to guard the mail as it should be guarded.

On the pouch leaving the Los Angeles office, it was receipted for by the transfer man and he, in turn, got a receipt for it from the railway mail clerk who took it on his car. Three shifts of railway mail clerks, all working in the same car, receipted for this pouch through to Kansas City, the last man to handle it eastward getting a receipt for it at the Kansas City Union Station. His receipt shows that he brought the pouch here and that the number on the rotary lock was the same as that which it was closed in Los Angeles.

There were eight registered pouches from Los Angeles on the train, three of them for New York. There was nothing to indicate which of the three contained the $50,000 which is now reported to have been sent in one of them.

GOVERNMENT SUES ROAD.

Pennsylvania System's Answer Is That Commodity Clause of Hepburn Act Is Void.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—The answer of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to the bills in equity filed by the government against the coal carrying railroads, to enforce the commodity clause of the Hepburn act, was filed here today.

Under this clause railroads are enjoined from transporting coal mined by them or in the production of which they have an interest.

The answer of the Pennsylvania says that the law is void.

The answer also contains the following paragraph:

"In the year 1907, more than 68,000,000 gross tons of anthracite coal were mined in Pennsylvania, and approximately 45,000,000 tons were transported and consumed at points outside of Pennsylvania.

"Anthracite coal has thus become a very considerable increment in interstate commerce highly essential to the public welfare and any interference or interruption of the movement of such coal to points outside the State would be a serious inconvenience and detriment to a large portion of the inhabitants of the States to which anthracite coal is now transported."

Rebate Charges Investigated.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—The charges of rebating in the matting cases, made against the Southern Pacific by the Interstate Commerce Commission, were investigated by the Federal grand jury yesterday. SPEAKS FOR ITSELF
Experience of a Southern Man.

"Please allow me to thank the originator of Postum, which in my case, speaks for itself," writes a Florida man.

"I formerly drank so much coffee during the day that my nervous system was almost a wreck. My physician told me to quit drinking it, but I had to have something to drink, so I tried Postum.

"To my great surprise I saw quite a change in my nerves in about ten days. That was a year ago and now my nerves are steady and I don't have those bilious sick headaches which I regularly had while drinking coffee.

"Postum seems to have body-building properties and leaves the head clear. And I do not have the bad taste in my mouth when I get up mornings. When Postum is boiled good and strong, it is far better to taste than coffee. My advice to coffee drinkers is to try Postum and be convinced." "There's a Reason."

SEALS LOSE SIXTH GAME.

Headwork and Squeeze Play Win for Angels.

Cold Weather Prevents Good Ball Playing.

Bernard Plays Second Base With Good Results.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Headwork, combined with an effective use of the squeeze play and the passes that were handed out by Ralph Willis, enabled the Angels to win an eleven-inning game this afternoon by a score of 4 to 3.

The Seals raised the hopes of their supporters for the time being when they had their batting rally in the sixth inning, but following this flash of speed, Willis fell down in his control, allowing the southerners to tie the score and finally to win the game, although it was Jones who was charged with the defeat as he went in with the score even all.

Both teams had a changed line-up. Bernard, who has finished his year's work in the Los Angeles College of Osteopathy, showed up and was placed at second base instead of George Wheeler, leading off in the batting list. On the instructions of Danny Long, Piper was given a rest and Curtis played in center field; not a bad change, for he made a couple of good catches, cracked out the first hit, and stole a base.

The attendance was small in consequence of the cold weather and the slump of the Seals, who were destined to lose their sixth straight game.

Both Willis and Randolph pitched unless ball until the fifth when the Angels took a lead. With one out, Willis walked and stole second, going to third on a hit by Delmas. Happy Hogan worked the squeeze play and Ellis home and a two-base hit by Randolph scored Delmas.

The one flash of speed that the Seals have been capable of for a week came in the sixth inning. After Willis had retired Hildebrand shot the ball over short. Mohler hit to right for two bases and Nick Williams scored both runners with a triple that was misjudged by Oakes in center field. Meloir's out tallied Williams and that was an end to the scoring, although Zeider made a two-base hit before the inning closed.

The run that tied up the game came in the eighth inning when Bernard was allowed the fateful base on balls and was sacrificed along by Oakes. A wild pitch took him to third and Dillon worked the squeeze play, this time, sending Bernard across the plate. Three double plays during the balance of the game kept up the excitement, but the Angels put an end to the affair in the eleventh inning when Brashear doubled to right, was sacrificed to third by Smith, and was scored by Ellis's single to left field.

Henry Berry is here with the team, but it will return to Los Angeles with the boys Sunday night. The Seals will have Sunday night as Long thinks one extra day in the warm climate will be of considerable help to his slumping club and is anxious to do something to change the monotony of defeats.

BIG SLAUGHTER OF MR. HARDY.

HOMER, TRIPLES AND DOUBLES SWELL THE SCORE.

Portland Team Wallops Oakland in Slugging Fest in Which Batting Averages Are Pattened—Kinsella Touched up Also, but Lead of His Team Is Safe One.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hardy was slaughtered by the locals today to the tune of 14 to 2. Tossed into the matinée were three biffs that were good for extra bases, one triple and a home run by Danzig. When this happened McCredie and Raftery were waiting on the perches. Thereupon Hardy walked Bassey and Johnson. Bassey made it the fourth run when he came home on an infield fooale.

Then Hardy seemed to pull himself together and kept the homers from registering until the fifth. Danzig walked, Bassey sacrificed and Johnson took his third pass. Cooney came along and cleaned house with a long triple to left center. In trying to make another homer out of it he was nabbed at the plate.

In the seventh, the bombardment was terrific. Hardy was shot four times for as many singles. A sacrifice helped along, and Kinsella surprised himself and every one else by hitting to left for two bases. Doubles by Johnson and Madden, Raftery's single and a walk to Cooney, together with the base he stole on Slattery, gave the Beavers four more. Madden's two-bagger sent home three.

While Portland was hammering Hardy all over the lot, Kinsella was being touched up some himself. In the third Altman singled and Cook died to Danzig. Hardy was there with the stick, anyway, and biffed safe and stole second. On Haley's single, Altman scored. They came right back in the fourth, and three wallops, with one out between them, scored Slattery.

Just for a couple of innings, it looked as if McCredie's crew had grown careless. There was danger ahead, but the screws were tightened up and the visitors could not break loose. Aside from a home run, it was left to Raftery to do a spectacular stunt. He wrapped a long drive by Hardy with one hand, butting into the fence at deep right in doing it, that certainly robbed the Oakland slabster of a triple.

Yacht Hawaii Setting Sail for San Pedro, on her way from Honolulu to take part in great trans-Pacific yacht race, starting from Southern California July 4.

OFF FOR SAN PEDRO, ALOHA!

BREASTING THE WAVES OF THE BLUE PACIFIC.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

HONOLULU, June 3.—The yacht Hawaii, which is to represent the Territory and the Hawaii Yacht Club in the trans-Pacific race from San Pedro to Honolulu, is now on her way to the starting point. She sailed yesterday afternoon, followed by the cheers and shouted good wishes of a large and enthusiastic crowd.

The shipping in the harbor was gaily decorated for the occasion. The yacht was accompanied far out of the harbor by steam craft and small sailing vessels, but she speedily drew away from all of them, including the tug Intrepid, which had the committee on board, under the influence of the stiff breeze which was filling her great spread of canvas.

The Hawaii is commanded by Capt. S. J. Harris, who has had wide experience on the Pacific. Her crew is composed of nine men, some of them volunteers. The yacht was built by popular subscription at a cost of about $20,000, by Sorenson & Lyle of Honolulu from designs by B. B. Crowninshield of Boston.

The yacht evoked unbounded admiration as she lay at the wharf before the start, clean as a new pin, beautiful in line and finish. With her colors gaily flying she was, indeed a thing of beauty.

At 2:25 p.m. she left the wharf and sailed to the Ewa end of the harbor as a sort of preliminary canter for the benefit of the public.

Returning, when off the Alakea-street wharf, she tacked about with such grace that the multitude vented their admiration in hearty cheers.

The yacht again headed Ewa way, breaking out sail after sail. Turning round, she broke out her topsails, and, skimming the water like a bird, scooted down the channel and out to sea, her long cruise fairly begun. The departure was a spectacular affair, with flags, bands and crafts doing honor to the occasion.

The Hawaii easily bested the sloop Kamehameha in working out to sea, and left everything behind her at Diamond Head light, with the parting hail of Capt. Harris: "I'll bring back that cup or sail the sticks out of her, Aloha."

The crew consists of A. Lundquist, "Sam" R. B. Rictow, E. Greene, Dan Arcia, J. L. Hamilton, H. Buck and W. H. Stroud. The Trans-Pacific Yacht Committee of the Hawaiian Yacht Club is formed of H. E. Cooper, W. H. McInerny, C. T. Wilder, Sanford B. Dole Col. Samuel Parker, R. W. Shingle and Alexander Lyle.

This committee represents the highest executive ability of the Territory.

The race is open to all yachts of not less than forty feet waterline length, belonging to any regularly-organized yacht club of any country, without restrictions as to rig, number of crew, professional or amateur; or sails, but no motive power other than sails shall be used.

Time allowance will be given, based on one-half hour per foot of racing length for the entire distance, racing length to be the load waterline length, plus one-half the length of the overhang.

MEASUREMENTS.

The yacht Hawaii, Hawaii's entry for the trans-Pacific yacht race from San Pedro to Honolulu, was specially designed by Crowninshield of Boston, and built by Sorenson & Lyle, shipbuilders, of Honolulu, for this race. Her dimensions are as follows:

HULL.

Length over all	69 ft. 6 in.
Length on load water-line	55 ft. 4 in.
Beam over planks	16 ft. 10 in.
Depth of hold	9 ft.
Draft—extreme	10 ft.
Cast-iron keel-weight	12 ft.

MASTS AND SPARS—ALL OF HOLLOW WOOD.

	Feet long.
Mainmast	74
Maintopmast	28
Mainboom	37
Maingaff	31
Foremast	59
Foretopmast	28
Foregaff	30

SAIL AREAS.

	Square feet.
Mainsail	1,189
Foresail	630
Staysail	1,078
Forestaysail	378
Jib	340
Large jib topsail	630
Maintopsail	270
Foretopsail	133
Squaresail	1,028
Total sail area	5,541

There are other light sails, but these constitute the regular working sails which will be used in the race from San Pedro, which will probably be with a fair wind from the northwest, over the starboard bow, for the first few days, and then with a fresh northeast trade wind, over the starboard quarter, for the remainder of the trip.

The distance from San Pedro to Honolulu is 2232 knots. If the wind is fresh, as it usually is in July, the Hawaii should log an average of 200 knots a day, which would put her in Honolulu on July 15.

The first trans-Pacific race resulted as follows.

	Days.	Hours.	Min.
Lurline	13	7	32
Anemone	14	0	25
La Paloma	15	11	20

In the coming race the starters will be:

Commodore H. H. Sinclair's schooner Lurline.

John Kyle's yawl Lady Maud.

L. B. Johnson's yawl Gwendolyn II.

Hawaii Yacht Club's Hawaii.

The South Coast Yacht Club offers two valuable cups for the coming race, which starts from San Pedro on July 4. Sir Thomas Lipton will also present a cup as a trophy for the winner.

WISE TALKS

By the "Office Boy"

Straws show which way the wind blows, and I thought it might interest you to know where the straw, for making summer hats, comes from. The most of it is grown in Italy. To make suitable straw, the wheat is sown as thickly as possible in order that the growth of the plant may be impoverished as well as to produce a thin stalk, having towards the end from the last knot, the lightest and longest straw. The wheat blooms at the beginning of June, and is pulled up by the roots by hand, when the grain is half developed. About five dozen uprooted branches are tied together in little sheaves and stowed away in barns. Later the straw is again spread out to catch the heavy summer dews and to bleach in the sun. Finally it is cut close above the first joint from the top, and again tied up in small bundles, containing about sixty stalks each. A part of it is braided in foreign countries. The United States duty is 15% on braided and 10% on the rough. The hats, when finished, retail from $1 to $5, and a few even higher. No place will you find as complete an assortment as at our store.

A.C.A. SETS THANKSGIVING DAY FOR RACE.

Conditions of Contest Show That It Is in Direct Competition With the Vanderbilt Cup Race—Savannah Course Selected, and State Militia Will Guard Circuit.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Contest Committee of the Automobile Club of America announced this evening that the grand prize race, to be run in opposition to the Vanderbilt cup race, will be held on Thanksgiving Day, November 26, in Savannah. It will be for 400 miles, over the beautiful course in Chatham county, Ga., and in coöperation with Mayor Tideman of that city, the municipal authorities and the Savannah Automobile Club. Under orders of Gov. Hoke Smith, the course will be guarded by the State militia.

There will be no limit to the number of cars each country may enter, as is stipulated for the Vanderbilt cup race, but not more than three cars of any one make can be entered. American entries will be made direct to the Contest Committee of the A.C.A. Foreign entries, however, will come through the recognized automobile club in the country where the car is made. The entry fee is $750 for one car, $250 lower than in the Vanderbilt cup race. For a second car entered by a single firm, only $550 will be required, and for a third, $450. A deposit of $300 per car must accompany each entry. If the number of cars entered is too great, the committee will hold elimination races, the date for which will be announced later. Entries will be accepted until October 1. The first car to be entered is an Acme six-cylinder.

The qualifications for the race are identical with those which the foreign clubs demanded in vain of the Vanderbilt Cup Commission, and which govern the big races in England, Germany and France. All cars taking part in the race must have a motor comprising four cylinders, with a bore of 6.1 inches, or a motor of equivalent piston area. Cars in running order, but without water, gasoline, tools or spare parts, must weigh at least 2424 pounds (1100 kilos.)

It is believed by the club that more ingenuity will be required to make a successful racing car when the bore of the cylinders is limited and a minimum fixed for the weight. It is also expected that these requirements will also reduce the number of accidents.

Blackburn Draws.

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In a six-round bout that was marked by fast and vicious fighting, Jack O'Brien and Jack Blackburn boxed to a draw tonight at the National Athletic Club. In the first round O'Brien knocked Blackburn down with a straight left. In the third and fourth rounds Blackburn hit O'Brien low, and apologized. In the sixth Jack had Blackburn clinching to avoid stomach punches. Blackburn's speedy infighting evened things up. He conceded O'Brien nearly twenty pounds.

Team Selects Captain.

The baseball players of the Los Angeles Athletic Club met last night and elected George Adair, manager, and Lou Guernsey, captain. The boys will form into two teams and play a practice game at the St. Vincent grounds on Sunday morning. A team to represent the club will then be picked from the various players and this team will try and secure a game for Saturday, June 19.

Pomona Class Game.

CLAREMONT, June 10.—The semi-finals in the inter-class baseball championship of the college was played off yesterday between the seniors and the freshmen. The score stood 4-3 in favor of the freshies at the close of an extra inning contest. The feature of the game was the pitching of Craig for the freshmen and Spurgeon for the seniors. The former struck out fourteen men and his opponent ten.

TALKS ON TEETH

YOU WILL BE PLEASED

The most valuable advertising we receive is that which costs us nothing. The man or woman who goes out of our offices entirely satisfied with the work we have done for him or her and passes the good word along to friends and acquaintances will do us more good and send us more business than we could possibly obtain from a published advertisement, no matter how convincing we might try to make it. Here is a case in point:

He Is Happy

Los Angeles, Cal.

Rex Dental Co.

Dear Sirs: Some months ago you took my case for Pyorrhea and replaced a full lower by your Alveolar Method. I am pleased to say that the work is entirely satisfactory.

My Pyorrhea is cured, and the teeth you put in for me are as natural as my own teeth.

I want to thank you for what you have done, and will always be pleased to recommend your work.

Yours truly, A. L. HOAG.

258 N. Ave. 21.

Our Alveolar Method of restoring missing teeth without plates or ordinary bridgework is a patented process and is not to be obtained in any other office outside of those operated by this company. We have grown from a small beginning, five years ago, to where at the present time we do the largest dental business in the world, and the business is increasing daily. The world had been waiting for just such work as we are able to supply. The average "bridge," which is a structure placed between two teeth with a row of artificial teeth fastened to it, is not only unsanitary, but UNSCIENTIFIC. Built higher in the middle than at either end, it is not possible to bite on the bridge without subjecting the pier teeth, at either end, to a terrific strain, which in time loosens them and necessitates the taking out of the entire work. This sort of bridgework has been responsible for the loss of more teeth than any other one factor.

Ignorant dentists who have pulled out sound teeth by the dozen in order to make room for a plate are responsible for a large percentage of the missing teeth, but the bridge is a close second.

By the Alveolar plan we save teeth. If they are loose we tighten them and build our structure around them so as to supply the patient with a full set of teeth that shall be firm and strong in the mouth, beautiful to look at, as serviceable as nature's teeth and guaranteed to last a lifetime.

If you are in need of our services we shall be glad to have you call at any of our offices and have a free examination made of your mouth. We practice dentistry in all its branches and employ none but the best experts. These men, because of their superior skill, have taken away the dread of going to the dentist.

If it is not possible for you to call in person let us send you our illustrated book, "Alveolar Dentistry," free of any charge. After you have read the book you will be more than ever determined to come and see us. It has brought patients to us from all over this continent. Send for it today.

Two additions have been made to the Occidental faculty, which otherwise will be unchanged next year. Miss Mary Rose of Whittier High School and C. E. Morse of the University of Indiana, have been added to the teaching force.

President Baer and his family will leave today for Marshfield, Mass., where is located his summer cottage. He will return to Occidental the latter part of August. In the meantime, the Presbyterian school will be deserted.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTES.

The following-named were elected to membership in the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, by the directorate: E. A. Clampitt, Kakinchi Bros., Allen Ainsworth, Van Vleet Investment Co., Emil Castellano and City Gas Co. The secretary of the chamber is preparing a list of manufacturers of the city and county, showing the different lines of goods produced and much other valuable information, which is constantly in demand. This will be of much benefit to intending investors and settlers from the East.

The directorate has authorized extending an invitation to the International Convention of Baptist Young People's Union, to hold its next gathering in 1909, in Los Angeles.

James A. Barr, State director of California for the National Education Association, expects to attend the meeting in Cleveland, next month, and expects to advertise California and go prepared to work vigorously to bring the convention of 1910 to San Francisco. The chamber seconds his efforts in that direction, and wishes him success.

ELSINORE.

ELSINORE, June 10.—The proposed issue of bonds for the municipal lighting plant was lost by one vote.

A rattlesnake was killed, yesterday morning, behind a woodbox in the kitchen of Mr. and Mrs. Will McClintock at Terracota. Little chickens kept near the stove are thought to have induced it to enter the house. The snake fought viciously and finally bit itself.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clayton returned yesterday from Fresno, whither they were called by the illness of Mrs. Clayton's brother, Robert Fike.

Classified Liners.

Times Classified Rates: The rate for inserting "Want" ads in The Daily Times is 1c per word for each insertion; in the Sunday issue 1½c per word, each insertion; minimum charge 25c; except under following classifications the rate for which is 10c per line, minimum charge 30 cents: "Society Meetings," "Personals," "Special Notices," and "Baths and Massage."

"Liner" (classified) advertisements for Sunday insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11:30 o'clock Saturday nights will be inserted under heading "Too Late to Classify."

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 10:30 o'clock Saturday nights. Rate 1½ cents per word.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 77,000 copies, and more "liners" are regularly printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night and secure prompt and careful attention.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

THE TIMES will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times in payment for "Liners," as no mistakes can be rectified without them.

SPECIAL NOTICES—

SUNDAY REAL ESTATE LINERS—Classified real estate advertisements for insertion in THE SUNDAY TIMES must be in the office not later than 10:30 o'clock Saturday nights. Other "want" advertisements for Sunday insertion will be taken over the counter until 11:30 p.m.

The great volume of liners printed in The Sunday Times, numbering regularly over 500 separate announcements, makes this regulation absolutely necessary in order to get the big Sunday issue out on time.

MINING—

IF THIS INTERESTS YOU, COME AND SEE me for details. I am organizing a company to mine and ship a large body of high-grade lead-silver ore. Later will erect our own smelter. There are over 20,000 tons ready for shipment, which shows a profit of $40 per ton. Everything is at hand, ore, fuel and fluxes; the iron carries $12 in gold and silver, and alone will pay the cost of smelting. Shipments will commence at once and continue only until plant is erected. It will unquestionably make one of the great mines of Mexico, and this is the opportunity of a lifetime. There is absolutely NO chance for loss. The fullest investigation is courted. W. S. TWOGOOD, room 211, Stimson Blk. A7399.

WANTED—100 PEOPLE TO BUY GUARANteed mining stock that accays on an average $12 per ton; this is not a wildcat scheme or get-rich-quick concern, but an honest, square, clean-cut proposition; every cent that you invest is fenced by a strong, well-known Los Angeles corporation; a thorough investigation solicited. ODD SCHOOL VOLUME.

State Normal Annual Exponent Appears—Sly Hit at Teachers Exacting in Attendance.

The '08 Exponent, the annual book of the Los Angeles State Normal School, was published yesterday by the seniors. It is an odd-shaped little volume, in paper covers of a coffee tint, on which is a black-and-gold design representing the tower of the Normal School. The cover design was made by Miss E. M. Bartlett.

The book is dedicated to the president and faculty. Besides photographs of the teachers, the members of the graduating class, the various student organizations, and its staff of editors, the Exponent prints a few stories and poems written by students, notably a tale by Gertrude Bailey, and a lyric called "A June Phantasy," by T. H. Wilson.

Prominent students find their caprices mercilessly revealed, and faculty members are attacked with trenchant limericks aimed at their tenderest hobbies. Sly revenge is taken on those teachers who demand unfailing attendance in their classes, by publishing a record of their own absences from chapel exercises.

The class book of this year was handled by Carol Larkins, editor; Walter Kressen, business manager; assisted by T. Howard Wilson, Valeria Lee, Mabel Luther, Virginia Miller, Addie Larkins, Adline M. Combs, Edith Jones, Grace E. Hussey, Dorothy Bond, Florence Greening, Nell Ratliff, Arthur D. Brant, George J. McDonald, Elsie E. Crowley, Rhuamah Smith and Mary T. Dinneen.

The summer class to be graduated from the State Normal School consists of 134 members, and is one of the largest ever graduated from the school, bringing the total for the year up to 210. The officers of the class are Miss Grace H. Miller, president; Miss Barbara H. Morrison, vice-president; Miss Elizabeth M. Thompson, secretary; Miss Josephine M. Fulgham, treasurer. The events of commencement week are as follows: Class-day exercises, June 19; sermon to graduating class, June 21; class picnic, June 22; class play, June 23; faculty's reception to graduating class, June 24; commencement, June 25.

HUNT MEMORIAL SERVICES.

A simple but highly impressive memorial service, attended by nearly all the members of the local actorial colony, was held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Booth & Boyison chapel over the remains of Miss Alice Treat Hunt. Rev. Baker P. Lee, who had charge of the service, spoke briefly but feelingly. Of the many floral offerings perhaps the most significant was the one presented by the Belasco Theater stage crew; it was an exquisitely modeled proscenium arch, from the center of which the "last curtain" had fallen. Miss Hunt's body will go East this morning.

NURSES GET SHEEPSKINS.

One Graduate of Sanatorium Near Redlands Married After Commencement—Pioneer Passes.

REDLANDS, June 10.—The commencement exercises of the Loma Linda College of Evangelists were held last evening at Loma Linda sanatorium, when seven young women graduated from the nurses's department. Nearly 200 people from neighboring towns and from Los Angeles were present.

Attired in their uniforms, the nurses marched into the assembly room, headed by the members of the faculty. The room was decorated in yellow and white, the class colors. The opening prayer was made by Elder J. A. Burden, and the principal address was given by Elder G. W. Reaser, president of the Southern California Conference of Seventh Day Adventists. The valedictory was given by Miss Nora Davis, and the diplomas were presented by Dr. George K. Abbott. The graduates are: Misses May Atkins, Carolyn Mae Bronson, Nora B. Davis, Lora Baker Merrill, Sarah Jane Oberholtzer, Mabel Buell Parks and Ellen Myrtle Cornish.

A few hours after getting her sheepskin, Miss Cornish was married to Walter Foster, Elder Bureen officiating. After a two weeks' visit with the bride's parents in South Dakota, Mr. and Mrs. Foster will sail from Victoria for Northern Japan, where they will enter upon their life work as medical missionaries.

J. V. A. LOVE DEAD.

J. V. A. Love, one of Redlands' pioneers, passed away yesterday after a long illness. He came to this city in 1886, and engaged in the nursery business until 1895. Since that year he has devoted himself to caring for his property here and in Peoria, Ill., where he formerly resided, and where for twelve years he was roadmaster for the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad. Later, he was with the Wabash, Union Pacific and Great Northern. He leaves a widow.

The funeral will be held at the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. J. H. Williams officiating.

THROWN FROM AUTOMOBILE.

A. C. Denman, Jr., general manager of the San Bernardino Traction Company, had a narrow escape from death in an automobile accident near Temecula in San Diego county, yesterday. He with W. M. Garland, the real estate dealer and broker of Los Angeles and president of the California Club, was on his way in the latter's big touring car to San Diego. They were making at least twenty-five miles an hour when the front axle broke square off and Mr. Denman was pitched headlong from the machine. He struck on his head and left shoulder, and was rendered unconscious. Mr. Garland escaped without injury. Mr. Denman is now able to be about, although he feels somewhat the worse for his sudden header.

Evans; treasurer, F. P. Meserve; directors, E. C. Newton, E. N. Sturtevant. The association has just completed a building for the lodge, the cost of which approximates $50,000.

Bonnell; second vice-president, Mrs. Charles O'Kelley; secretary, Mrs. L. E. Huntington; treasurer, Mrs. D. W. Hummell. The total receipts for the society for this year were $192.62; disbursements, $113.82; balance $78.80.

A number of local Elks were last evening invited to the home of Gordon E. Sucher and during the evening the ladies, who recently assisted in the amateur production of "Brown's in Town," were given handsome presents. Mrs. Carl Smith received a handsome necklace and bracelet; Miss Frances Hamilton, a gold watch and pin; Mrs. Stockbridge, gold bracelet and Miss Gagel, a crescent pin.

LEITER NOW A BENEDICT.

MISS JULIETTE WILLIAMS BECOMES HIS BRIDE.

Son of the Late Levi Z. Leiter Is Married in Washington to the Daughter of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. John R. Williams—Begin Honeymoon in Touring Car.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Juliette Williams, daughter of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. John R. Williams, was married today in the apartments of her parents at the Connecticut, to Joseph Leiter, son of the late Levi Z. Leiter of Chicago.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. L. Buckley, assistant pastor of St. Matthew's Church and witnessed only by the immediate families and close friends of Miss Williams and Mr. Leiter. Following the ceremony a luncheon and reception was given at Rauscher's, to which about 200 guests were invited.

Later in the afternoon the bride returned to the Connecticut and changed her bridal gown for a smart tailored suit of white linen and the couple then started in Mr. Leiter's big touring car for Manchester-by-the-Sea, the summer home of Mr. Leiter's mother, where the first days of their honeymoon will be spent.

The bride's wedding gown was of heavy white satin, made with an unusually long train. She wore a tulle veil, caught in her hair with a spray of orange blossoms, and she carried a huge cluster of lilies of the valley and orchids.

Col. Williams, wearing the full dress uniform of his rank, gave his daughter in marriage.

Mr. Leiter wore the conventional frock coat and gray striped trousers. Miss Frances Williams, the school girl sister of the bride, wore a gown of pale blue chiffon and held the bride's bouquet during the ceremony.

The luncheon at Rauscher's was served at small tables, holding ten each, except the bride's table, which accommodated twenty, and was heart-shaped. At it were seated Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Miss Mathilde Townsend, Miss Marion Oliver, Miss Louise Maxwell, Miss Esther Denny, Mrs. Roscoe Bulmer and other of the bride's most intimate friends.

Col. and Mrs. Williams presided at the next table, at which were seated the immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Leiter will remain at Manchester-by-the-Sea only a few days. They will attend the two national conventions, and will spend July 4 at Mr. Leiter's plant at Ziegler, Ill., where there will be special fireworks display. They will then return to Manchester-by-the-Sea for a few weeks, and in August will accompany Mrs. L. Z. Leiter to England, where they will be the guests of the Countess of Suffolk and Mrs. Colin-Campbell, Mr. Leiter's sisters.

Among those at the wedding breakfast were the Secretary of War and Mrs. Taft, the Italian Ambassador and Mme. Mayer des Planches, the French Ambassador and Mme. Jusserand, the Brazilian Ambassador and Mrs. Nabuco, the Assistant Secretary of War and Mrs. Robert Shaw Oliver, Miss Marion Oliver, Senator Du Pont, Senator and Mrs. Foraker, Miss Foraker, Gen. Franklin Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Cabb, Mr. and Mrs. Wolcott Tuckerman, Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Leutze, Gen. and Mrs. Corbin, Col. Bromwell, chief aid to the President, and Mrs. Bromwell, Miss Isabella May, Baron and Baroness Prueschen of the Austrian Embassy; Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Barker, and many others prominent in diplomatic and official circles.

Young Mrs. Leiter will be the fascinating figure in the social world in Washington next winter. She is just 20 years old, and now has great wealth at her command, with one of the most notable mansions in the country as her home.

RUN DOWN BY CAR.

As he was crossing the Pacific Electric right of way at Sixteenth street and Long Beach avenue, last night, W. F. Kelly, foreman for Hiatt & Co., general contractors, drove in front of a Whittier car and was run down. Both of the horses were killed and the wagon was smashed. Kelly was thrown to the ground, but escaped with a few lacerations. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital and later sent to his home.

KILL GAMBLING ON THE RACES.

SCANDAL BEING INVESTIGATED BY LEGISLATURE.

Charges That Fund of Fifty Thousand Has Been Pledged to Race Track Support Arouses Ire of Gov. Sanders of Louisiana—Bill to Go Before the Senate.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BATON ROUGE (La.) June 10.—The anti-race track gambling bill was passed today by the lower house of the Louisiana Assembly, by a vote of 57 to 36. The bill is now up to the Senate and should it pass that body it will be put an end to the racing which has been a feature of the winter season in New Orleans for almost a century.

Investigation was begun today of the sensational charges that a fund of $50,000 will be spent in saving race-track gambling in Louisiana from adverse legislation. These charges were commented upon in the Assembly yesterday and last night. Gov. Sanders ordered that the houses today take steps to appoint a special commission to investigate whether any money had been used and whether such plans existed. He also ordered a special session of the grand jury immediately to investigate the corruption fund charges. The Locke bill to prevent all forms of gambling on horse races was posted for final action by the House today. It has been generally conceded that it will be passed by the House, but a fight has been predicted in the Senate.

RECORDS COMPARED.

Took J. P. Gunn More Than Two Minutes to Make a Mile on Bicycle Ten Years Ago.

J. P. Gunn, who won first prize in the handicap, one mile open on his bicycle in Salt Lake City, July 4, 1898, the time being 2:04 1-5, professional, is training at the Seal Gardens saucer track for the opening races, July 4. He will also ride a motorcycle.

Gunn has been riding since 1895. He was born in Illinois, his age is 32 and professional bicycle rider, who has entered July 4 meets.

he is a heavyweight, tipping the beam at 165 pounds. He won second prize in a race with John Lawson of Chicago, deceased. Following the bicycle racing game in Butte, Ogden, Denver, Pueblo, San José, San Francisco, Petaluma, and having made a pace record of one mile on bicycle, in 1:32, set by motorcycle, he expects to give other riders some excitement, although many have made a mile in 1:07, and 1:06, and lots of them go ten miles on bicycles averaging a mile in 1:08, on the New York tracks. The record for unpaced on the Salt Lake Palace track is a mile in 1:53 2-5.

Gunn says the Los Angeles track is as fast if not faster than the one in Salt Lake City and has more improvements. In talking of records he said, "There is no reason why you should not be able to break records when you get record-breakers here."

FIGHTERS END WORK.

All Pugs Who Are to Meet Friday Night Finished Their Strenuous Training Yesterday.

Battling Johnson and Van Dooser practically finished their training yesterday for their ten-round contest at McCarey's pavilion tomorrow night and will probably do little today other than road work and shadow boxing. Van Dooser claims he is in good shape now, while Johnson is always ready for a scrap.

The big Russian has done his last road work and his boxing yesterday was his final stunt in this line, while the session that Van Dooser had with the Turk closed his programme. Cameron and Holbrook, the big negroes who will fight the ten-round preliminary and Bubbles Robinson and Young Fitzgerald who will be in the curtain raiser of six rounds, also finished yesterday.

The card for the first of the weekly boxing shows that will be given by the Pacific Athletic Club on Friday night, June 19, was partially arranged yesterday. Bubbles Robinson and Leonard Lauder will fight ten rounds at 130 pounds and will weigh in at 6 o'clock on the night of the bout. Mike Kutches and Oyama, the Jap boy, will go ten rounds and in addition to these there will be three six-round contests.

The Jeffries club has matched Young Carsey and Frank Dunn for a twelve-round preliminary to the Welsh-McFarland fight on July 4. Welsh came up from San Diego yesterday and may train at Venice. McFarland will leave Chicago today and will probably reach here Sunday. He will do his training at the Southside Club at Thirty-eighth street and Santa Fé avenue. Kid Carsey and Kid Dalton will fight at the Jeffries club on Saturday, June 20.

Manager Eddie Keevin left last night for San Francisco with Jimmy Walsh and Jimmy Gardner who are to fight Jimmy Carroll and Kyle Whitney before Sam Berger's club on the night of June 26.

SUBURBAN TO KEENE.

Horsemen Concede to Owner of Colin and Colt the Honors of Winning Classic.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—That the Suburban, the next big event of the metropolitan racing season, will, in all probability, be added to the winnings of James R. Keene, is the opinion being expressed by horsemen.

Mr. Keene's great horses, Colin, Celt and Ballot, are all eligible for the stake and some race followers are enthusiastic enough to predict that if Mr. Keene starts them all he can capture all three prizes.

It may happen, as in other years, when Mr. Keene appeared to hold the Suburban safe, that something will turn up either before or during the running to prevent the spotted jacket from being carried to the front. At this time, however, Mr. Keene has every reason to anticipate a victory. Indications are that he not only holds the Suburban, but barring accident, practically every other important race to come for horses of three years old and upwards.

WESTERNERS REBEL AGAINST HOPKINS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An insurrection against the assumption that Senator A. J. Hopkins of Illinois is to be the chairman of the Resolutions Committee has broken out among western delegates who are suspicious of a ready-made platform. They want Frank E. Kellogg of Minnesota, the "trust-busting" attorney.

Sincere tariff revisionists were especially fired up today over the report that Senator Hopkins had been in conference yesterday with Speaker Cannon and the managers of the allied candidates for President, most of whom they hold under suspicion as standpatters.

"Any platform which is reported by Senator Hopkins, especially if prepared in advance, will be subjected to the unfriendly analysis of all real tariff revolutionists," said a prominent attendant upon the convention proceedings today.

ENEMIES OF DOLLIVER ARE BOOMING HIM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, June 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Dolliver is now the Republican leader of Iowa, Lafayette Young of Des Moines declared today, and the nomination of the junior United States Senator from the Hawkeye State for Vice-President would, in Editor Young's opinion, reopen the long factional fight which has disrupted the Republicans in Iowa for a decade, and which culminated only nine days ago in the victory of the "stand-patters."

Editor Young is proprietor of the Des Moines Capital, and a State delegate from Iowa.

What makes the situation peculiar is this:

Senator Dolliver's nomination is being deprecated—it would hardly be right to say opposed—by his particular political friends, while those who have been more or less opposed to him in other fights are entnusiastically in favor of making him Vice-President.

His opponents want him out of the way in order that they may send his bitter rival, Gov. Cummins, to the Senate. It is to keep Cummins out of the Senate that the Dolliver men are against Dolliver for Vice-President.

"The Times" at the Convention

STRONG, ATTRACTIVE, ACCURATE

Galaxy of Brilliant and Sententious Writers

In the world's eye the thing that looms at the present time is the National Republican Convention at Chicago.

The Times will print the most complete, interesting, "salty" and informing reports of this great event.

In addition to the very full and comprehensive reports of the Associated Press, The Times will have dispatches daily from two of its own home staff, being represented at Chicago by

MR. GEORGE W. BURTON and
MR. HARRY C. CARR.

The Times also has secured the services of William Allen White, famous in literary and journalistic fields.

William Allen White has been designated by one of America's greatest journalists as "the most refreshing, wholesome and attractive media of expression now at large in the United States.

Born in Kansas less than two score of years ago, at twenty-eight, Mr. White had already focused national attention. He had come with something to say worth while, and he said it with such a clean, clear sense that he is now looked upon by trained "watchers on" as one of the most accurate, far-seeing and people-appealing, of all the major prophets of this generation.

The editorial, "What's the Matter with Kansas?" written by Mr. White for his own paper, The Emporia (Kansas) Gazette, during the campaign of 1896, thereafter distributed by the million as a tract by the National Republican Committee under the direction of Mark Hanna, was not a studied matter, but the spontaneous pencil dash from the hands of a man whose heart and head had merely been keeping gait with the affairs and interest of his State. And while the editorial attracted immediate attention, it was nothing out of the ordinary excepting that it reflected the thought and talent of the man writing it.

Mr. White will visit the Chicago Convention as a virile newspaper man, a man who has done things with ink and type, nosed for news, tramped for space and been personally assaulted for his editorial courage. He is a man who knows the political art from the standpoint of a high thinking layman and has followed and reported the deeds and doings of the vanishing American Boss from his glory to his new seeming doom. He has studied and knows the web-work radiating from the County, State and National political organizations as the school boy knows his maps, and he has always written what he has thought, leaving consequence elsewhere.

One of Mr. White's most notable convention reports was that of the last Democratic Convention at St. Louis. He will write the Republican Convention, treating it from its human interest aspect.

Two preliminary articles will experiment with the happenings of the thrilling days to follow, and after the Convention proper assembles, a telegraphic article will be sent out from the Convention Hall daily to this paper.

The makers of the convention, the dominators of its moving—the bulkers of its candidates, will be discussed in Mr. White's own inimitable style, with touches of his rare character delineations, as heretofore written in his magazine sketches of Croker, Platt, Roosevelt and Taft. In fact, every slice of interest, experience and blood-color dealing with the live elements of the convention will be handled.

These articles will appear exclusively in this paper in this city, during the convention. Watch for them. You will not fail to read them.

The Times will have the exclusive service in California of "Raymond" and the staff of the Chicago Tribune, the greatest newspaper in Chicago, covering the convention at all points.

Every stirring, up-to-date man and woman in California will be eager to read The Times during convention week. Its columns will throb with the most vital interest, and be alive with the action of the nation's most appealing life story of the current day.

The convention will assemble June 16. The Times will be sent to any address for the week for 20 cents.

FLASHES FROM WIRES.

The King and Queen of Spain left Madrid yesterday for the royal palace at La Granja. King Alfonso went down in an automobile accompanied by the baby Prince while the Queen traveled by train.

Between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 in gold which Russia has gradually been accumulating in London for months past is being shipped to St. Petersburg this week. The Russian interests have been buying small parcels of gold weekly with the object of replacing in reserve the gold released to help out London at the time of the heavy American demands. Some of the gold purchased accredited to Germany was really intended for Russia.

The American Piano Company with an authorized capital of $12,000,000 was incorporated at Trenton, N. J., yesterday. The incorporators are Ernest Knabe, C. H. Foster and George R. Foster. The company, it is understood has been formed for the purpose of consolidating the Knabe Piano Company of Baltimore, Chickering & Co. of Boston, and the Foster-Armstrong Piano Company of Rochester, N. Y.

The efforts to refloat the Japanese liner Hong Kong Maru have up to this time been unsuccessful. The steamer went ashore near Wuosen Tuesday night during a severe rainstorm. She is lying well and it is hoped that she will be refloated today.

Mulai Hafid, the insurgent Sultan of Morocco yesterday, received a communication from the German legation at Tangier after which he had a lengthy interview with the German agent, who brought the communication.

Over 500 persons are homeless, one death has been recorded and a property loss of over $200,000 has been brought about as a result of two fires which destroyed several blocks of stores and residences in different parts of New Orleans Tuesday night and yesterday. In the former a severe windstorm swept the flames over almost two blocks before the firemen could commence their work, and in the latter, which occurred in an outlying section of the city yesterday, the absence of water plugs rendered the fire-fighting apparatus useless.

The battleship South Carolina, now building at Cramps' shipyard, will be launched on July 11.

The Philippine government plans to construct a fleet of swift cutters for a campaign against smuggling in the southern islands, where an extensive illicit traffic in opium, Chinamen and various dutiable goods, is carried on between Borneo and other foreign points and the islands of Mindanao and the Jolo group. Hundreds of vintas and other craft are engaged in the trade, which has been carried on for ages practically unchecked, the Moros being the principal participants, although all nations are represented.

STEVEDORES' LOCKED OUT.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—A lockout was declared today against the union stevedores along the water front by the Kosmos Steamship Company, which put a force of Chileans to work discharging the steamer Pentaur at Oakland long wharf.

This action of the Kosmos line followed the refusal of the Stevedores' Union to reduce the wages of the men who load and discharge the vessels of the company at this port.

The officers of the union had been asked to aid in bringing about a reduction of wages to 55 cents an hour on account of the dull times said to prevail in the shipping industry.

VACANT HOUSE DAMAGED.

A fire of unknown origin damaged a vacant house at No. 929 Hemlock street to the extent of $100 last night. The building belongs to Peter Kriste.

FIGHTS POLICEMAN.

Man Armed With Big Knife Subdued Only When Officer Draws Revolver.

Armed with a knife with a ten-inch blade, L. Gonzales, a laborer, was taken into custody last night after a hard tussle. He made a determined effort to carve a policeman, and it was not until the latter pulled his revolver that Gonzales subsided.

The trouble took place in a Japanese poolroom at Los Angeles street and Ferguson alley. Gonzales's actions were suspicious, and the policeman started to search him. The man drew his knife and fought.

Gonzales is booked on a suspicion, a charge which will probably be changed to assault with a deadly weapon. He is suspected of having been implicated in the robbery of J. Chiarella at Aliso and Los Angeles street on Sunday night.

DON'T WAIT TO DRESS.

A fire of mysterious origin caused damage to the extent of $2500 in the second-hand clothing store of M. Augustine at No. 121 East First street, last night. The Tucson House at No. 125 East First and the Royal at No. 119½ East First also sustained some damage.

The blaze was discovered in the rear of the clothing store shortly before 11 o'clock. An alarm was turned in and when the engines arrived, the store was in a blaze. The old building was as dry as tinder and the fire spread rapidly.

Roomers in the Tucson and Royal had retired for the night and the smoke drove them from their rooms in a hurry. Several of them rushed into the street in various stages of undress. The damage to the lodging houses will not exceed $400.

Augustine's loss is covered by insurance.

Songs That Made Rich.

The defendant in a pending New York divorce suit is stated to receive an income of $2000 a year or more from writing songs. His compositions are of a fleetingly popular order. They please for a season, as rendered by concert hall favorites, and another year's audiences never hear them. It is rather a striking fact that topical jingles are such frequent instruments of financial returns to their authors.

"After the Ball"—who ever sings it now? Yet it paid $36,000 in royalties to Charles K. Harris, and the same composer reaped richly from his "Two Little Girls in Blue." Paul Dresser got at least $30,000 from "On the Banks of the Wabash," and almost as much from "Just Tell Them That You Saw Me." "Good by, Dolly Gray," brought $15,000 to Paul Barnes. "The Good Old Summer Time" was worth $10,000 to Evans and Shields, and so the list goes on.

On the other hand, Septimus Winner got but $35 for "Listen to the Mocking Bird," which still lives, and Stephen C. Foster, with his "Old Folks at Home," "Old Kentucky Home," "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," and other ballads undying, was at his topmost notch of prosperity at $1200 a year. Benjamin Russell Hanby never got a cent for "Nellie Gray," and did not know his song had been published till he heard it in a Cleveland concert hall.—[New York World.

"And what," asked the Sunday-school teacher, "is your name?"

"Arthur Henry Brown Williams Green Joyce Brown Corwin."

"Gracious! How did your parents ever happen to give you all those names?"

"They didn't give me all of them. My step-parents helped."—[Chicago Record-Herald.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

While there has been little activity of special nature in the orange market for several months, the arrivals of Valencias have been increasing right along, while the only Navels still on hand are the off-blooms. The latter are holding firm on all good stock. A break in the price of the Valencias was recorded yesterday owing more to the little demand, due to the arrival of the many different deciduous fruits, than to oversupply. Fancy pack sold down to $3 for white seconds is easily obtainable at $2.50 a box. Lemons and grapefruit were all slow sellers.

The egg market was very quiet, and no sales were recorded on change. Receipts were 429 cases, and offerings were all held high. A few eastern eggs were put up without finding buyers.

Butter was also slow in moving, with receipts of 75,024 pounds. There was still firmness apparent in all grades. On the street, several good sales of storage creamery were reported.

A better tone showed itself in the offerings of cheese. The call remained light owing to the scattering of the big supply now on hand. Receipts were 75.0 pounds.

New potatoes were among the best selling stock on the market. They brought an average of $1.35 per cwt., and sold as low as $1.15 for inferior grades. Only 518 sacks of tubers were reported among railroad arrivals.

Bermudas featured the onion market. This has been caused by the drop in receipts of the last week. The supply on hand is, however, large enough to last several months if necessary. There were no reported receipts and the offerings were not heavy.

Beans were very firm and more than 80 sacks of limas were sold at a high price. Pinks and small whites were well offered without changing sales. The sweet potato supply is again nearly exhausted owing to the few that have been coming in for the last two months.

A slight decline characterized asparagus. It brought an average of 9 cents a pound. Green peppers from Mexico are coming in regularly and as a result the market went off 3 cents on them yesterday. Peas dropped to 3 cents and beans followed suit on the good arrivals. Watercress was the only change in other vegetables, with the exception of celery, were in plentiful.

Another decline in cantaloupes was recorded, watermelons remained firm, while cherries dropped a cent on receipts of more than two cases. Many of these were Royal Anns. Whites are were scarce, while black ones held cheaply on account of the good number on hand. Apricots and peaches were stationary.

The meat market continues in a very unsettled condition. Several brands of bacon, ham and lard have been advanced by smallest possible fractions. Pork is very firm, while lamb is easy. The packers are holding prices low that shippers from Nevada and other points, particularly Utah, are reserving their stock or preparing to ship it east instead of here.

HOME SECURITIES IN DEMAND AT GOOD FIGURES.

Brokers Say Market Could Be Found for Large Quantities—Fluctuations in Various Bonds—Oil List Shows Fair Amount of Strength. Bank Stocks Remain Inactive.

Business was fairly brisk on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange floor yesterday during the call on the general investment stocks. Trades were made in several of the leading issues, and the demand for the list was firm, with some stocks in high relief because of the inquiry and consequent bidding.

The feature of the local market is the extreme strength in Home Telephone securities, including preferred stock, and both issues of the bonds. Twenty shares of preferred sold at 49.00, the ruling figure for several weeks. This closed at 49.00@50.00, showing no change from Tuesday's close. All recent buying of this issue has been by investors, and it is now termed "tin box stuff." At present prices it pays 10 per cent. on the investment.

One $1000 first mortgage bond of the Home Company was sold at 82 yesterday, the first trade in several weeks. The demand for this security is extremely strong, brokers stating that a market easily could be found for $100,000 worth. The close was strong and higher at 82½ bid, with the last offering at 83, although no asked price was posted at the close. First refunding bonds were wanted at 71 bid, and were held firmly at 76, a rise of one point in each quotation compared with Tuesday's close.

Other bonds were more or less inactive. Fluctuations were apparent in several of the issues. Edison firsts were bid up to 89, a half point above the preceding close, while L. A.-Pacifics were off a shade at 97½. Missions were down to 87 again, and Pacific Light 6s and Power bonds were quoted at 96@96. Pacific Electrics registered a ¾ decline, closing at 96 bid. Others were unchanged.

The oil stocks were strong, and some trading was recorded in various issues. Union Oil maintains its position well, sales being made at 225.00. The asked price is held firmly at 228.00, and the bid closed yesterday with a ½ point rise, at 224.25. Union Provident and United Petroleum were unchanged in the bids.

Two thousand shares of Globe Oil changed hands at 14, and then at 13½. The stock closed at 13½@14¼, a rise of 2½ in the bid, and a decline of ¾ in the holding price.

Other oil stocks were inactive as far as trading is concerned, but a demand developed several of the issues. Central closed firm at 87½@1.00, and Columbia was wanted at 70, with the asked price at 90. Continental was 2 points higher than on Tuesday, at 20 bid. Mexican Petroleum was bid up to 1.30, and was not offered at less than 1.37.

Bank stocks were inactive. Rumors of a trade in First National Bank stock at around 400.00 or 450.00 off board were heard. A demand was apparent for the issue during the call on Tuesday, and it is stated the trade was made yesterday morning.

Johnnie Consolidated was handled at 2¾ and slipped off to 2¾ before the close, only 800 shares being sold. Three hundred shares of Furnace Creek Copper changed hands at 15@16, with the close at 12 bid. Other mining stocks were stagnant.

Goldfield and Tonopah Leaders Alluring and Investment Purchases Are Made—Orders for Large Quantity of Daisy Only Partly Filled. Combination Fraction Wanted.

A decidedly better tone prevailed through the day in the mine share market on the Los Angeles-Nevada Mining Exchange yesterday, due in great part to the increased demand apparent in the San Francisco trade, and to the revival of eastern buying. Local buyers, also, were in the market in rather timid ranks, as the prices of the leading Goldfield and Tonopah stocks look alluring.

Consolidated was a trader on real investment buying, a total of 200 shares changing hands on the early call. The first sale was at 8.40. The price then slipped off to 8.35. None sold on the informal after which it closed at 8.40@8.50, a rise of 7½ and 12½ points, respectively.

Orders for a large quantity of Daisy were on the floor but the brokers succeeded in getting only 400 shares on the morning call. Prices ranged from 91 to 92 cash, and were at 93, seller ten days. One hundred shares sold at 90 cash on the afternoon call, and the stock closed at 90@91, up 1, and off 1 point in each quotation. Combination Fraction also was much sought after in the morning. Sales totaled 1300 shares at 47 cash and at 49, buyer thirty days. Fraction sold at 47 on the informal, when 200 shares changed hands. The close was at 47@48, up 1 point in the bid.

For the first time in many weeks, Belmont was a trader, sales totaling 700 shares at 78 cash. The stock was quoted at 78 bid, with none in the market, a rise of 8 points, compared with Tuesday's close.

Johnnie Consolidated was up fractionally on small sales, only 18,000 shares changing hands on the regular session, with the price ranging from 2¾ to 2¾, and the close at 2@2¼.

Some minor trading in the cheaper issues served to swell the sales sheet. Florence Extension sold at 14@15, to the extent of 4000 shares. Grandma was handled at 4¾. Jim Butler sold at 23, and Jumbo Extension at 26, buyer thirty days. Montana Tonopah was a buy at 1.40, several shares changing hands. Searchlight Parallel sold at 2, at which 10,000 shares were handled. Triangle was handled at 3½, and Yellow Tiger at 4, while Dixie was a trader at 1¾, and Adams sold at 4. One thousand shares of Sandstorm sold at 2¾ on the informal call.

LOS ANGELES-NEVADA. EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

The closing quotations of the Nevada mining stocks made yesterday on the Los Angeles-Nevada Mining Stock Exchange, ground floor of the H. W. Hellman building, Fourth and Spring streets, together with the regular call sales and the sales of the afternoon informal call, were as follows:

He was stricken with paralysis on Saturday last, and never rallied from the shock. The deceased came here from Salt Lake City several years ago, and for most of the time has been employed in an abstract office. He was aged 46 years, and leaves a widow and three daughters. Arrangements have not yet been made for the funeral.

College Women Entertained.

Fifty members of the P.E.O. Sisterhood, a secret society of college women, were entertained yesterday at the Briggs apartments, as guests of Mrs. J. Esden, Mrs. George Brown and Mrs. A. J. Briggs. The unique feature of the affair was that it was given on the roof garden, where a full-course dinner was served at noon. The lobby, reception-room and roof garden were handsomely decorated in flowers, and an enjoyable literary programme was given after dinner.

Free Scientific Lecture.

Prof. H. L. Twining of the Polytechnic High School will give a lecture tonight at the Y.M.C.A., with demonstrations of wireless telegraphy, in which he will make many interesting experiments, showing uses of the high-frequency current. The spring terms of the evening classes at the Y.M.C.A. will close this week with the exception of the automobile school, which will continue through the summer, with both day and evening classes.

MORE DEVELOPMENT.

HALF-MILLION IN LAND DEAL.

SIXTEEN THOUSAND ACRES NEAR CORCORAN SOLD.

Local and Eastern Capitalists Form Corporation That Plans Great Improvements in Tulare County—Water to Be Provided and Property to Be Subdivided.

Sixteen thousand acres, located about twelve miles south of Corcoran, Tulare county, bounded on the west by the Alpaugh Colony and on the east by the Santa Fé Railway, have been turned over to a new corporation of Los Angeles and eastern men, representing a deal running well into $500,000. The deal was negotiated through the office of M. J. Nolan of this city.

The Iowa Land and Water Company, the corporation which will carry out this big project, includes the following capitalists: Charles H. Kogley, former Washington banker, president; M. J. Nolan, real estate operator, No. 228 West Second street, Los Angeles, secretary; W. A. Sage, business man of Hanford, vice-president; John Metcalf, Iowa banker; Josph H. Harker, South Dakota banker; W. H. O'Bryan, extensive land operator of Los Angeles, and W. G. Uridge, capitalist of Fresno.

The corporation will immediately cause to be developed between 4000 and 5000 inches of water from the artesian wells bored into the underground river, flowing 1000 feet beneath their lands. These waters will be turned out into mains and lateral ditches covering the entire tract.

The lands are uniform throughout, neither an elevation nor depression of six inches being found on the entire tract, with a slope sufficient for a good flow of water and for drainage. The soil is an alluvial deposit eighty feet deep, free from rocks, pebbles, sand or alkali. Some decomposed shells are scattered over the surface and at various depths. There is no sagebrush to grub, nor grading to be done. The distribution of water will be by gravity.

When these lands are subdivided and in the hands of actual settlers it will materially add to the agricultural resources of Los Angeles and make homes and profitable employment for a population of 10,000 people. Already negotiations are under way for the location of about fifty families upon the lands and others will rapidly follow. Artesian water, with the flow of natural gas, can be had for domestic purposes at a moderate cost.

The beet sugar factory at Corcoran, with a freight rate from these lands of thirty cents a ton, makes the beet industry almost an accomplished fact. The beet crop on these lands last year averaged 22.8 per cent. saccharine matter. The land will grow successfully all crops adapted to California climate, excepting citrus fruits. Lands in this locality have doubled in value within the past few months.

A townsite on the Santa Fé at Solita Station, adjoining these lands, will at once be platted and put on the market; a substantial concrete station building and a commodious hotel are to be built. The irrigation system will be completed about October.

BENEFIT FOR YACHT RACE.

Frank Wiggins Is Impressed as an Impresario.

Artistic Performance to Be Given Next Week.

Ellen Beach Yaw and Others on the Programme.

Secretary Frank Wiggins of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce made his bow yesterday as an impresario. He is managing a company of talented musicians that is to appear next Wednesday afternoon at Temple Auditorium in a monster benefit performance. The entertainment is planned in aid of the trans-Pacific yacht race from San Pedro to Honolulu, which is to be the main feature of the "Harbor Day" celebration at San Pedro, July 4, when Los Angeles will join with the port city in a grand celebration.

The benefit is to be managed entirely by a Chamber of Commerce committee of which Wiggins is secretary; he never yet has "fallen down" on an undertaking, and the success of the affair already seems assured, though Wiggins suggests that the public be not backward about coming forward and buying seats, which are to range in price from 50 cents to $2. The seats go on sale today at the Auditorium box office.

A remarkable aggregation of talent has been secured for the benefit, all the artists donating their services for the occasion. In the first place, the chamber has secured the free and voluntary cooperation of Ellen Beach Yaw, the noted singer, who will head the bill. Many other notable artists are to appear, among them Eugene Nowland, the eminent violinist, late concert master with the Ysaye Orchestra at Brussels, Belgium; Bruce Gordon Kingsley, the celebrated organist of Los Angeles; Miss Olga Steeb, the gifted young pianist of this city, and Mrs. Toby Newman, who lately scored a success in an appearance with Miss Yaw.

This list is but a hint of what the committee has in store. Another feature that it hopes to obtain is Henry Miller in one act of "The Great Divide," which is on the boards at the Mason Operahouse next week. Other attractions probably will be added from day to day until every minute of a long afternoon will be taken up with some charming number.

Others are helping besides the artists who are donating their services. Public-spirited business men are contributing time, material and other assistance. All that remains now is for the entertainment-loving public to do its share by accepting a $2 treat for $2 and less. It is believed a good start will be made in this direction today at the Auditorium box office.

At a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday the committee in charge of the arrangements for the yacht race reported that an entertainment of the kind projected afforded the best means of "raising the wind" for the sea contest. The directors heartily approved the plan and for the next week the energies of Secretary Wiggins and all his associates will be directed toward making the benefit a huge success.

MRS. DEGROOT DEAD.

Widow of Wealthy Oil Operator Succumbs After Year's Suffering. Charitable Woman.

Mrs. W. E. DeGroot, one of the best-known women in this city, and one who had been prominent in charitable and social life during the eighteen years she resided here, died yesterday morning of cancer at her residence, No. 2914 Wilshire boulevard. For a year she bore with heroic Christian fortitude an affliction that could end only in death.

Mrs. De Groot was a native of Detroit, Mich. During her early life she resided a number of years in St. Paul, and was married to W. E. DeGroot about twenty-five years ago. The family moved to this city eighteen years ago, and Mr. DeGroot engaged in various lines of business, and became heavily interested in the oil industry six or eight years ago, amassing a large fortune. He built the Hinman Hotel at Seventh and Figueroa streets. He died suddenly about three years ago.

Mrs. DeGroot resided at the Hinman until last February, when she sold the property for $250,000. Shortly after that she moved to Denver for several months, and returned to this city a month or so ago and rented the W. W. Mines house, at No. 2914 Wilshire boulevard, where death ended her sufferings yesterday.

Her father and mother died when she was a girl, and she leaves no relatives except a son, W. Alfred DeGroot, about 20 years of age, and a daughter, Lotta, aged 14. She was a member of Christ Episcopal Church, and the rector, Rev. Baker P. Lee, will conduct the funeral service tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Connell undertaking parlors on South Grand avenue. The interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

STOPPED BY ARREST.

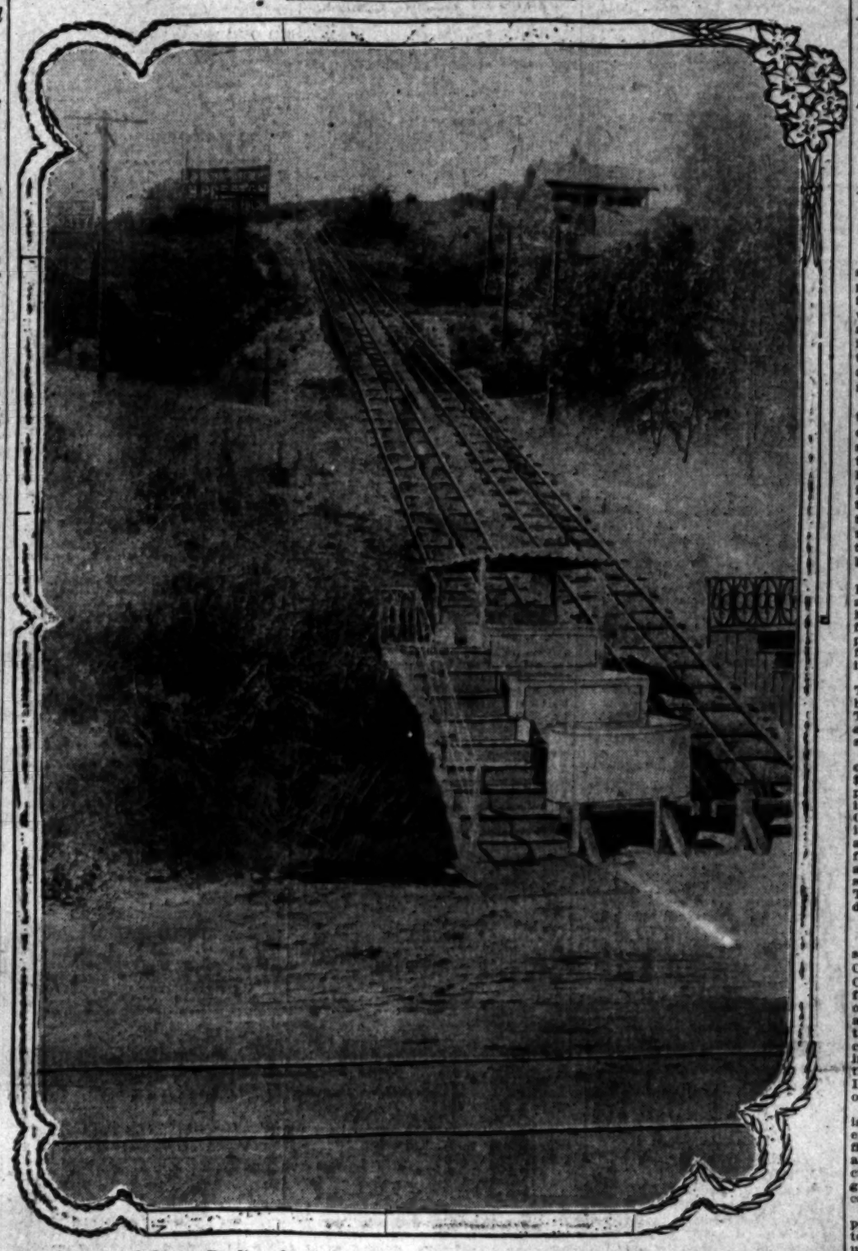
Motorists After San Francisco-Los Angeles Record Fall Foul of San Luis Obispo Sheriff.

What promised to be a record-breaking trip by automobile from San Francisco to Los Angeles was stopped yesterday forenoon by the arrest of L. B. Harvey and his party at San Luis Obispo. They had flown through Paso Robles at a high rate of speed, and the authorities of the hot springs resort telegraphed to the Sheriff at San Luis Obispo to stop them. The Sheriff arrested them as they came into town, and insisted that they go back to Paso Robles. They did so, thereby forfeiting any chance to break the record. Harvey claims he has good evidence that competitors caused the arrest.

Harvey and his party left the corner of Market and Guerrero streets in San Francisco at 3:30 o'clock yesterday, in a Rambler roadster. In 4 hours and 39 minutes the car had been rushed over the roads to King's City. The fast pace was kept up, and San Luis Obispo was reached in 7 hours and 47 minutes, sixteen minutes ahead of the best previous time. Up to that time the only delay had been one stop for a punctured tire, and the prospect was good for the breaking of the record.

UNIQUE HILL-CLIMBER.

CARS TO REACH HIGH POINT BY CABLE PULL UP AN AVENUE.



Proposed Long Incline from Marmion Way to Summit of Mount Washington.

This line, which is to be constructed on Avenue 43, is to connect with the yellow Garvanza cars and carry passengers to the top of the high hills.

AN INCLINE railway longer than that on the Mount Lowe railroad will soon be constructed on Avenue 43 from Marmion Way to the summit of Mount Washington, unless plans miscarry.

Application has been made to the Council for a franchise, Arthur St. C. Perry, secretary of Robert Marsh & Co., being the petitioner. On Monday the Council will finally decide what action may be taken. The Marsh people own the hill property.

The route of the proposed railway is 3000 feet long, though the grade is not half as steep as that up toward Mount Lowe. The cost of construction will approximate $30,000.

The City Attorney has been instructed to prepare an ordinance toward offering the franchise for sale. The applicants promise to begin operations on the line just as soon as they receive the necessary permission.

The plans for the proposed incline railway have been drawn by Edward S. Cobb. Several novel features of construction are incorporated in the specifications, and it is expected that the line will be unique in many ways.

Cars of an entirely new pattern are to be used, speed and safety both being taken into consideration in the design. A maximum carrying capacity is provided for and safety appliances which will, it is claimed, obviate all danger of accidents, will be used.

For a distance of three blocks west of Marmion Way, Avenue 43 ascends the hill at a sharp decline, so steep that none but the most sure-footed can make the climb. Beyond that the grade is more gradual. The difference in grade has necessitated some nice figuring on the part of the designing engineer, in order to insure the comfort of the passengers.

The cable system of construction will be employed. The heavy cars will be so arranged that the one descending will lend its momentum toward drawing the ascending one to the top. This conserves the energy required in operation to a great extent.

One car will be loaded at the top of the incline, and the other at the bottom, and, at a given signal, the two will start simultaneously.

The incline will connect with the cars of the yellow Garvanza line, and will carry passengers from the transfer point to the summit of Mount Washington without a stop. A 5-cent fare will be charged, that stipulation being embodied in the application for a franchise.

Owing to the steepness of the hill, Avenue 43 has never been graded west of Marmion Way. A few houses have been built on the street, but the owners have constructed private entrances leading up from Marmion Way.

At present the only way to reach the top of the hills is by Mount Washington Drive, a winding roadway starting at Avenue 41. This road was made at a cost of $125,000, and makes a fine scenic drive, the grade being but 4 per cent. The wide detours necessary in getting around the cañons, makes the trip practically out of the question for business purposes.

As the incline will, according to present plans, be available for general traffic, it will solve the transportation problem, which has heretofore kept the highlands out of use for residence purposes.

The highest point of Mount Washington reaches an altitude above any point in Elysian Park. An unobstructed view of practically the entire city can be had from the summit, while the top resembles more nearly a plateau than the ridge of a line of hills. The land which the incline railway will render accessible is considerably greater in extent than the whole of Highland Park, and the road will open some fine residence sites.

A fashionable colony has grown up in the neighborhood of Mount Washington. On Glen Albyn Drive and the neighboring streets very artistic homes have been reared, and only the lack of traction facilities has prevented people from building on the hill.

Some change in the original plans for the incline railway were necessitated by the demand of the Council that the cable, at all of the crossings, must be put under ground. This was made a condition of the franchise, owing to the protest of property owners on Avenue 43 against a double line of exposed cables.

The building of the incline railway is considered one of the most important undertakings of the kind this year. The character of the ground over which it will have to pass will make the road something of a curiosity from an engineering standpoint.

COMING SOON.

STEAMER LINE TO HONOLULU.

LOS ANGELES WILL HAVE ONE NEXT JANUARY.

Representative from the Islands Now in This City Sounding the Merchants on Possible Shipments. Has Authority to Purchase Large Boat That Will Start the Service.

Preliminary steps were taken yesterday looking to the establishment of a steamship line between Honolulu and either San Pedro or Redondo; if the plans under way at present are carried out, the steamers will be put into commission within six months, or by January 1, 1909.

Castle Bros., a well-known and wealthy business firm of Honolulu, stand sponsor for the steamship line and the scheme is now so far advanced that they have a personal representative in Los Angeles in Capt. William G. Goodman, who has been a guest at the Angelus for several days. He is here not only for the purpose of making arrangements for an agency for the vessels, but is empowered by Castle Bros. to purchase a steamer of from 4000 to 5000 tons displacement.

The need for a steamer line from some Southern California port to the Sandwich Islands has long been felt by the merchants of Los Angeles, for the export trade from San Francisco to the Islands now amounts to about $1,000,000 a month and a large share of this business could easily be handled by local merchants. Castle Bros. have been figuring for several months on diverting some of this business to Southern California and are now more in favor of it than ever, for they have a contract to deliver 2,500,000 tins at Redondo for the Santa Fé Railroad, the first consignment of which arrived this week.

This tie contract would necessitate almost fifty trips of one vessel and the steamer line is to grow up from this freight-carrying contract. One object of Capt. Goodman's visit here at this time is to ascertain if the merchants of Los Angeles will cooperate in their shipments to Honolulu to make the line a success. As can readily be seen the thing needed is the assurance from the merchants that they will ship by the new line, so it will not be necessary to send the steamers back to Honolulu in ballast. For the present, Castle Bros. will use sailing vessels to transport the ties and will probably use steamers later on.

Capt. Goodman visited a number of local business houses yesterday in company with a gentleman from Redondo, and was well received by the merchants. Castle Bros. do not ask any subsidy, but will put on the steamers on their own responsibility.

SONORA TOMATOES.

Mexican Agricultural Products from Yaqui Valley Sold Here First Time This Season.

Sonora tomatoes have appeared in the local markets this season for the first time. They come from the southern part of the State and are shipped by the Sonora Produce Commission Co. of Guaymas. The product is excellent, said to be equal to the home-grown article, and it ripens and reaches the market about ten days or two weeks ahead.

Shipments so far have been light, but they may be the beginning of a good trade. That Sonora is well adapted to this, especially the Yaqui delta, is an established fact. Since the extension of the railroad into that region a number of Americans, including some former residents of Southern California, have located on ranches, and the output of the State has already increased greatly.

The reports from the south of Sonora are all of an outlook for the cultivation on a large scale of many vegetables, cereals and fruits. Orange and lemon groves are being set out, and when the crops are ready from these Los Angeles may see some coming during the opening of the season, as the Sonora orange ripens somewhat earlier, it is said.

The completion of the big irrigation ditches now under construction in the Yaqui Valley will mean an enormous extension of the cultivated area. Most of the crops will find a market in Mexico, but the existing duties will not, it is thought, be sufficient to keep them entirely out of the States. The haul to Los Angeles, however, is a long one.

PECULIAR.

GREEK TONY'S FATE PUZZLE.

Distracted Wife Yet Hopes Sailor Is Alive.

Fishermen of Avalon Shake Heads in Quandary.

Detective Seeks Answers to Pointed Questions.

In one of Balzac's famous short stories, a mystery of the sea is depicted with telling power. The old fisherman, his eyes ever turned seaward, is seeking his lost son. At last, after weeks of weary waiting, the father goes stark mad but still continues to patrol the headland, looking, always looking seaward. But the sea makes no answer.

Is it to be that way, also, with the tragedy at Avalon; the mysterious disappearance of "Tony, the Greek," swallowed up by the sea, with no one to tell the tale? His wife, like the hero of Balzac's story, is sitting weeping there on the beach; and from the heights she, too, gazes far out over the tumbling waters; and the fishermen shake their heads and whisper that unless news comes soon she will lose her mind.

From the fatal hour on May 23, that E. E. Easton, the war correspondent and mining man was rescued after his fishing trip in Tony's twenty-five-foot gasoline launch, "Zeus," and reported Tony mysteriously missing, the fishermen of Avalon have been shaking their heads and thinking it over.

It is hard for them to believe that Tony should leave no trace to show how he died, if, indeed, he is dead. There are still some facts that need answering before the last word is said, say these fishermen.

Easton, who is represented as a man of independent means, hired Tony for $50, it is alleged, to take a fishing party to San Clemente, a semi-barren island twenty-five miles southwest of Catalina. On this return trip, according to Easton, Tony mysteriously disappeared; Easton and party drifted for forty-eight hours out of sight of land; and when rescued by the United States supply boat Buffalo, were starving. The Zeus' skiff was picked up off Redondo.

ZEUS RUNS AWAY.

Easton explained that the Zeus had safely made the return from San Clemente, and was anchored in Silver Cañon bay, which is about nine miles from Avalon. Here a stop had been ordered, but Tony was told to go ahead at 2 o'clock in the morning. In the meantime, Easton, his wife, two children and a negro maid, were asleep in the small cabin, waking up to find the Zeus running with Tony missing. Daylight found the party out of sight of land.

Now, the story of "Tony, the Greek," is a tragedy from humble life; a fisherman is lost; a poor, hardworking fisherman, with a wife and family; and the world soon forgets these incidents; forgets, although the wife's grief is as keen as the human heart can hold.

Were Tony the Greek some important person, known to fame and fortune, tens of thousands of dollars would be used in unraveling this tragedy of the sea; but he was only a humble fisherman, whom nobody knew.

Did Tony the Greek really fall overboard? Did this skillful swimmer, this man who knew the winds and the tides, meet death as abruptly as a candle is snuffed out in the night; and no one to tell the tale? The fishermen of Avalon do not believe that Tony was lost at sea; and at least there are facts which have recently come to the surface that merit close examination.

WORKING ON MYSTERY.

Paul Blair, of the Blair Detective Agency, is now on his own responsibility working in the hope of clearing the mystery. He is using the analytical method of Sherlock Holmes; is trying to make the facts fit the circumstances. He has not yet reached his conclusion, but here are some of the questions he wants answered:

(1.) According to the statements of all concerned, Tony was on board the Zeus at 2 o'clock a.m., on the morning of the departure from Silver Cañon.

(2.) If, as alleged, Tony left the launch to take some help off the propeller, and was in the skiff, or tender, and, as alleged, in some unaccountable way, the launch started at full speed, it has now been found that she would not run away, as alleged, but would go round in a circle; and in that event she would not, as alleged, go clean out to sea in the dark, but would, after a short turn, go on the beach. She was but a few hundred feet from shore.

(3.) If Tony was in the skiff he certainly could have caught the launch.

(4.) If he was not in the skiff, how comes it that, when the skiff was found several days later, she was dry inside, and the painter (rope) neatly coiled?

(5.) If he was knocked on the head in some way, and an hour elapsed before he was missed, as alleged, why did those in the boat not hear the terrific thumping of the old-fashioned gasoline engine, whose pulsations are said to be "loud enough to wake the dead?"

These are some of the pointed questions for which Blair is seeking answers, and upon the correct replies as the detective sees it, will come the final answer: "What became of Tony the Greek?"

DETECTIVE MARVELS.

To Blair, it also seems strange that Easton should have gone on board the little launch early in the evening at Silver Cañon and then gone to sleep in the dinky little cabin, ordering Tony to start at 2 o'clock in the morning. The run from Silver Cañon to Avalon is only about nine miles; and the Zeus, slow as she is, could easily make it in an hour and a quarter, thus bringing her passengers in before daylight. On the other hand, Blair contends, it would seem more reasonable that Easton should prefer a berth at the hotel than in the cramped quarters of the Zeus. There were five in the Easton party, and for all these to find resting places in the cabin of a twenty-five-foot launch means that they would suffer much inconvenience—and this in the face of the fact that a comfortable hotel was but an hour's ride away.

The startling discovery that the Zeus, when no one is at her wheel

Park Superintendent Morley submitted a report yesterday recommending a plan for maintaining the "individualism" of each of the city's parks.

On the plaintiff's motion, Judge Monroe yesterday dismissed without prejudice John Barnhardt's suit against the American Golden Eagle Mining and Milling Company to recover $4748, money alleged due.

A jury in Judge James's court yesterday acquitted A. J. Robinson, Ocean Park, of forging the name of A. J. Robinson, Hollywood, to a $294 draft February 20.

Justice Stephens has given judgment in favor of Mrs. Abbie G. Rivers, who filed a replevin suit against T. M. Crum, a San Pedro jeweler, to recover a diamond ring stolen from her and sold to Crum.

AT THE CITY HALL.

MAY CUT OUT FREE LUNCH.

SALOON-KEEPERS ASK COUNCIL FOR ANTI-FOOD LAW.

Would Make it a Penal Offense to Give Away a Near-Meal With a Drink—Will Substitute a Combination Sandwich Which Must Be Paid for.

Now comes the saloon trust with an edict of banishment for the free-lunch counter. The Royal Arch is circulating a petition asking the Council to pass a law making it a penal offense to serve a near-meal with a drink.

The last trace of poetry and romance in the liquor business has been crowded out by sordid commercialism. A valuable market for shelf-worn pretzels and mildewed cheese has been closed. Salted herring stock has fallen away five points.

The "sponge" will be forced to subsist on an all-liquid diet, with the unpleasant alternative of going to work; the proprietor of the beer emporium will buy a couple of new automobiles and a steam yacht.

"Too much competition" is the reason assigned by the saloon-keepers themselves for cutting out the free lunch. They say the strife for business has become so keen that some places give away ten cents' worth of food with a five-cent drink, and the profit on the booze is all devoured on the free-lunch stand.

Petitions have been in circulation among the saloon men for a week. These ask the Council to pass a law that will compel all saloons to abolish the free lunch. The liquor men say that this must be done by ordinance or a few unscrupulous bar-keepers will still maintain the free lunch and the trade of the others will be ruined.

There was never a demand for the cutting out the food until the Council passed an ordinance placing the free-lunch counters under the supervision of the restaurant inspectors.

From time immemorial the stock for the free lunch has been purchased at the remnant counter of the bakeries and the big restaurants. Nothing was ever disqualified by reason of age or previous condition of servitude until the pure-food law took hold. Then the saloon-keepers began to feel the burden of buying real food to give away. They say this is a losing bargain and that until it is discontinued the liquor business itself isn't worth while.

The saloon men propose to replace the free lunch with a combination sandwich which will retail at from five to fifteen cents. The Councilmen are not pleased with the prospect of being called on to administer the final blow to the free-lunch counter; it has come to be regarded as one of our stable institutions. Each legislator realises that a number of his constituents are facing a crisis. The Councilmen are not discussing the proposed prohibitory ordinance; each is willing that public opinion shall express itself pretty thoroughly before the question is taken up seriously as one for legislation.

NEW PARK PLANS.

SUPERINTENDENT HAS VIEWS.

Park Superintendent Morley submitted to the park board yesterday an outline of a general plan for introducing individualism into our park system. He proposes that each park shall be typical of some form of western or semi-tropical natural life. With this end in view he makes a number of recommendations for manner of improvements in the different pleasure grounds.

The superintendent thinks that Westlake Park should assume a tropical garb; to accomplish this he proposes to grub out the big trees and replace them with palms and other tropical vegetation.

He regards Eastlake Park as a flower garden and conservatory and thinks it should be developed along these lines. Echo Park is to be improved as a system of islands and water ways, inclining to the aquatic.

Sycamore Grove is a natural rustic park and nature is to be encouraged along that line.

Elysian Park is a great scenic pleasure garden and its mazes and cosy nooks are to be multiplied.

Griffith Park is nature's wonderland; there the rugged wilderness is to be protected and encouraged; there the wild west is to remain a feature after all the surrounding country has been farmed and cultivated.

The superintendent says that the entire chain of city parks represents what was once worthless land; general-ly alkali marsh or ravines. No other city has made so much out of such unpromising beginnings.

The report which the superintendent presented yesterday is one that he has been preparing for about a year. It deals chiefly with details of changes necessary to bring out the feature of each of the parks. The board accepts this as a "ground plan" for future development.

Bad Attack of Dysentery Cured.

"An honored citizen of this town was suffering from a severe attack of dysentery. He told a friend if he could obtain a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, he felt confident of being cured, having used this remedy in the West. He was told that I kept it in stock and at no time in obtaining it, and was promptly cured," says M. J. Leach, druggist, of Wolcott, Vt.—[Adv.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

LIFE SAVINGS SUNK IN MINE.

AGED NURSERYMAN CANNOT GET HIS MONEY BACK.

Curious Methods of Corporation Management Disclosed by Evidence Offered in Disclaiming Mining Concern's Liability for Note Bearing Its Name.

Though John Barnhart, 78 years old, did not get judgment for $4748 in his suit against the American Golden Eagle Mining and Milling Company for that amount, the trial of the suit before Judge Monroe yesterday disclosed an interesting condition of corporate affairs.

T. D. Allen swore that he has been the corporation's secretary for several years, but that he has never officiated at a directors' meeting. Andrew Peasley swore that he has been the corporation's treasurer for the past six years but that he never handled any of the corporation's money because he has never been given any to handle. The corporation minutes showed that only one directors' meeting was held and that several years ago.

About the only fact of importance elicited about the mining corporation during the trial was the admission of J. W. Homer, the president, that in November, 1903, he gave Barnhart a six months' note for $5000 which has not been paid, and which was the basis of Barnhart's suit.

Homer admitted that he had used the mining corporation's rubber stamp on the note, which bore his name as president, but he and his fellow-officers denied any corporate liability for the note as it was never authorized by the directors of the concern and did not bear the corporate seal.

So far as the minutes showed, the note was contracted by Homer personally and not by the concern, which is said to control a Kern county mine. The court expressed the opinion that Barnhart ought to get his money back, but said that judgment could not be given against the corporation on the showing made. The suit was then dismissed without prejudice on the motion of Barnhart's attorney. Barnhart at once went to the District Attorney to prefer a criminal complaint against Homer for obtaining money under false pretenses.

"In 1902 Homer lived next door to Barnhart's home," said Attorney Trusten P. Dyer, "and began showing my client specimens of ore that Homer said came from his company's mine. He persuaded Barnhart to invest $1500 in the concern's stock, promising to buy it back if he became discontented with the bargain. Later he got him to put more money into the property, until the old man has lost all he had, or about $5000."

After Attorney Dyer left the courtroom, he met Homer in the corridor and denounced him. Homer denied Dyer's charges and swore fluently at him.

"The story that Homer has exerted a hypnotic influence over me is utterly false. I never said so," said Miss Hortense B. Jones, a grand-daughter of Barnhart, who accompanied him to court. "Homer has exerted an unfortunate influence over my grandfather, who is so old that he was easily influenced by this man who has got his money, but he never exerted any influence over me."

HAD SAME NAME.

WRONG MAN GOT DRAFT.

Because A. J. Robinson, Ocean Park, an old soldier from Washington who makes his living selling poetry, bears the same name as A. J. Robinson, a wealthy Indiana manufacturer who lives in Hollywood, the first Robinson stood trial in the Superior Court yesterday on a charge of forgery preferred by the Hollywood Robinson. He was promptly acquitted.

Robinson of Hollywood told the jury that when he first came to Los Angeles some months ago, he had his mail sent to the general delivery for convenience. He drew on the City National Bank of Logansport, Ind., for $294, and the draft was sent to his address at the general delivery, Los Angeles postoffice, arriving February 20.

Robinson of Ocean Park went to the postoffice on that date and received the registered letter containing the draft. It was not until the middle of March that Robinson of Hollywood was informed by his home bank that the draft had been deposited in the Ocean Park bank.

Robinson of Ocean Park told the jury in his own defense that when he received the letter containing the draft he asked the postoffice authorities if there was not some mistake, and was assured by them that he was the only A. J. Robinson on their list. He said he deposited the draft in the Ocean Park bank and wrote to the Indiana bank asking for an explanation. His letter and deposit slip were introduced in evidence. He asserted that he was guilty of no evil intention.

GETS HER RING.

JEWELER SURRENDERS IT.

Through the decision of Justice Stephens in Mrs. Abbie G. Rivers's replevin suit against T. M. Crum, a San Pedro jeweler, to recover a $125 diamond ring, Mrs. Rivers yesterday secured possession of a piece of jewelry that she surrendered to Crum through her ignorance of her legal right to reclaim stolen property from the person in whose possession it is found by the owner.

Some months ago the home of Mrs. Rivers was burglarized by Harry Evans, alias Gilbreth, who got away successfully with fourteen pieces of jewelry, worth over $500, which he sold to jewelers throughout Los Angeles county. Among them was the $125 diamond ring, which Crum bought of Evans for $35. Evans was arrested for another offense, and confessed to the burglary of the Rivers home, telling where he had sold her jewelry. He is now serving a four-year sentence for the offense.

When Mrs. Rivers, accompanied by detectives, went to Crum to get her ring, Crum demanded $35 for it. Instead of paying, she returned the ring, not knowing she had a right to take it without paying. A replevin suit was then instituted by her attorneys, and the ring was delivered. Mrs. Rivers now has recovered all her jewelry.

REACH NO VERDICT.

BARBER JURY LOCKED UP.

"Your honor, we have not been able to agree upon the degree," the foreman of the jury in the Barber murder trial told Judge Wilbur in open court at 9:45 o'clock last evening, when the court had the jury brought in from the jury room to determine whether they could agree upon a verdict.

"I do not care to know anything about that," replied the court, "but it will now be necessary for me to order you locked up for the night. You will have an opportunity to report again at 9 o'clock in the morning."

S. S. Barber, who is accused of fatally stabbing E. B. Tait on March 9, at No. 312 Central avenue, was taken into court in the expectation that the jury had reached a verdict, as the jury asked the court shortly after 9 o'clock for more time in which to finish taking a ballot.

The jury retired at 12:35 o'clock yesterday noon, when the court finished giving instructions. Asst. Dist.-Atty. C. C. McComas occupied the morning session of court in his concluding argument for the people.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

THROWN FROM HORSE. Charging that Edwin Hutchings, a Pasadena liveryman, rented her a dangerous riding mare when she asked for a safe animal, Miss Stella Walters yesterday filed in the Superior Court a $3100 damage suit against Hutchings for injuries sustained by her on May 16. She says she had ridden the animal but a short distance when it bolted, running three miles. Miss Walters then became unconscious and was thrown, sustaining serious injuries to her spine.

RECEIVERSHIP. Asking that a receiver be appointed for the Theater Royal, No. 222 South Main street, Al. G. Flournoy yesterday filed in the Superior Court a suit for an accounting against W. M. Melton, the proprietor. Flournoy says the theater earns from $700 to $1100 weekly, that by an agreement made with Melton June 1, Flournoy is to receive 10 per cent. of the weekly profits, but that Melton refuse to make payments, while creditors threaten to attach the box office receipts.

CHARGES FRAUD. Asserting that J. H. G. Stodden, her agent in real estate deals, has swindled her, Mrs. Sarah M. Gigner yesterday filed in the Superior Court a suit against Stodden to recover $3000. She says that in January, 1907, she traded $2475 worth of real and personal property for a deed to a lot in the Jefferson-street tract that Stodden represented to her was worth $3500. This deed, in March, 1907, she traded again through him for 1500 shares of Solar Furnace and Power Company stock, represented by Stodden to be worth $3000, and soon to be worth $15,000. Again, in November, 1907, she says she traded this stock through Stodden for 6000 shares of Los Angeles Hotel Sanatorium stock. The plaintiff asserts that she has since learned that every one of these deals was fraudulent, and that at the time of the last trade, the Los Angeles Hotel Sanatorium was a defunct concern.

CHANGE NAMES. Asking that their name be changed to Sloto, Isaac Slotowsky, his wife, Mrs. Johanna Slotowsky, and their children, Otto and Julius Slotowsky, yesterday filed in the Superior Court a petition that their family name be changed because it is hard to pronounce, excites race prejudice, and because they desire to conform to the nomenclature of the United States, where they have lived for twenty-two years.

INSANE. Mrs. D. C. Caloo, who was taken from the home of Mrs. E. D. Wilkins, No. 732 West Ninth street, Tuesday night on an insanity complaint sworn out by her husband, D. C. Caloo, was arraigned before the lunacy commission yesterday and her examination was set for June 12, when charges that she was kept a prisoner by Mrs. Wilkins will be investigated.

DISMISSED. Owing to the failure of the complaining witness to appear, Justice Summerfield yesterday dismissed a charge of assault with a deadly weapon lodged against W. V. Johnson by G. W. Thompson, bumboat man with the Pacific fleet, who charged that he had been stabbed by Johnson at Venice, on May 22, in a quarrel over a bill for ice cream.

ASKS PAROLE. Judge Wilbur yesterday continued until next Monday Truman Hubbard's application for parole. Hubbard, who was jointly charged with Otto Blum, pleaded guilty to the embezzlement of F. R. Anderson's team of horses April 15. Blum, who was sentenced to two years on his admission of guilt, testified yesterday that Hubbard instigated the crime. This, Hubbard denies, while Deputy Sheriff Wright gave testimony to the same effect.

NON-SUIT. Judge Conrey yesterday granted Mrs. Hoggatt Clopton a non-suit in Pearle E. Clopton's suit against her to eject her from her home, No. 1069 American avenue, Long Beach.

MEMORIAL VOLUME. The resolutions passed by the Los Angeles Bar Association upon the death of the late Judge B. N. Smith have been engrossed in a unique memorial volume for presentation to the family. The book is bound in black morocco and bears Judge Smith's full name in silver on the cover. The resolutions are engrossed in typewriting on the pages of the volume, which also contains a complete collection of all the published memorial notices on Judge Smith. The book was prepared by the court stenographers, "Larry" Garvin and "Jack" Wright.

EXPLAIN THEIR METHOD.

Employing "Capitalists" Detail Some of Their Business Transactions, Movements and Intentions.

Schley & Schroeder have written a letter to The Times in reference to an article headed "Put Up Coin and Get Job," printed in these columns May 31. Their letter says:

During the early part of December the senior member of the firm of Schley & Schroeder, who is W. C. Schley, formerly of San Francisco, a specialist of skin diseases, opened offices at No. 355 West Fourth street, for the purpose of promoting the sale of certain proprietary preparations of which he was the manufacturer.

Along about the midle of December W. C. Schley employed a lady from Pasadena by the name of Ellen A. Schroeder, whose duty it was to take full charge of the demonstrations in the various drug and department stores of the before-mentioned proprietory preparations. In the early part of January the said Ellen A. Schroeder and W. C. Schley formed a copartnership, and moved into rooms 413-414, Stimson block, where they not only continued the sale of the hereinmentioned preparations, but also dealt in stocks and bonds and promoted meritorious enterprises, under the firm name of Schley & Schroeder.

It is true that on our letterheads and cards we termed ourselves "Capitalists," because we were using our own money; and since the article came out in the Los Angeles Times we have been unable to find that Webster's definition of "capitalist" prescribes any definite sum of money that would be necessary to render a person a "capitalist."

We employed agents and sent them to the surrounding towns to canvass from house to house, and also to demonstrate in stores. As the applicants kept filling our offices in the Stimson block, so that it was next to impossible to conduct any other business, we opened an office on February 24, 1908, at room 208, San Fernando building, and installed therein as manager Frank Witherell, who resides at No. 1011 West Eighth street, this city. Mr. Witherell did not put up a deposit, and we paid Mr. Witherell in full when he was succeeded by a Mrs. E. J. Menzies of No. 150 West Fiftieth street, this city, who agreed to deposit with us, with the understanding that we were to have the use of her money as long as she was in our employ, the sum of $100, and of which she paid on the 6th day of March, 1908, $5, and $40 a day or two later. The balance of $50, which was to have been paid within a few days, we did not exact and never received, and when Mrs. Menzies withdrew from our employment, due to the fact that the patent-medicine business was not paying us, we returned to her her $50 deposit and her wages in full to date. We paid Mrs. Menzies $15 a week, and hold her receipt in full.

On the 11th day of March, 1908, we employed Mrs. Katherine Ferguson of No. 220 South Bunker Hill avenue, Los Angeles, at a salary of $1.50 per day and expenses. She deposited with us the sum of $100 in cash. On March 29, 1908, we paid Mrs. Ferguson in full, returning her $100 deposit, as we have a receipt to show for it. We let Mrs. Ferguson go for the same reason that we did Mrs. Menzies, viz., stagnation of business in the drug line. In the meantime we purchased a restaurant at No. 634 South Main street, and completely overhauled the same, putting in a plate-glass front and other extensive improvements, and termed it the United Restaurant Company—as our intention is to operate a number of restaurants in this city and elsewhere along the same lines as the United Cigar Store Company.

Mrs. Ferguson looked around, and found it impossible to get employment that suited her, and made application to us, along about the 1st of May, 1908, for a position as cashier, proposing that she deposit with us the sum of $150, giving us the use of the money while she was in our employ, and her compensation to be $10 a week and board. We put Mrs. Ferguson to work, as agreed, on the 11th day of May, 1908, at No. 634 South Main street, and she is still in our employ, and is drawing her salary promptly as it becomes due.

On the 25th day of May, 1908, we employed a lady to take charge of the offices of the United Restaurant Company, which we opened in the San Fernando building. She secured for us a loan from her father of $250, for which we gave him a thirty-day promissory note, with a consideration added to the face of same. We gave the young lady our regular form of agreement, with the understanding that she was to pay in the money to us with which to take up the note from her father as soon as she disposed of her equity in a piece of property in East Los Angeles. The young lady is still in our employ, likes her position, and is receiving her salary promptly.

On June 1, 1908, we employed a young lady as book-keeper, and she has given us $100 in gold, of which we are to have the use as long as she is in our employ, and 500 shares of stock, which we took from her at the price of $150.

We have also a stenographer in our offices at the Stimson block, who has been in our employ since the latter part of February, 1908. She has never furnished us any money, and we have paid her promptly every week.

Our books are open for inspection, and we defy anybody to produce any valid claims due against us, or any person from whom we have taken $250 deposit, or any other sum, as The Times stated, and kept them a week and fired them and defrauded them out of their money. We also defy any one to produce the angry creditors that The Times stated have been besieging our Stimson block offices for several weeks prior to Sunday, May 31, 1908. And we also deny that our offices are meagerly furnished and kept in readiness for a hasty flight. We want the people of Los Angeles to understand that we have come to stay; that W. C. Schley was a substantial business man with a first-class commercial rating in San Francisco up to the time of the earthquake, and that his business transactions with the largest wholesale drug houses in San Francisco have always been straightforward and up to agreement; that Miss Ellen A. Schroeder has lived in Pasadena for the past three years, where she has a host of friends. Both members of the firm own real estate and other valuable assets, and are perfectly solvent.

INTERESTING LAWN FETE.

An interesting lawn fete is to be given for the benefit of St. Matthias Episcopal Church Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock at the residence of A. W. Morgan, No. 1910 West Twenty-fifth street. Constance Hunn Hunter, Majorie Ordway, Josephine Leavitt, Grace Mungen, Winifred Dowling, Gladys Oldershaw, Evelyn Kerner, Adelia Lovinguth, Ruth Lovinguth, Katherine Pratt, Helen Spencer, Merlam Spencer, Myrtle Penfield, Gwendolin Baker, Irene Clayton, Ruth Franzen and Mildred Eyrick, little girls of the Sunday-school, will give a May-pole dance. The garden at the Morgan residence is large, and a strolling quartette, composed of students at Occidental College, will furnish music. A rose arbor at one end of the garden will be used as an ice cream booth and will be presided over by Mrs. Bullen, assisted by Miss Elsie Harris, Miss Myrtle Baker, and Miss Margaret Bullen. A long pergola against the back of the house will be converted into a tea room, which will be managed by Mrs. L. W. Morgan and Mrs. Billings. The candy booth will be in charge of Mrs. A. M. Smith, assisted by Miss Duane, and Miss Doris Hudson will serve punch.

This is not alone the work of the machine department, but it proves the practicability of the training. The drawings and patterns are made by the students. The foundry work is done elsewhere on account of the length of time taken to cast, and with the return of the cast the students fall to work in completing their models. The technical points involved can best be surmised by mechanics.

Lathes and other implements, such as drills and chisels, are also turned out beside the regular course of graduated models that must be made for experience and practice.

This year the forging shops have the most attractive display ever presented. The work in andirons, both of solid and rolled iron, is far above that turned out heretofore. The stock work or exercises are up to the usual standard. The student turned out of lar feature is in the charcoal and crayon lines. A great portion of the work has been out of doors this year and studies show the character and artistic eye of the students. The work is graduated so that crayon is combined with charcoal as the student advances and finally work in water colors is taught. Some striking drawings are shown. Sketches and copies in pen and ink are more attractive than usual this year. The beginners' work in pencil sketching shows the possibilities of the first year to good advantage.

In clay modeling a number of studies from life appear, as well as reproductions. Although small the exhibit is of merit.

In "handicraft," which was introduced for the first time about two years ago, several interesting articles have been produced. The study is in hammered brass, copper and iron, the idea being to conceive originality in the design. department. Several of the students will be seen at work in this department today and tomorrow.

In the domestic science department, the young women of the school will serve refreshments throughout the day, although the experiments of the girls will not be open to the masculine visitors. Punch and cookies will be served to all visitors.

In domestic art, dressmaking and millinery work, many pretty frocks and hats, not Merry Widows, are to be seen. These are all the work of the girls and of special interest to the mothers, sisters and other feminine visitors. Some of the gowns are "simply stunning," according to the verdicts of the best judges of this art. Other work of the department will also be on exhibition.

Besides the departments which require work of the hands, the other courses will be explained to all visitors. Specimens in biology, geology, English composition, mathematical problems and general commercial work will be seen.

Throughout the exhibition is one of general interest on account of its standard quality. When it is considered that the work of the student for a year must cover from one to three or four regular High School subjects besides special work in art and domestic science and industrial training, the exhibition must impress one as exceptional.

A glance over the register shows students from many parts of the world—from St. Paul, Minn., Herbst, Ind., Pittsfield, Ill., Wayne, Neb., Tempe and Hackberry, Ariz., Carbondale, Colo., Bird Island, Minn., Wilton Junction, Iowa, Minneapolis, Minn., Brooklyn, N. Y., Billings, Mont., Manhattan, Nev., Cleveland, O., Toronto, Can., Agana, Island of Guam, Tuxpam, Vera Cruz, Mex., Camden, N. Y., Berlin, Germany, Wessington Springs, S. D., Sandy, Nev., Myrtle Point, Or., Boston, Mass., Seattle, Wash., Oitaken, Japan, and Edger, Arevan, Russia.

The faculty of Throop Institute consists of thirty-six skilled instructors who have completed one of the most prolific year's work in the history of the institute.

The exhibition will open at noon today and close this evening at 9 o'clock, opening tomorrow at 9 o'clock and closing at 9 o'clock in the evening.

In woodshop, the exhibit is universally good. The tables, of oak, mahogany and pine, show excellent joinery and strength and character in design. Big mission clocks, bookracks, stands and inviting morris chairs are on display.

The wood-carving department is exhibiting some fine original chests, tables and chairs. This work is one of the most attractive exhibits on account of its quality. Every piece of furniture would be an addition to any home.

In the mechanical drawing department the display will show the routine work of the students and its aim. Before each student completes his course, one of the requirements is to draw plans, elevations and specifications for a complete house. Considerable work this year has been toward developing the student in practical drawings of both machinery and structural work. The drawings are of a nature to show the course pursued by the student from the first-year exercises to the original work.

when it can't digest any other food. That's because the crisp flakes of whole wheat are thoroughly mixed with the saliva and other digestive fluids, and because the starch in the wheat is converted into dextrine by barley-malt, thereby relieving your intestines of the hardest part of their work.

"FORCE" is made of the best white wheat, steam-cooked, rolled into thin flakes, combined with the purest barley-malt and baked. Always "crisp" it before serving it by pouring into a pan and warming it in oven. Editorial Pen Points

It is Raisuli's business and not Raisuli that appears to be dead.

The rivers of the Middle West are subsiding, but Mr. Bryan is so different from a river.

The next thing in order is the farewell address of Gen. Foraker to the colored troops.

It is surprising how much pleasure the Czar appears to get out of life between bombs.

It was the tuft of Taft that the allies were after, but they whetted the scalping knives in vain.

However other people may feel, the small boy is preparing to rejoice. School will soon be out.

By an elaborate use of the sheath gown, lovely woman may be able to divide attention with politics.

The sweet girl graduate's next step will be to graduate into the arms of a good husband, we hope.

Anyway, John Hays Hammond could easily spend a month's salary on the campaign and not miss it.

If Mr. Cortelyou is not nominated for the Vice-Presidency, he will just naturally slip into some other office.

The brewers object to the vicious features of the saloon. But they are still in favor of the saloons selling beer.

All that now seems to disturb the slumbers of the dove of peace is the noise of the wheels in the gun factories.

The manager of the Knox boom has arrived in Chicago. He probably has the boom with him in his vest pocket.

Perhaps the reason farmers take such an interest in politics is because they are the best able to live without it.

Now that nails are down to about $1.95, the chances are that the suggestion to open a keg will become more popular.

Unless the Kaiser knows why the Czar and King Edward are together in the Gulf of Finland that old saber will start to rattle again.

We trust that George Knight will not neglect to edge up his voice with extract of the California lemons, which is the best voice tonic on earth.

Just as likely as not, the Democratic donkey will boost Taft's popularity throughout the entire campaign with the bray that he is "Roosevelt's man."

John Hays Hammond says he will run his campaign for the Vice-Presidency without any brass bands. Right there is where John loses the bazoo vote.

The delegates should not fail to take into consideration that John Hays Hammond is familiarly known as "Jack" among his other claims to popularity.

We are somewhat surprised to note the absence of a mention of the Merry Widow hat in the outlines of the platforms of either of the political parties.

Gov. Johnson is said to be looking forward to 1912. It is expected that the Swede vote will be much more respected then than it is at the present time.

The reports indicate that the Shah has destroyed the Persian constitution. He probably thinks it is better for his subjects to depend on their own constitutions.

The Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad being reported on the sick list, the services of Dr. Harriman will doubtless be required without much further delay.

When the thin mountain air of Denver and the hot Democratic air of the convention collide there is likely to be something resembling a thunder and lightning storm.

We suppose that, as usual, Mr. Bryan's own state, his own county, his own ward and his own precinct are preparing to return the customary majorities against him.

The country hasn't the courage to contemplate the fearful possibility of the La Follette boom being headed off from reaching Chicago by the floods in the Middle West.

Besides electing Mr. Taft, it will also be the duty of the country this year to prevent the tariff from falling into the hands of the piratical successors of the late Prof. Wilson.

In checking up our news synopsis we have discovered the fact that Walsh, Ryan, Morse, Heinze, and those other big financiers who were to be sent to jail, are still at large and apparently happy.

The Chicago platform has already made a noise that evidently suits everybody but the Democrats. The campaign will not really liven up until John W. Gates gets ready to bet a million on the result.

The sheath gown is not likely to make much progress, after all. It is sufficiently stunning, and all that, but there are too many fat women and too many girls whose feet are not as small as they might be.

As a result of the operations of the Kentucky night riders the tobacco farmers of that part of the country are paying off their mortgages. In the meantime, the tobacco trust is thinking up something new.

WHISKY AND WILL POWER.

Until recently the attempt to stem the tide of prohibition has been left almost entirely to the retailers of alcoholic beverages. The "big bugs"—the brewers and distillers—have held themselves loftily above all such petty squabbles, and have continued to reap big profits and build up fortunes. Now, however, matters are getting serious, and the manufacturers, as well as the dispensers of the "casus belli," are beginning not only to sit up and take notice, but to take off their coats and prepare for a scrimmage. Among other things, the big brewers and distillers have been coming to the conclusion that they should unite for the purpose of elevating the tone of the saloon. It is somewhat to be regretted that it did not occur to them to take this course before their interests were threatened. Their attitude would then have appealed more to the great mass of the population—the people who are neither proscriptive nor prohibition, but are temperate.

One of the curious arguments advanced recently by a well-known brewer is that, should prohibition prevail, there would be grave danger of imperiling the will power of the nation. He urges that if men did not have to rely on their will power they, as a nation, must confess defeat, having to wear a strait-jacket to make up for their lack of character. They would no longer have a chance to choose between right and wrong.

This appears to be rather a weak argument, and one that will scarcely bear analyzing. Supposing this idea were carried out to its logical extreme, we should then find it necessary to provide at points of convenient access to all our large cities, gambling games of various kinds, gold brick agents, sirens of the street, and other seductive invitations to the baser side of human nature, in order that the American people might have an opportunity to develop their will power and strength of character.

God knows there are temptations enough displayed along the broad highway on which poor humanity trudges from the cradle to the grave. There is surely no crying necessity for the destruction of fences that guard the wayfarers from the ditches, but rather for the keeping of them in good repair.

THE WESTWARD TREND.

The possibility of the nomination of Senator Dolliver as Taft's running mate has at least one striking significance, which is that the trend of the nation is strongly toward the West. The States on the Atlantic seaboard still regard Ohio as a Western State, and, of course, Iowa is really western.

The situation is not only significant, but portentous. It shows that the country has grown great clear to its farthest fringe. It is only a few years ago that the West was not seriously considered beyond the old West, which was Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Now the Middle West is a factor that must be reckoned with, absolutely. Soon California and the entire Pacific Coast, which President Roosevelt called the country "west of the West," will be insistent with demands that must be listened to.

It is none too early, therefore, for California to begin to rear men for the Presidency. Let the mark be set shining in the political skies at once. Let the Golden State say to the youth of the commonwealth that she expects every one of them to grow into the stature of a nation's Chief Executive.

A SWEET-SCENTED INDUSTRY.

There is one profitable rural industry that seems to be particularly well adapted to Southern California, the land of flowers, but has so far attracted little attention, and then only of a passing kind, without any practical results. This is the manufacture of perfume from flowers, which grow so abundantly in this favored section that it is a common sight to see solid acres of calla lilies, tuberoses and other delicate blossoms. Within a few miles of the city of Los Angeles is a solid field of three hundred and fifty acres of sweet peas, including one hundred and fifty varieties.

In the south of France, on the Riviera, in a climate that has frequently been compared with that of Southern California, although it is inferior, there is a great industry, giving employment to thousands upon thousands of men, women and children. The immensity of the flower harvest, which gives occupation to a whole army of men, women and children, is surprising. This begins in February, with the violet. In March and April, hyacinth and jasmine follow. The pickers return at evening carrying bags crammed with the orange flower, the streets along which they pass being filled with penetrating fragrance. The nights at this season of the year are not easily forgotten. One sleeps in air charged with the scent of orange blossoms.

The little city of Grasse is the headquarters of the perfumery business. Distilling goes on all the year round, the total output, in Grasse, for a single season being 5,840,000 kilograms (about 6000 tons.) Of this, 2,000,000 kilograms are orange-flower, 1,200,000 jasmine, and 1,500,000 roses; and 400,000 kilograms of violets are also gathered.

The process of manufacturing the perfume from the flowers is exceedingly simple. The petals are sprinkled thickly on grease composed of melted beef and pork fat—a most unpoetical birthplace for a delicate perfume—and these are piled up until the perfume has been extracted by the natural process of absorption. For more delicate perfume, olive oil, which is a local product, replaces fat.

Cassia is largely cultivated, and is used as a base of compound scents. Patchouli leaves, sandalwood and other bases are treated by ordinary distillation. The foregoing processes yield raw products, which are sold by wholesale all over the world. The retail trade is extensive, but secondary. During the rose season, a hundred tons of rose leaves are handled monthly in Grasse, and equally large quantities of other flowers in season. The attar of rose is the most costly production, one gram requiring forty-eight pounds of rose leaves. Neroli, an oil product of the orange-flower, comes next in dearness.

From time to time during the past half-century sporadic efforts have been made in California to establish the floral perfumery business, but apparently none of these efforts have been conducted on a large and practical scale, so as to give the industry a fair trial. Not long ago a visiting expert declared that there would be much more profit in an acre of orange groves, the blossoms being utilized for the manufacture of perfume, than in the sale of the fruit, even at prevailing high prices. Then, again, there is a vast amount of blossom that goes to waste in the orange groves in the ordinary course of events, without interfering with the fruit crop.

This certainly seems to be a subject that is worthy of more consideration than has hitherto been devoted to it. It is one of those acceptable industries that do not involve smoke, or strikes, or smell—that is to say, not unpleasant smells.

Nothing else is required to make plain the silliness of Populistic and socialistic experiments in politics, than the situation in Oregon. Imagine a solidly Republican Legislature being compelled to elect a Democrat to the United States Senate. Piffle!

The socialists look forward to the time when all the commercial interests of the United States will be controlled by one big trust, and that then the government will own that trust. We do not advise anybody, however, to expect this to come to pass within the next sixty or ninety days.

THE DUEL

THEY WANT THE EARTH.

Among the noisiest clamorers for reciprocity and tariff revision are the agricultural-implement members of the National Association of (Free Trade) Manufacturers. They have a monopoly of the home market and a rapidly-increasing foreign trade without reciprocity, but they want the earth, no matter what other American manufacturing industries would be injured if their selfish policies should prevail. Here are the official figures of our exports of agricultural implements in 1897, the last low-tariff fiscal year, and in the protective tariff years since:

1898	9,073,384
1899	13,504,524
1900	15,979,909
1901	16,714,308
1903	22,051,805
1904	21,654,892
1905	22,124,312
1906	24,744,762
1907	25,507,272
1908 (ten months)	20,520,245

These figures show a marvelous increase under the present protective tariff—practically fivefold—all to the benefit of these manufacturers and the people who work for them. So well protected is the American market for agricultural implements that imports thereof only amount to about $25,000 a year in value—just a mere fraction of the value of our exports in the same line.

In November, 1901, Secretary Wilson said, in a speech in Iowa: "Reciprocity may become the assassin of our protective policy by admitting to our markets what we do produce that needs protection for the purpose of getting new markets for some of our products that no longer require any favors." The National Association of (Free Trade) Manufacturers did not reply to this remark of Secretary Wilson.

Speaking at the Home Market Club dinner at Boston, on April 2, 1903, Secretary Root said: "If a law is working well as a whole, and the community is prosperous under it, common sense requires that we shall endure some faults, even though they be serious, rather than destroy the general good result by constant tinkering."

Grant an "open door" for general tariff revision downward (and that is what the Democratic and some Republican opponents of protection really want,) and who can tell what the result will be?" The "friends of protection" could not control it. Democrats and free-trade "Republicans" would vote to reduce every duty protectionists would propose, and reduction would win every time.

That is the danger, but The Times has confidence that the election next November will return enough real Republicans and real "friends of protection" to prevent the door being opened wide for indiscriminate and hasty tariff revision downward. Some few schedules will probably be reduced, and some other will, as probably, be increased. The cardinal principle of protection to American industries and American labor will not be slaughtered by the hands of its friends, and its enemies will not be strong enough to inflict much, if any damage.

WOMAN AND A POLITICAL YEAR.

"I hate to look at a newspaper in a Presidential year, it is so loaded with politics," says one of the enthusiastic women lovers of The Times, doubtless voicing the sentiments of thousands of her sex.

The Times is far from an inclination or desire to treat its fair, good friends with lack of consideration or respect. The sanctum knows exactly how the women folks feel on this subject, and the knowledge is not of today or yesterday, but of years. There never comes a Presidential election that The Times does not put on its worry cap, wondering how to meet the demands of its men readers for all the political news and gossip that's going, and yet not "overload" the paper with that sort of thing to the displeasure of its women readers.

There are two ways out of the dilemma, and The Times has come to the conclusion to adopt both ways, as has been its habit in years past, when the great American man felt upon himself the necessity of saving the country by either continuing the Republicans in power or changing matters by placing a copper-riveted Democrat in the chair where Andrew Jackson once sat, when he wasn't mad as a hornet and pacing the White House floor.

The two ways in question are as follows, namely, to wit: To make the political news so interesting, spicy, entertaining and altogether absorbing that even a woman will eagerly devour it, and to also see to it that an extraordinary amount of reading matter appealing to women, outside of politics, gets into the paper.

These have been the means resorted to by The Times on former occasions, and they have been found to work like Egyptian charms, or even better. We dare say that by the time the conventions are over our women readers will be head and shoulders in the political columns and as busy as bees trying to keep up with the other good things provided for them in the biggest newspaper in the world.

DAME FASHION.

The fashion critics seem to say,
"The new 'sheath gowns' have come to stay."
So what are we poor girls to do?
Please let us wear a skirt or two!
Quotes Dame Fashion,
"Nothing more."

We women folks will look a fright
In gowns that fit so very tight.
We like our frills and ruffles best.
Please grant us just this one request!
Quotes Dame Fashion,
"Never more."

Dame Fashion seems to be severe.
She says that "Lines are straight this year."
It's going to take a lot of nerve.
Allow us just one graceful curve!
Quotes Dame Fashion,
"Never more."

Perhaps these gowns are quite complete,
And some of us may look so sweet,
But Miss Samantha Mary Hill
Will draw a crowd, I know she will!
Quotes Dame Fashion,
"Ever more."

It doth require intelligence
To find just where these gowns commence;
Their leaving off is very plain.
Subtract, divide, what doth remain?
Quotes Dame Fashion,
"Nothing more."

HOROSCOPE.

Thursday, June 11, 1908.

As in a shining court, arrayed in light,
The courtier planets gather, shedding might.

On this 163rd day the stars assume an intricate interposition that makes for singular force and promise in all the undertakings of earth.

Venus is in parallel declination with the sun and Uranus, and the moon is in sextile with Uranus and in trine aspect with Neptune, both being planetary positions that have been held always extraordinarily good since the beginning of astrology.

Mercury, Mars and Uranus are in benefic aspect with the moon.

There is but one really unfavorable indication this day. It lies over enterprises that depend primarily on the speculative element, or need the happy issue of speculative chances to arrive at success. The signs are poor.

Selling or buying of commodities is under a flashing sign of promise, especially in the early hours.

An excellent day for traveling, seeking work and signing papers.

Deal with writers, printers, lawyers, sculptors, ministers, craftsmen, butchers, sheriffs and peace officers, tailors, engineers and students of uncommon subjects.

An excellent day for consulting surgeons, dentists, oculists and chemists.

The woman whose birth date this is may have the leadership in a spiritual movement thrust upon her. August will be her lucky month.

Speculation and other financial risks will not prove wise for the man with this birth date. Otherwise a prosperous year seems assured, especially for those in employment.

The girl born today will be generous to a fault.

The boy born this day will be quick, clever and rather successful in his career. His results will depend greatly upon his right choice of profession or business.

OREGON AND THE FEDERAL CONSTITUTION.

[From the Denver Republican.]

The fathers who framed the Constitution of the United States were as able and patriotic a body of men as ever assembled to make history. In that undertaking they labored not for the day or the year, but for the years to come. Their work has stood the test of time. Few amendments have been required to that inspired instrument, and the last change was made more than thirty years ago. In their wisdom and foresight the framers of the Constitution, after memorable debate, provided that the Senate should be chosen in a manner different from the election of the House. The upper body was to be a check upon the other, and to give the nation time to think before final decision on important questions.

It is proposed to undo the intent of the Federal Constitution by underhand means.

Oregon has taken the foreground in seeking to dodge the parental instrument. But Oregon is odd in other respects. It is in a transitional state, expecting, like other commonwealths and communities, to be saved by "isms." It is enjoying a spate of paternalism. Through its primary law, its initiative and referendum and power of recall, and what not, it would reach the ultima thule by a short cut over Mount Hood. In the recent campaign there was submitted to the voters from the Secretary of State an official document containing 126 pages of printed matter, [illegible] been raised by all the bountiful State.

15c Zephyr Ginghams, 10c

You can't see these unusually pretty ginghams without imagining at once a pretty play dress for some youngster. And save a third their usual cost, into the bargain!

It happened this way—a manufacturer from whom we have never bought goods, sent us a case, which, of course, we had not ordered. Rather than to have us return the ginghams, he made us a price on them; and as we saw that in every respect they are equal to fifteen-cent ginghams—in quality, pattern, etc., we have kept this case, to sell to you, while the lot lasts, at..... 10c

Plain colors in plenty; stripes, broken and even checks and pretty plaids in all sorts of neat color combinations; colors fast, of course.

Children's $1.75 Sweaters, 75c

You'll know some little boy or girl whom you'd like to see inside of one of these pretty sweaters. For beach wear, or extra slip-on wraps, they're really indispensable; cute as can be, too:

A little lot, in sizes for babies of six months up to four-year-old youngsters, white with blue or red collars and cuffs; a few colored ones, as well, but not many; in a variety of slip-over and buttoned styles, with high or V-neck; formerly $1.75; this little lot free to go at 75c

Black Voiles Novelty Wools 75c

To see the window display of handsome wool goods is to buy, at such a little price as they now bear:

Stripes, little invisible plaids, checks and diagonals, in 50-inch width, taken from our regular stocks, and reduced just because they're ends of favorite lines of this spring's purchases; specially priced at 75c

Black Voiles, 75c

Every woman who knows voiles at all, knows that, ordinarily, a good quality can't be bought for less than $1 a yard. Just five pieces came to us far below usual price; imported, crisp weave, in lustrous black, and worth double today's special price of 75c

We make to measure skirts of all styles and tailored suits, at remarkably little prices. Details at the Wool Goods Section.

Good Hosiery
Staple and Fancy

All the staple sorts of hosiery that every good store keeps, and many of the rather out-of-the-usual shades and textures, too; as well as out sizes in complete assortment:

At a dollar a pair we sell black, white and colored silk hose for which you'd be charged $1.50 nearly anywhere else.

Black lisle stockings, solid, or black with split white foot; good 75c values, specially priced at 50c

Copenhagen, champagne, garnet, russet and other shades which you can't obtain in all stores, here in plenty.

Out sizes in lisle thread hose in champagne, navy, tan, black, white and gray, lace boot or black embroidered. Plain silks in tan, white and black, in out sizes.

Buy Black Silks Now

The wonder is that these splendid black silks should be reduced at all; in fact, many stores take the attitude that as black silks are staple, and people have to have them anyway, it's folly to offer them at less than established prices:

That's not the Coulter way; our idea of a bargain is a wanted article at less than other stores ask, whenever it is possible. So we take these silks from regular stocks, and simply lower our own regular reasonable prices, for a short time, as follows:

36-in. Stirling taffeta; $2.00 grade $1.75
36-in. Stirling taffeta; $2.25 grade $2.00
30-in. taffeta; $1.00 grade 85c
27-in. Peau de soie; $1.50 grade $1.25
27-in. Peau de soie; $1.75 grade $1.50
36-in. Peau de soie; $2.25 grade $2.00
36-in. Peau de soie; $2.00 grade $1.80
Other grades which can't get mention.

Large Church Wedding.

THE wedding last evening of Miss Marion Churchill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Churchill of No. 2701 South Figueroa street, to David McCartney, added another bright star to this season's memories. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Eli McClish in the First Presbyterian Church, which was beautifully decorated with Bermuda lilies and potted palms. The balcony was festooned with asparagus ferns, and, hanging from the edge, were many rustic baskets filled with trailing vines.

Duchesse lace empire creation made en-train. A long tulle veil was worn and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Gertrude Churchill, who attended her sister as maid of honor, wort an elaborate gown of white chiffon over dark yellow satin. This was made empire effect with full train and trimmings of oval lace. She carried an arm bouquet of maidenhair ferns with a shower of yellow gauze and Spanish bloom. The four maids, Miss Barnetta Norton, Miss Ally Olshausen, Miss Elsie Knecht and Miss Fanny Rowan were attired in yellow satin gowns of different shades. In their hair they wore yellow and gold aigrettes and carried showers of white sweet peas with butterfly bows of yellow tulle.

Fred McCartney supported his brother as best man, and the ushers were Augustus Jackson of Hollywood, Robert Fulton, Pierpont Davis, Owen Pickerell, Fred Rowan and Cornelius Pendleton, Jr. Owen Churchill, the bride's small brother, acted as page. The wedding marches at the church were played by Miss O'Donoughue and Arend's orchestra played for the reception, which was held at the Ebell clubhouse, following the service at the church.

The reception room was a mass of yellow and white blossoms. Spanish bloom was arranged in a bower effect in one end of the room and a number of white doves were suspended over the blossoms. The bridal table was ornamented with a fern-bordered mirror on which rested a low bouquet of lilies of the valley. Yellow shaded candelabra at each end, and slippers tied with bows of yellow tartatan filled with bonbons also added to the attractiveness of the scene. Places were marked with miniatures done by the hostess. Souvenirs for the bridal party were concealed in tiny cakes in white boxes tied with yellow. Places at the bridal table were laid for Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Churchill, Mrs. Nora McCartney, Miss Pearl Churchill, of San Diego, and members of the bridal party. The court was canopied with fairy lights and wisteria. Around the sides, flowering plants and potted palms formed an effective background. In the auditorium, where dancing was enjoyed, lights were subdued with yellow chrysanthemum shades, and garlands of asparagus plumosus partly covered the walls. The stage was a mass of green, foliage and ferns being combined.

At the conclusion of a five-months' tour of Europe Mr. and Mrs. McCartney will make their home in this city.

Levis-Hellman Nuptials.

Miss Reta Levis, daughter of Leon Levis of Visalia, was married last evening at Hotel Alexandria to Marco H. Hellman, a prominent banker and clubman of Los Angeles, son of the late H. W. Hellman. Miss Amy Hellman, the groom's sister, in a Parisian gown of pale green chiffon cloth elaborately embroidered, with trimmings of gold and fillet lace, assisted as maid of honor, and the Misses Florence Marx of Los Angeles, Amy Kahn of Oakland and Jessica Epstein of San Francisco, acted as maids. They were garbed in pretty gowns of pink chiffon cloth, lace trimmed. The bride wore white silk tulle over white satin embroidered in silver and trimmed with rose point. She carried a graceful shower bouquet of white orchids. Irving H. Hellman was best man. Following the ceremony, which was in charge of Rabbi S. Hecht of Temple B'nai B'rith, a wedding supper was served. Elaborate decorations of choice flowers and greenery arranged by Herr Reichl ornamented the banquet-room. There were many guests from out of town, relatives of the bride and groom. At the conclusion of their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Hellman will receive their friends at Hotel Alexandria.

ANXIOUS DEPOSITORS.

Creditors of Carlson's Little Consolidated Bank Await With Misgivings His Promised Return.

William H. Carlson, president of the Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles, will not reach this city before Monday, according to a message received by his attorneys yesterday. Carlson is somewhere in New Mexico or Texas, but his friends and representatives are unable to state just exactly where. The attorneys say that Carlson's assets far exceed his liabilities, but the bank commissioners, who have been unable as yet to determine the amount of the liabilities, have their doubts.

The doors of the Consolidated Bank were not opened on time yesterday and a crowd of depositors stood on the sidewalk in front of the Broadway concern and waited impatiently for news from the missing banker.

They received no news. The promise made by Carlson in a telegram to Los Angeles, Tuesday night, was read to some of the depositors, but they did not appear happy. They looked at their little bankbooks and then at the little bank, with its tiny savings boxes and cornstalk decorations, and shook their heads and walked away.

According to the statements of Carlson's business acquaintances, the affairs of the bank and the affairs of the realty business conducted by the president, are so interwoven that it is a difficult matter to separate the liabilities of the one from the other.

The bank, according to Carlson's telegraphic report to his attorneys, holds securities to the amount of $150,000. The investigators state that most of the securities are the personal notes of President Carlson.

At the Carlson home, little is known or disclosed as to the banker's whereabouts. The members of the family refuse to talk about the case, but state that Carlson is expected in Los Angeles next Monday. All business questions are referred to the attorneys representing him.

CUP DRILL POSTPONED.

Competitive Event Will Be in July. Hospital Corps of Seventh Regiment Coming Here.

The competitive drill of the companies of the First Battalion, Seventh Regiment, N.G.C., for the Wankowski cup, ordered for last evening, was postponed until July. The monthly battalion drill took place, however, with Companies A, C and F using the new Springfield rifles and equipment.

On account of the resignation of Maj. Bruner, who has been in command of the Hospital Corps, the headquarters of that corps will be removed from Santa Ana to Los Angeles, with Maj. Paul A. Adams, regimental surgeon, in command. The Hospital Corps affords a good opportunity for sixteen good, clean men of from 18 to 45 years of age to acquire a good education and valuable experience in the line of treatment of wounds and injuries, use of antiseptics, and hospital service without expense. Uniforms and all necessary equipment is furnished by the State, with a pay of the regular army during encampments.

The regiment is diligently preparing for the encampment at Atascadero next October, where the whole State guard will assemble for joint maneuvers with the regular army.

Principal Housh of the High School will leave with party on European tour June 27. A few more can join the party if arrangements are made this week.—[Adv.

COMPLETE INSTITUTION.

The new home of the Y.W.C.A. is one of the best of its kind. Every feature which possibly could facilitate the carrying on of the work of the association has been incorporated and no expense was spared in the effort to bring the whole up to a high plane of perfection.

The ground floor contains the dining-room, a spacious apartment capable of seating as many as will ever have occasion to enter it.

On the second floor is a large lobby, out of which open the offices of the general and business secretaries, the library and the large auditorium. Adjoining the auditorium is a check-room.

The third floor is given up to the gallery of the auditorium, and the offices of the educational, Bible extension and employment branches of the association work.

On the fourth floor are the senior club rooms, restroom, physical director's office, measuring-room and a large gymnasium with dressing rooms adjoining.

On the fifth floor are lockers and shower baths, dressing rooms, junior club and millinery rooms, and the entrance to the gallery of the gymnasium.

On the sixth floor is the music-room, art studio, lecture rooms, class rooms and camera rooms.

The seventh floor is occupied by the conversational gallery, board and members' rooms, dining-room, domestic science kitchen, territorial offices and class rooms.

The eighth floor is given up entirely to light, airy office rooms.

The corner-stone of the building was laid on May 5, 1907. Arthur B. Benton designed the structure. The Building Committee, which has had entire charge of the construction, is composed of: Mrs. Z. D. Mathus, Mrs. E. J. Marshall, Mrs. D. K. Edwards, Mrs. Gail B. Johnson, Valentine Peyton and Homer Laughlin.

He played on all the athletic teams, and three times represented the institution in intercollegiate oraticals. HELP FOR THE BOYS.

Uriah Gregory Hospital Dedicated at McKinley Home—Generous Citizens Make Donations.

With appropriate and impressive ceremonies the Uriah Gregory Hospital was dedicated yesterday at the McKinley Boys' Industrial Home. The Hospital was built through the efforts of the Women's Auxiliary, and was yesterday turned over to the trustees of the home free of debt. In order to do this it was necessary to provide for $600 yet outstanding, and this was done by taking a subscription before the dedicatory ceremonies were held.

The opening address was made by D. E. Luther, general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, after which Mrs. G. A. Bobrick, president of the auxiliary, spoke of the unselfish work being done by the home, and closed by presenting the hospital to the association. It was received by Valentine Peyton, president of the trustees. The dedicatory address followed by Dr. Hugh K. Walker, whose appreciative talk went straight to the hearts of the boys of the home, and was fully as pleasing to the large audience of ladies and gentlemen who had assembled for the ceremonies. The exercises closed with the laying of a corner-stone by R. T. Drew, builder of the hospital, and the singing of "America" by the boys.

Many persons, observing the needs of the home, came forward with offers of various practical improvements. Abner Ross will construct a much-needed swimming pool, and M. H. Whittier will erect a pumping plant. The needs of the institution so appealed to Gail B. Johnson some time ago, that he made a donation of $4000 to further its plans, and this has never before been announced.

test yesterday, and brought so much business experience with her that every contestant will have to look out for Anna May Elliston of Gardena. She will not have to be shown, either, though she is from Missouri, for she will show others what she has learned in her own little confectionery shop in Gardena, where she conducts her business. Miss Elliston is only 17, with all this worldly wisdom behind her, but she is picked to win by Gardena, and by friends in Glendale, and by many loyal Missourians, who will rally to her support.

SCHOOLBOYS AND GIRLS.

Pupils of a number of grammar schools in the city, who are ready to graduate, are entering The Times scholarship contest, and it may be nip and tip between several of the large schools for their favored little racers. Urban Myers, who entered yesterday, is from the largest grammar school in Los Angeles, the Ninth street. He is not yet 14 years of age, but knows how to plan for his heart's desire, a course at Throop Institute. His teacher signed his application blank, and Urban has a number of trails laid for future investigation. His father, who is now 74 years old, was a friend of the martyred President, James A. Garfield, and was present upon the occasion of his marriage to Mrs. Garfield, many, many years ago, in Ohio. He was also a pupil of both Garfield and his wife.

Sentous school is represented by Teresa Camp, age 12, who entered yesterday, and came with blank book in hand, and several fine promises for the future recorded therein. Sixteenth-street school has an ambitious candidate in Carl D. Randau, the German lad, who has entered for an electrical course. Little Ramona Carter represents Alpine-street school, and Hazel Pastor is the only representative up to date from the Los Angeles High school. A smiling colored girl, Myrtle Elgin, came yesterday, recommended by Frank A. Bouelle, principal of one of the large city schools. Myrtle is very anxious for piano lessons, and she has the musical sense of her race to an unusual degree.

DIRECTIONS.

The date of the opening of the contest will be announced in a few days, and all those who wish to enter should see the scholarship manager as soon as possible. A list of prizes and other awards will also be printed very soon, as well as the scholarships, which promise to be more varied and numerous than ever before.

Patrons of The Times who intend making nominations for the contest should send in the nominating blanks right away.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

POPULAR.

UNANIMOUS FOR RIALTO PASTOR.

LAKE AVENUE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH WANTS HIM.

Rev. James H. Lash Will Receive Call to Pasadena and Is Expected to Accept—Throop Alumni Banquet—Shakespearean Performances. Water Contract Ready.

Office of The Times, No. 36 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, June 11.—By a unanimous vote, the members of the Lake Avenue Congregational Church, decided last night, to extend a call to Rev. James H. Lash of Rialto. If he accepts, and it is believed that he will, he will enter upon the duties of the pastorate not later than August 1.

He is a young man and his wife is described as "a great church worker." He is a graduate of Hillsdale College, Michigan, and of the Union Seminary of New York. He has been pastor of the church of Rialto for three years.

Rev. S. G. Emerson, after ten years service, resigned the pastorate of the Lake avenue church a month ago and went to San Diego.

PIONEER USES POISON.

Tormented by the wooing of tom cats on the backyard fence at his home at No. 120 North Delacy street, Henry Seffler, an old man and a pioneer, put out poisoned fish for the "tabbies." Thus is explained the numerous deaths of both cats and dogs during the past few weeks. He will probably be arrested today.

Field Officer James McAney, of the Humane Society, has been working on the case and last night secured evidence, he says, that Seffler is the man wanted.

The old man's landlady stated that Seffler had told her, he put the poison in fish, because dogs would not eat fish, as readily as cats eat it. He did not seek the destruction of dogs.

THROOP ALUMNI DINE.

More than 300 guests gathered, last night, at the annual Throop Alumni banquet at Hotel Maryland. Throop songs were sung between the courses.

Acting President Arthur H. Chamberlain was toastmaster. Frank Sweeley, '08, replied to the toast, "After School—What?" He hoped that the ideal of all graduates would be as high as that of the members of the faculty. "Throop Institute and Business," was responded to by Irving Harris, '00.

Miss Anna Hussey, '08, told of "Things Seen by a Coed" and Dr. E. L. Conger spoke in glowing terms of "Throop—Past and Future," predicting that the school is only in its infancy. "A New Man's Impression" was the subject of Prof. Milliken.

The one-act comedy, "Chums," was an entire success. The cast included Misses Ruth Gaylord and Laura Swigart and Messrs. L. F. McDonald, Frank Stokes and Cedric Brown.

GOING EAST AND ABROAD.

Acting President Chamberlain is to leave for Cleveland, O., on Monday, to attend the annual convention of the National Education Association of the United States, of which organization he is treasurer and also a member of the Executive Committee. Later he will go to Europe for the summer, returning to Pasadena before the opening of Throop in the fall.

Mr. Chamberlain's book on the social and pedogogical phases of education is in press, and he is now to write a treatise on "Industrial and Technical Education." Much of the material for this has already been secured, while abroad, he will study the industrial schools of Austria, Germany and Switzerland.

The annual exhibition of Throop Polytechnic Institute will open at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

LAURA FRYE'S CASE.

Investigation of the charges of carelessness brought against Charles Grimes of this city by San Bernardino authorities, prove that he was appointed ward of Laura Frye, at the time of her father's death, and that an estate of about $1400 was left to the little girl.

Mr. Grimes, who is a well-known business man, learned of the trouble his ward was in shortly before he left for his mine, near Kingsman, Ariz. He refused to believe the accusations against E. E. Duncanson, and stated that he had sent his ward to San Bernardino on the advice of Rev. O. V. Rice. He left the matter to the Pasadena Humane Society.

At the Pasadena Training School, today, the officers were much wrought up over the allegations of lack of care in finding their wards homes. It was declared that careful watch is kept of people who take children for a year or more after the latter leave the home. Mr. Grimes, the officers say, took charge of the girl more than a month ago, and his many charities being known, no investigation was made as to the whereabouts of the child.

Laura Frye has a brother, Milton, 13 years old, and sister, Majorie, 11 years old, living in good homes here.

MONROVIA SCHOOLS CLOSE.

At Reception to Graduating Class Baseball Teams Get Trophies. Money Raised for Hotel.

MONROVIA, June 10.—The grammar schools closed today with a large reception in the Orange-avenue auditorium tendered by the seventh grade to the graduating class and the teachers. Prof. E. E. Knepper, principal of the schools, presided, and, in behalf of the High School, presented the girls' baseball team of the Charlotte-avenue building with a banner won by it during the past season, and to the boys' baseball team of the Orange-avenue building a similar trophy. Miss Moss Davis, in behalf of the graduating class, presented to the Orange-avenue building a statue of Hebe and a handsome brass vase, and to the Charlotte-avenue building, two beautiful carbons. A musical programme was rendered by the High School Quartette, assisted by Mrs. Charles C. Squires.

NEW BANK BUILDING.

Ground was broken today for the foundation of the First National Bank building, which is to be erected at the corner of Orange and Myrtle avenues. F. O. Engstrom & Co. of Los Angeles are the contractors. The structure and its furnishings will cost $50,000.

CAMPAIGN FOR HOTEL.

A vigorous campaign for a modern hotel is being conducted by the Board of Trade. Bankers, prominent merchants and investors in realty are interested in the enterprise and are subscribing liberally for stock. As large a sum as possible will be obtained locally to be used as a basis for dealing with outside capitalists. Tentative promises of $30,000 have been received and it is believed that an even larger sum can be raised, if necessary. The cost of the hotel will probably be about $150,000, of which Monravians will supply from 20 to 25 per cent.

Funds are in the hands of a committee, including John M. Bartle, president of the First National Bank; W. B. Scarborough, president of the American National Bank, and H. J. Evans of the Monrovia Building and Investment Company.

TO BUILD BLOCK.

W. H. Evans will begin tomorrow the removal of a three-story frame building from a fifty-six-foot frontage which he owns on South Myrtle avenue, just north of Orange avenue, and will build on the site a business block, which will contain two large storerooms on the main floor, offices on the second and a lodge-room on the third floor. The building will cost about $15,000.

CHURCH GROUNDS AS PARK.

The grounds of the First Congregational Church are being graded and planted to shrubbery. They will be opened to the public as a park. This idea originated with the pastor, Rev. Dr. A. S. Johnson.

CUT-OFF MAY BE BUILT.

Rumor That Santa Fe Will Construct Line Through Placentia to Richfield.

FULLERTON, June 10.—Now that the Santa Fé has decided to run its overland trains via Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange and Riverside, it is again rumored that the company will build the cut-off from Fullerton through Placentia to Richfield. Representatives of the road visited Placentia during the past week, but refused to give any information. The company recently spent over $300,000 on the road up the river between Yorba and Rincon and one of the head employés stated that the next work would be the Placentia cut off. It has been reported it would cost a great deal to get a right of way through Placentia, but a leading citizen of that section announces that the people there are anxious to get a railroad and that the franchise could be obtained at little expense. The cut-off would shorten the road to Riverside at least six miles.

The directors of the Anaheim Union Water Company have called a special election for September 12 to vote on the matter of increasing the bonded indebtedness of the company from $75,000 to $300,000 to pay the existing indebtedness and to acquire property and develop it. The indebtedness on June 1 was $278,580, which sum is represented by bonds to the amount of $75,000 and unsecured notes for $203,580, of which $149,655 are now matured, $28,925 will be payable within the next year and one note for $25,000 will mature in November, 1909.

POMONA.

POMONA, June 10.—The last meeting of the music and art section of the Ebell Club for this season was held at the home of Mrs. Charles L. Loud, No. 250 East Holt avenue, this afternoon. The subject considered was "The Genius of Chopin." Miss Elizabeth Lee, Mrs. C. E. Hibbs and Benjamin E. Buker took part.

Miss Mildred Rogers entertained the ladies of St. Agnes Guild at her home at No. 670 East Second street yesterday afternoon.

The funeral of O. F. Giffin was held at the family residence on East Holt avenue this afternoon, Rev. Heber Rice of the Unitarian Church officiating. The remains were then taken to San Francisco for interment.

Rev. J. F. Watson addressed the monthly meeting of the Baptist Brotherhood in the local church parlors last evening.

Nathan Shutt of Palo Alto is visiting relatives here.

BIG RAIL SHIPMENT.

SAN PEDRO, June 10.—Seven carloads of steel rails were received here today over the Southern Pacific from Pittsburgh. They will be loaded on lighters and transported to the Malibu ranch above Santa Monica, where new trackage is being constructed.

PERILOUS.

FALLS IN SURF, UNCONSCIOUS.

LOS ANGELES WOMAN IS SAVED FROM DROWNING.

Stricken With Heart Failure—Rescued by Waiter—Hotel's Night Clerk Seeks Death Repeatedly. Deadlock in Council Over Gas Ordinance.

LONG BEACH, June 10.—Mrs. B. Marengo, whose husband owns the El Paso restaurant on the lower deck of the pier, looked casually over the railing this afternoon and saw a woman floating face downward in the surf. She called a waiter, who sprang into the water and brought the woman ashore. She was unconscious, but soon revived and was able to walk to her temporary home at No. 537 Cedar street. She proved to be Mrs. Emma Rahl of Los Angeles.

She had been ill and came down here for her health. In order to secure some shells, she removed her shoes and was wading in the surf when stricken with heart failure. She fell forward, unable to cry for help, and had she not been seen by Mrs. Marengo, would undoubtedly have been drowned.

This evening she seemed to be suffering no serious effects from her experience.

TRIES HARD TO DIE.

Suffering from temporary mental aberration, Herbert Brown, aged 23, night clerk at Hotel Virginia, last evening made several desperate attempts at self-destruction, which were foiled by the watchfulness of his sister and two male friends.

Brown, yesterday afternoon, in company with his sister, made a trip to San Pedro on the launch Music. Soon after arriving there, Miss Brown met two friends and asked them to remain with her, as Herbert was acting queerly. Soon after Brown sprang to his feet and ran to the edge of the dock, intent on leaping into the water, but was prevented from doing so.

On the return trip, Miss Brown took her brother into the cabin, where he dashed his head repeatedly against the wall, then suddenly dashed through the door and attempted to climb over the boat rail, but slipped and was caught by his sister, who screamed for help. Young Brown was then secured and carefully guarded.

Today he is reported as much improved and more rational.

DEADLOCK OVER GAS.

The City Council is in a peculiar predicament. There is a deadlock over a gas ordinance which fixes a flat rate of $1 per 1000 cubic feet. Under existing conditions there is no hope for its passage and the gas companies will continue to charge the rate which they desired, but which, embodied in an ordinance, was vetoed by the Mayor. The new ordinance is favored by Councilmen Hoag, Callahan and McGrew and opposed by Bayman, Lewey and Robinson. Councilman Stearns, who is also president of the board, opposes it, but according to a ruling by the City Attorney, cannot vote because he is a vice-president and director of one of the gas companies. The Mayor, who favors the $1 gas, is presiding officer of the Council, but has no vote as a member of that body, the charter providing that the legislative powers are vested in a Council of seven members, four constituting a quorum, and that no order, resolution or ordinance is valid unless approved by a majority vote of the quorum present. In this case four votes are necessary. So that unless one of the three opposing the measure has a change of heart, there is little likelihood of action.

STORMY MEETING.

The Nelson Navigation Company, which for two years has been more or less a storm center, had a lively meeting last night, there being two factions, one led by President George Hughes and the other by Directors Callahan and Daly. In the election the Callahan interests won, getting four of the seven directors. At a meeting of the directors, H. S. Callahan was elected president; W. M. Varney, first vice-president; H. S. McKee, second vice-president; J. T. Musgrove, secretary. A resolution was adopted abolishing the president's salary of $100 monthly and reducing the secretary's to $25. Then Hughes resigned as a director and precipitated a discussion which became decidedly personal. Each side made charges of mismanagement. Hughes's resignation was accepted and W. T. Malloy of San Pedro selected instead. Members of the board say the financial difficulties of the company are ended, and a 5 per cent. assessment will pay all debts.

FOR SELLING "GOLD FOAM."

Judge Lawson in the Police Court this morning imposed a fine of $100 on R. E. Foster for selling "Gold Foam." The judge in commenting on the case said that to his mind there was no doubt the stuff was designed to evade prohibition laws. Foster's attorney gave notice of an appeal and the defendant was released on a $150 bond.

The public library board yesterday decided to have the Carnegie library building face Ocean avenue, instead of Pacific, as at first intended. The board also decided to keep the library open for four hours on Sunday afternoons and holidays, for reading purposes only.

Dr. L. A. Perce left this evening for Kansas City to attend the sessions of the National Eclectic Medical Association, of which he is president.

WILMINGTON CLEANS HOUSE.

WILMINGTON, June 10.—The Council has ordered a general cleaning up of the city. An ordinance provides that if individuals do not put their lots in order, the work may be done by the city and the owners charged therefor.

The various committees who are preparing for the entertainment of visitors on harbor hearing day are making good progress. Instead of the barbecue which was planned, a noon luncheon will be served in the big brick warehouse, the ladies of the city being hostesses. The town will be brilliantly decorated.

At a meeting of the Council, last night, it was decided to send a man to Washington, after the hearing, to look after harbor interests. Resolutions were adopted protesting against any changes in the harbor lines as marked out by Capt. Fries.

An election is soon to be called to decide whether Wilmington shall be "wet" or "dry."

SOUTH PASADENA, June 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Riley of Lewiston, Me., has rented a home on Fair Oaks avenue for the summer.

Mrs. H. C. Barnes of Short Way street, Oak Knoll, entertained the members of the Rembrandt Art Club this afternoon. Prof. J. Hamilton Mohler made an address.

C. W. Penfield of Los Angeles is building an eight-room bungalow on Pasadena avenue north of Mission street.

The oiling of streets is under way. Commissioner Pierce, who has this in charge, says the city will use about 5000 barrels of oil.

Building permits from May 10 to June 1 aggregated $14,225.

Mrs. Florence Collins Porter of Fair Oaks avenue has issued invitations for the marriage of her daughter, Florence, to Willis Norton Blood on June 24.

A meeting will be held at the City Clerk's office Friday night to find some means of having improved the service of the Pacific Electric main line. The Lincoln Park residents are greatly inconvenienced by the present schedule, especially after 7 o'clock, in the evening, when only one car an hour is run.

Gilbert Helms of Garfield avenue has gone to Imperial. He anticipates locating there.

SANTA MONICA'S VIEW.

Contends Service in Suit Brought by Ocean Park Was Faulty—High School Exercises.

SANTA MONICA, June 10.—According to Santa Monica's view of the suit instituted in the Superior Court yesterday by Ocean Park, the service was faulty. The action was brought to force the collection of $10,000, alleged to be due to Ocean Park from Santa Monica for the use of the former city's septic tank and sewer mains during the current year. The complainants are the Trustees of Ocean Park and service was had upon Mayor Dudley. Santa Monica's contention is that such suits must be brought in the name of the municipality instead of by the Trustees individually and that the service must be upon the president of the city Council rather than upon the Mayor.

Miss Katherine Ross has been elected principal of the McKinley school, to succeed J. E. Whistler, who has resigned to accept a place in Santa Barbara.

HIGH SCHOOL PROGRAMME.

The baccalaureate sermon for the High School graduating class will be delivered on Sunday evening at the Methodist Church by Rev. W. H. Cornett of the Presbyterian Church. Tuesday will be class day and the student exercises will be held that evening at the Lincoln school building. The president's address will be given by Miss Vida Watkins. The class will is to be handled by Arthur Lowe. Miss Shirley Henry will look after the class prophecy, Miss Dorothy French will address the juniors and Miss Letha Crane will speak to the seniors. The commencement proper will be held at the Methodist Church on Friday evening of next week, when the salutatory will be delivered by Olney Dobbings. Miss Isabel Cornelius will be valedictorian.

George Young will leave tomorrow for Toledo, O., where he will attend the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

PROTEST PETITION.

A petition of protest has been prepared, and will be circulated tomorrow, against the payment by the Council out of the general fund of the proposed ornamental street lighting of the ocean front southward from Hollister to Pier avenue. The burden of the protest is that this expense should not be borne by the taxpayers at large for the reason that the improvement is for a particular section.

VENICE.

VENICE, June 10.—Plans are being developed by the Abbot Kinney Company for the erection of an early day of a Fraternal Temple. It is the design to induce as many secret organizations as possible to make Venice their regular meeting place.

The Ocean Park Aerie of Eagles has voted to hold a carnival at this place during the first week of July. Booths will be erected along one side of Windward avenue for the entire distance and the Midway Pleasance will be filled with novel attractions.

A swimming tournament and aquatic carnival is being arranged for June 21, which day will mark the formal opening of Venice for the summer season. On that day the new bath-house will be dedicated.

The Los Angeles Ad Club has accepted the invitation of the Venice of America Company to hold its next meeting here. The date selected is July 1. There will be a banquet on the Cabrillo in the evening in honor of the visiting publicity promoters.

OCEAN PARK.

OCEAN PARK, June 10.—After the turbulent waves of the past few days, ann manner of strange denizens of the the deep are approaching the shore for ensnarement. The latest catch was that of a ten-foot sturgeon. It weighed 100 pounds and had fins two and a half feet in length. Giant members of the halibut family have also been taken.

J. McLean has been named by the City Health Board to act as inspector of milk. A campaign for cleanliness and sanitation will ensue and an effort will be made to have Santa Monica assist in the crusade.

Today's developments in the sewer debate now in progress between the cities of Ocean Park and Santa Monica consisted of a formal demand made by Ocean Park upon Santa Monica for the payment of $4784. The bill was for what assumes to be Santa Monica's share of the expenses of extending the outfall pier at Center street, which extension, it is claimed, was made necessary by reason of the pouring of the Santa Monica sewage into the Ocean Park asceptic tank. The demand was filed with City Clerk Heminway of Santa Monica, for consideration by the Council of that city.

GLENDORA.

GLENDORA, June 10.—At a mass meeting of citizens, last evening, it was decided that the Trustees should secure estimates for the construction and equipment of a temporary school structure, more room being needed, and that the people should then vote as to whether a direct tax should be levied to secure the funds. It appears that there would be no opposition to this.

TROUBLE-MAKERS BUSY.

AGITATORS TRY OLD TACTICS.

ATTEMPT TO CAUSE RACE WAR IN IMPERIAL VALLEY.

Riots Result from Labor Situation in Melon Fields—Japanese Stoned at El Centro—Unionites Making Vain Effort to Dictate to Ranchers Whom They Shall Employ.

EL CENTRO, June 10.—Troubles over labor in Imperial Valley melon fields are multiplying. There have been several open ruptures, and it appears that agitators from Los Angeles intend to create more discord, if possible.

An unfortunate situation developed when men began to flock to the valley at least two weeks before the cantaloupe picking and packing campaign opened. Many of these men came without funds, and soon became dependent on the help of friends or the public. Threats were made against ranchers and the town officials, in various instances, because work was not forthcoming. Then came the Los Angeles agitators. They found ready listeners to the proposition that there should be no latitude allowed ranchers as to whom they should employ.

During the past few days melons have ripened rapidly, and ranchers have been forced to secure help at once. In numerous instances they have taken Japanese, when they could not secure white laborers quickly. This has brought the trouble to an acute stage.

Monday there was a small-sized riot on the streets of El Centro. Several of the ringleaders were arrested and fined.

Ranchers who were taking out loads of Japs were attacked by white laborers and the Japs were stoned. The rioting caused one team to run away. The little brown men were thrown out and some were injured and one of the horses was so badly hurt that it may have to be killed.

The report is current that the Los Angeles agitators have been spreading the propaganda of constant war against the Japs, with the understanding that after the latter are cowed, the white laborers will strike and demand a wage of $4 a day and board.

At Brawley ugly threats have been made against the town officials and extra officers have been put on duty to maintain peace.

By the middle of next week the melon season will be about at its height. The quality of melons is fine and there is now no doubt that this year's crop will excel all previous ones.

HIGHWAY BOOSTED.

An excursion party from the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, composed of more than 100 members, has been visiting Imperial Valley towns during the past three days. As a result, a strong impetus was given the project of constructing a first-class highway between the valley and San Diego.

BEE MEN ORGANIZE.

Bee keepers of the Imperial Valley have organized the Imperial County Beekespers' Association and have filed articles of incorporation. The capital stock is $10,000. During the past few months several hundred stands of bees have been brought into the valley from mountain ranches, and the great fields of alfalfa and the cantaloupe ranches give much money-making material.

CUPID NOT BUSY ENOUGH.

With a record of less than forty marriage licenses granted since the formation of Imperial county, County Clerk Elder feels that he must forward the matrimonial movement in every possible way. To this end, he has appointed deputy county clerks at various points with authority to issue licenses. The latest appointment is that of Otis B. Tout, editor of The Chronicle, at Calexico. He is also justice of the peace and City Recorder, so that he can marry the couples after the licenses are issued.

The trial of Bob Davis, on the charge of setting fire to the Calexico branch County Jail while he was confined therein, resulted in his acquittal by a jury after it had been out twenty-four hours.

COUNTY HOSPITAL PROJECTED.

Orange Supervisors Visit Southern California Institutions to Get Ideas.

SANTA ANA, June 10.—The Supervisors are making tours of inspection to a number of county hospitals in Southern California with a view to getting ideas for a hospital in this county. Yesterday the board returned from San Diego. On Friday and Saturday it will visit San Bernardino and Riverside and, later, Santa Barbara and Los Angeles. The Supervisors expect to submit plans and a bond issue to the voters next November. It is proposed to erect a building large enough to meet present needs, the architectural features being such that wings can be added.

NO WHISKY SOLD.

Just before midnight a jury brought in a verdict of not guilty in the case of W. E. Baker, charged with selling whisky to F. P. Jones and G. L. Champion on March 7. The twenty men reached a conclusion on the third ballot. The case was presented to the jury yesterday afternoon. The city relied upon two men who formerly bought liquor here freely. They accepted a proposition to gather evidence for $100 a conviction and brought two charges against Baker, a billiard hall man. The jury on the first case was hung, and on the second, acquitted. Today City Attorney Heathman dismissed the first charge.

MEXICAN WAR VETERAN DEAD.

Horace Salter, a pioneer of this county, died here this morning. He was born in New York eighty-five years ago. He enlisted from Iowa in Morgan's Cavalry for the Mexican War. He spent the last thirty-seven years in California.

RECORD WALNUT CROP.

Orange county will have the biggest and best walnut crop this year it has ever had. The trees and the nuts are in better condition than any year in the last ten. So far the blight, which seems to be regulated by climatic conditions, has not put in an appearance, and it is not looked for. Even should it appear to any extent, it will not harm the meat of the nuts.

Other crops are looking equally as well. The apricot trees are full. Cot cutting will commence about July 5, several days later than usual on account of the present spell of cool weather. Buyers for dried cots have not yet shown up. The price talked of by shippers is between 5 and 7½ cents per pound for the dried product.

The county has the biggest potato crop it has ever had. The acreage is larger than usual and the output per acre good. Prices are regulated by the Los Angeles market. Digging the new spuds has commenced.

SPECULATING IN HAY.

Owing to the increase of value of land for other purposes, such as bean growing, the hay and grain crop will not be as heavy as last year. Speculators are buying up both hay and grain, believing that the price will advance.

Beans are looking well. They are well above the ground now. Bean growers are not expecting much trouble with weeds, the last rains coming at a time when the young weeds were killed in the planting of the crop.

The acreage of chile peppers is much reduced, and every grower of the hot stuff will attempt to market his product green rather than dried. Canneries will take the green chili while there is no market for dried. One of the canneries has contracted for the green product at $25 a ton.

MIND'S ECCENTRICITIES.

Richard Coppf was today pronounced insane by Judge Densmore of Riverside, sitting for Judge West of this county. Coppf was accused of running from gophers, setting fires in the foothills, obstructing the roads, gathering rocks, digging potatoes from the fields and dressing in a filthy manner. He argued points and defied witnesses, displaying in numerous ways a remarkable shrewdness, and contended that his hermit life harmed no one. For three years he has occupied the old Santiago golf clubhouse.

WHOLE COUNTY IN MOURNING.

DEATH SUMMONS SUPERIOR JUDGE CONKLIN.

Thirty-third Degree Mason, Former Newspaper Editor and Soldier Passes at San Diego—Spreckels and Associates Become Assistant Street Superintendents.

SAN DIEGO, June 10.—The death of Judge Norman H. Conklin this morning has cast a gloom over the entire county. Coming here in 1872, he was a pioneer newspaper editor and practitioner at the bar, as well as a leader in Masonic affairs.

He passed his sixty-ninth birthday last Saturday. Born in Pennsylvania, he went to Cincinnati in his youth and enlisted in the Union army as a private in the Second Kentucky Volunteers. He participated in the battles of Shiloh and Corinth. His term of enlistment expiring, he was promoted to a colonelcy. Later he joined the navy and was assigned to the Mississippi dispatch boat Kenwood, which participated in the siege of Vicksburg.

At the close of the war, Judge Conklin returned to his Pennsylvania home and was admitted to the bar. In 1869 he moved to Warrensburg, Mo., where he published a newspaper until 1872, coming from there direct to San Diego, and assuming editorship of the San Diego World. He also practiced law, and as his practice grew, he gave up newspaper work entirely. He had served as District Attorney and for two terms was judge of the Superior Court.

The judge was past commander of the local G.A.R. posts, and had held every high office in the various branches of Masonry. Six years ago he was elevated to the rank of thirty-third degree by a special dispensation of the Supreme Council at Washington.

He leaves a widow, two sons and a daughter. Funeral arrangements have not been made, but he will be buried with Masonic honors.

NOTABLES GAIN TITLES.

Assistant Street Superintendent is the title conferred by the Board of Public Works upon John D. Spreckels, E. W. Scripps and A. G. Spaulding, who have accepted the duties of superintending construction of eighty miles of boulevards inside the city, for which the people have voted $80,000 in bonds. As assistant superintendents they will personally oversee the awarding of contracts and have agreed to give their time to the work, which will require at least a year or more. Messrs. Spreckels, Scripps and Spaulding have also qualified as County Highway Commissioners by giving bond in the sum of $5000 each, and will also superintend the construction of highways throughout the county.

SEARCH FOR ROBBERS.

The police are making every effort to locate the burglars who yesterday robbed the home of R. Fenton at Coronado while the family was absent. The jewels taken number fourteen pieces, comprising diamond and pearl necklaces, rubies, sapphires and three fine watches. Mr. Fenton is a retired British merchant, and many of the missing jewels have been in the family for several generations. A search of the pawnships of Los Angeles will be made.

WILL PROSPECT FOR OIL.

According to W. H. Kitto, oil seeps to the surface from the bottom of San Diego Bay at a point between South San Diego and Chula Vista, and a company is being formed to develop the same. Several Los Angeles experts have examined the seepings and have pronounced a flow of oil likely.

POPULATION GROWS.

That the population of San Diego is growing at a rapid rate is shown by the increase in the members of public school pupils. According to the monthly report of Superintendent Duncan MacKinnon, the total enrollment for May, 1908, is 4344, making a net gain of 619 in one year. The city is soon to begin the erection of two large school buildings.

BRAKEMAN DIES FROM INJURIES.

IMPERIAL JUNCTION, June 10.—John G. Houghton, a Southern Pacific brakeman, who had been in the service of the company for nineteen years, is dead, as the result of an accident which happened here Friday. His leg was cut off and his body mutilated beneath the wheels of a freight car which was being switched. Houghton had come from the northern part of the State, and was making his first trip over this run. He was put aboard a switch engine and taken to Yuma for treatment. He leaves a mother and sister at Oakland, where the body was sent for interment.

"I was practically an invalid for six years, on account of female troubles. I underwent an operation by the doctor's advice, but in a few months I was worse than before. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it restored me to perfect health, such as I have not enjoyed in many years. Any woman suffering as I did with backache, bearing-down pains, and periodic pains, should not fail to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

GREEK TONY'S MYSTERY.

and full power is on, will go in a circle and not in a straight line, was made clear by actual trial, at Avalon, when Blair began working on the case. Some fishermen, friends of the missing sailor, decided to try the experiment; turned on full power, and let the Zeus pick her own course. She made a circle of about 200 feet, it is alleged, and did not leave Avalon Bay. When this fact became generally known among the fishermen, many of the old boatmen refused to believe that Tony was drowned. It seemed to them reasonable that, even if he were in the attending skiff, he could easily have intercepted the launch had she started away when he was not on board, as alleged. She was a slow boat with an eight horse power, old-fashioned engine. Her speed is only about five knots an hour, under most favorable conditions, it is said.

TONY'S WIFE TRAGIC FIGURE.

Mrs. Anthony Christ, wife of the missing sailor, refuses to believe that he is dead. She goes about, refusing to be consoled; and from time to time her glances range far out over the sea; morning, noon and night she is gazing at the bright shining waters, and under the fierce glare of the sun she at times fairly goes blind; but still she seeks for a sign of the missing father and husband, the humble fisherman, whose mysterious and tragic disappearance has brought deep grief to the little home.

And that skiff with the neatly-coiled painter—how could it have become untied? Tony's wife is not keen at logic, but her woman's intuitions tell her that her husband is still to be accounted for. As the days pass, she thinks of the sharks that will eat the body, if the time goes too long, and a thousand other terrifying imaginations come over her. Then she resumes her patrol of the beach, straining her glances, half-blinded by the vivid glare, far out to sea.

"Tony, Tony," she cries: "Where are you? Oh, my Tony, surely you are alive and will come back to your wife and son; to your heart-broken wife, who looks for you everywhere over the big waters."

Sullen whispers are heard among Tony's fellow-sailormen; they are far from satisfied with all they have heard, thus far; and whenever two or more of them meet they talk earnestly and clench their fists and say that something must be done; some trace found; some clear statement made, to them.

These men, who understand all the moods of the sea, do not believe that Tony Christ went overboard in the dark; they still think that his disappearance is very strange, and shake their heads as much as to say:

"Time will tell the story. We shall see."

Why I Cure Men

DR. TAYLOR, The Leading Specialist.

The true specialist is a physician who is absolutely expert in the treatment of a few diseases. He knows all about the few diseases he treats, and he treats difficult cases with the same certainty with which the general practitioner treats the most common ailment. For twenty-five years I have been treating men's diseases only. I began my special work after thorough preparation at the best medical colleges and hospitals of the country, and have cured more men than any other specialist in California, some of whom were themselves physicians.

If afflicted with any of the ailments constituting my specialty, seek an expert's and not an amateur's services. You can come to me knowing that I have treated hundreds of cases exactly like your own and thousands of others very similar. You can rest assured that I will know just what to do—will not make a single misstep in the treatment of your case—and that a complete and permanent cure will follow.

MY "DIRECT METHOD" TREATMENT

Long ago I discovered that the old theory of stomach drugging in chronic disorders of men was wrong; that only temporary relief at best could be expected from it, and never permanent results. This discovery was the first step that led to my "Direct Method" treatment. I found that a few drops of medicine applied directly to the affected spot would do more good than gallons of it taken through the stomach.

In rare cases electricity can be used to advantage, and for treating these I have equipped my offices with the most modern and latest improved apparatus, with which I can generate more electricity in an hour than you could get in a year out of the strongest electric belt, electric pad or any other electric device made to wear on the body.

But, after all, it's not the MEANS employed to treat the case that counts, but the KNOWLEDGE the physician has of the patient's malady. I confine my practice to MEN ONLY, and this embraces about half a dozen ailments, such as "WEAKNESS," VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, CONTRACTED DISORDERS and CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON.

To the above I devote my sole study and care from ten to twelve hours each day, seeing hundreds of these cases where the ordinary physician sees one. This experience has taught me to instantly recognise the character of the disorder. It has taught me WHAT to do for each case and HOW to do it. My unbroken record of prompt and permanent cures has placed me at the top of my profession and justifies my title as "Leading Specialist."

I Am Always Willing to Wait for My Fee Until a Cure Is Effected

"WEAKNESS"—Its Complete Cure Without Tonics

What is commonly termed functional weakness is merely a symptom of prostatic disorder. To stimulate activity by the use of powerful tonics is an easy matter, but such results are merely temporary drug effects. Most doctors treat "weakness" in this manner because they do not know how to cure the real cause of the derangement. I am the only physician employing scientific and successful methods. I use no tonics at all. My treatment is a local one entirely and corrects every abnormal condition of that vital center, the prostate gland. My cures are real cures and are permanent.

VARICOCELE—Its Complete Cure Without Surgery

Under my treatment the most aggravated cases of varicocele are cured in a few days' time. There is no cutting, no pain, and it is seldom necessary that the patient be detained from his occupation. Normal circulation is at once restored throughout all the organs, and the natural processes of waste and repair are again established. If you are afflicted with varicocele, consult me at once. Delay can but bring on aggravated conditions and nervous complications that will impair the vital functions and involve the general health.

Contracted Disorders

To but partially cure a contracted disorder is almost as dangerous as to allow it to go untreated. Unless every particle of infection and inflammation is removed the probability exists that the disease will gradually work its way into the general system. Still greater is the danger of the prostate gland becoming chronically inflamed, which always brings partial or complete loss of power. Perhaps 75 per cent. of the cases of so-called "Weakness" are a direct result of some improperly treated contracted disease. During the past five years I have treated over 6500 cases of contracted disorders and have effected an absolutely thorough and safe cure in each instance. There have been no relapses or undesirable developments whatever, and my patients have been cured in less time than other and less thorough forms of treatment require in producing even doubtful results.

Consultation Free

In consultation I am always glad to render such helpful advice as I may be able to offer, and I invite all afflicted men to consult me free at any time, either in person or at my office or by mail. Office hours, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.; Sundays, 9 to 12.

Our Cure For "WEAKNESS"

We have the largest practice because we cure our patients.

DR. HARRISON, The Leading Specialist 18 Years in Los Angeles

Functional weakness, associated with loss of power is usually symptomatic of some abnormal local condition in some vital point of the pelvic region. Congestion, inflammation and enlargement of the gland; stricture, varicocele, hydrocele, rupture, neglected or improperly treated cases of contracted disorders are the most common causes of weakness. To attempt to cure weakness by stomach drugging or by wearing electric belts is just as sensible as it would be to wear a set of harness to cure corns on the feet.

Our treatment is entirely local. We first ascertain and then remove the cause, and there is invariably a speedy return of functional activity.

We will cheerfully pay One Thousand Dollars to any physician or layman who can produce a case of weakness occuring in any man of good habits, under the age of 65, not complicated by any organic disease of the heart, liver or kidneys, or by the sequelae of chronic disease, that we cannot completely cure in from four to six weeks by our new and improved method of local treatment. The local treatment is entirely painless and does not involve the use of "instillations, suppositories," etc. We will effect the cure without prescribing a single drop of medicine and without using single pill, tablet or granule.

We Cure All Diseases of Men

Such as lost vigor, specific blood poison, organic weakness, varicocele, stricture, hydrocele, piles and reflex ailments.

Free Consultation, Diagnosis and Treatment

Ailing men are cordially invited to call at our office for free advice, examination and diagnosis.

CHAPTER XLVII.
CONTAINS MORE MYSTERY.

The old-fashioned, ill-cut gown of black stuff and the rather unbecoming big black hat gave Sam's visitor an appearance of being older than she really was. A spotted veil concealed her features, but as she entered the room she raised it quickly.

The face revealed was the soft, sweet countenance of Maud Petrovitch.

Charlie gripped his companion's arm and gave vent to an exclamation of amazement as he stood peering forth open-mouthed.

As the girl entered the old man turned fiercely upon her and uttered some inquiry. What it was the watchers could not distinguish, for thick plate glass stood between the conservatory and the library. Yet whatever he said or however caustic and bitter his manner, the young girl stood defiant.

Her chin was raised, her eyes flashed upon him, and her gloved hand was outstretched in a gesture of calm denunciation as she replied with some words that caused the old fellow to draw back in surprise and confusion.

The door had closed, for Levi had left the pair together. Max wondered whether the old servant would now come and search the back premises prior to locking up. If so, they might easily be discovered. Those felt-soled boots of old Levi struck fear into their hearts. Charlie was, however, too occupied in watching the old man and the girl at that moment to think of any danger of detection.

His well-beloved stood pale, beautiful, and yet defiant before the man who a moment before had shaken his fist and clenched his teeth on hearing of her demand to see him. The words she had uttered had caused an instant change in his manner. His sudden anger had been succeeded by fear. Whatever she had said was evidently straight to the point.

For a moment he regarded her in silence, then over his gray face came a crafty smile as with mock courtesy he offered her a chair, still remaining standing himself.

She leaned her elbow on the arm of the chair, and, bending toward him, was speaking again, uttering slow, decisive words, each of which seemed to bite into his very soul. His countenance again changed; from mock humor it became hard, drawn, almost haggard.

Charlie, who knew the old man in every mood, had never witnessed such an expression upon his face. Beneath it all, however, he detected a look of unrelenting, almost fiendish revenge. He longed to rush forward and grasp his loved one in his arms, but Max, seeing his agitation, laid his hand firmly upon his shoulder.

"Let us watch in patience, Charlie," he urged. "We may learn something interesting."

Maud had altered but little since his secretary knew well. He held his thin lower lip between his yellow teeth, and standing with his back to the fireplace, he now and then cast a supercilious smile upon the pretty girl who had come there in defiance of the covenfances—in defiance, evidently, of his own imperious commands.

Samuel Statham at that moment was not the hard-faced old benefactor who haunted the seats in the park and gave so much money anonymously to the deserving among the "submerged tenth." He was a man fighting for his honor, his reputation, his goldnay, his very life. He was a man whose keen wit was now pitted against that of a clear, level-headed girl—one who had right and justice on her side.

Was it possible, Charlie thought, that his well-beloved knew the old man's secret—that secret which, before he would face its exposure, he would prefer the grave itself?

He watched Maud and noted how balanced was her beautiful countenance, and yet how calm and how determined she was. When the old man spoke she listened with attention, but her replies, brief and pointed, were always made with a gesture and expression of triumph, as of one who knew the naked and astounding truth.

"What can it all mean?" whispered Max. "Why is she here? How tantalising it is that we cannot catch a single word she is uttering."

"The door's bolted," Charlie said in a tone of chagrin. "We can only watch. See—she's evidently telling him some home truths that are the reverse of palatable. He looks as though he could kill her."

"He'd better not attempt it," remarked Max grimly, and they both stood again in silence, peering forward in breathless eagerness.

For fully ten minutes longer the old man and the young girl were in heated discussion. Sometimes Statham spoke quickly and angrily, with that caustic assertiveness that most people found so overbearing. Of a sudden both watchers were aware of a slow, stealthy movement behind them—a shuffling of feet, it seemed.

It was old Levi on his tour of inspection to reassure himself that all was secure. In an instant both intruders drew back into the deep shadows behind a high stand upon which stood choice plants in tiers, or rather the dried-up pots which had once contained them.

They were only just in time, for old Levi, peering forth into the semi-darkness as he stood in the doorway leading from the hall, searched around. Then, finding all quiet and detecting nobody, he closed the door and locked it.

They were thus locked out by both doors.

To reënter the house would be difficult. It was a contingency for which they had not been prepared.

Still, they were too interested in watching the pair within to think much of the contretemps that had occurred. Old Levi had shuffled away, and was waiting, no doubt, to usher out the dainty little visitor before returning to the regions below.

Maud, however, showed no sign of haste to leave. Comfortably ensconced in her chair, with her veil thrown back, she sat facing him, and replying without hesitation to his allegations.

THE POLITICAL WATCH TOWER

The "opening gun" of the Republican National campaign in Southern California is to be a broadside fired from the stage of the Auditorium on Saturday night, June 20, as a fitting salute to the nominees of the party at the Chicago convention.

While this is to be a party ratification, whoever the candidates, the local brigade of the "Old Guard" has already placed its order for Taft banners and Taft bunting; the speakers are reading up the history of the Taft family.

The Executive Committee of the Republican State Central Committee has sent a request to every county committee in the State to arrange for ratification meetings on the night of June 20. Last night Chairman Lee of the local County Central Committee met with the Executive Committee of the Republican League to arrange the details for the ratification meeting here.

The consensus of opinion is to the effect that in place of having meetings at different points through the county a joint ratification meeting shall be held in the Auditorium to welcome home the Los Angeles delegation to the national convention and to open the campaign which is expected to win the State banner for Los Angeles county.

Saturday evening a meeting of the County Central Committee will be held in the Republican League rooms to make final arrangements for the ratification. A promise has been received from the National Committee that one of the leading orators of the East will come home with the Los Angeles delegation to take part in the ratification exercises.

The Southern California members of the State Executive Committee returned home yesterday from the meeting of the State Committee which was held in San Francisco Monday night. They report that Gen. Stone desires to retire from the committee but that he has consented to serve as chairman until after he returns from the Chicago convention.

The other positions of the State Committee were filled as follows:

Secretary, P. T. Teller of Alameda.

First Vice Chairman, C. E. Clinch of Grass Valley.

Second Vice Chairman, H. O. Druffel of San Mateo.

Treasurer, J. K. Wilson of San Francisco.

Headquarters for the campaign will be established at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco. The State Central Committee will meet in San Francisco on June 23 for the purpose of issuing the call for the Republican primaries and for the State convention.

"We all urged Gen. Stone to remain in command as permanent chairman," said State Committeeman George N. Black last night, "this stalwart Republican leader has been at the helm of the party organization in the State for the last twelve years, the members of the Executive Committee and Republicans all through the State of California recognize that it would add tremendously to the advantage of the Republican party during this critical Presidential year to have the benefit of the General's wise head and large experience for the work of the campaign."

Gen. Stone has been at the head of the Congressional Committee through three campaigns in California, and in each of these campaigns the delegation elected to Congress has been solidly Republican; not a single Democrat has slipped through the lines in the three campaigns. This is a record unequaled in the State.

The Executive Committeemen say that they realize that the real danger in the national campaign this summer is not the menace of the Democrats, but from factions in the party inside the State. They have noted that the Democratic press is already predicting that the Lincoln-Roosevelt forces will vote practically as a body for the Democratic nominees in order to rebuke the "Old Guard." It is against party treachery that the real warfare must be waged.
